

THE AMENDED WINDOM BILL.

The Times-Review thinks that the amendment to the Windom Bill is not what silver men want, and about every paper published West of the Missouri thinks the same way.

The Times-Review says: "The amended Windom bill is a very poor make shift and the fangs of the golden serpent are by no means effectually drawn, nor could they be without striking out the enacting clause of the bill. If that is the best that can be done out of a cowardly Congress, it would be better to make a square fight for free coinage and, if defeated, await the convening of a more courageous body, which is sure to succeed the present one. The goldites see plainly enough that the members from the silver States are afraid to break over party lines, and that they will submit meekly to the degrees of King Caucus, and cheerfully accept any meatless bone which his despotic majesty is pleased to toss them. The true policy for the members from the silver producing States would be to take the lead in advocating the adoption of the minority report. This would force the issue fairly and squarely upon the free coinage question, and it would then be known who are its friends and who are its enemies. A vote upon the Windom bill, as it stands at present, would indicate nothing, and it looks to a man up a tree as though that was precisely the condition of things that our Congressional members were anxious to bring about.

The charge that our representatives are trying to play into the hands of the gold bugs, we think does them an injustice. There is, however, a rapidly growing feeling in this State that the Windom bill in any shape is a humbug. If Windom is the friend of silver he claims to be, let him obey the law and coin four million of silver per month.

Instead of taking a bill drawn by the enemy of silver and amending it, let the spawn of the gold bugs be thrown aside as coming from the wrong kind of stock. We want nothing coming of a parentage which is merely a cross between gold bugs and luke warm silver men. We want a bill sired by a thoroughbred silver man. The colt we place upon the track must have no cold Wall Street strain in him, nor any intermingling of the blood of imported British usurers. He must be our kind of an animal from muzzle to fetlock.

HUMANITY ON TOP. It is pleasant to know that human beings sometimes remember past kindnesses. Arthur McEwen writes as follows in a letter to the Salt Lake Tribune. It seems almost too good to be true:

Twenty years ago there was a lady in San Francisco whose husband was rich. He was a man of education, and was in sympathy with all that was good and promising. She had a liking for the boys who could write and paint. Well, she helped them—sent some of them to Paris, and Munich and Rome—and they were grateful and dispatched to her pictures and dedicated books to her. She fell into poverty recently. The husband suddenly ceased to be a reasonable creature. A boil, or some such curse, grew on his brain. He became a lunatic, and, of course she stood by him. But he managed in his insanity to sign away everything he owned. Then the wife wrote to the young men who had found her a good providence, and from France and Germany and Italy there came a response that made her flee. And this is an incident that makes human nature seem a thing to be respected.

OURS is the largest and most complete general outfitting establishment on the Coast. The key to its success is that it furnishes what the people—and all the people—want. It ministers to every demand. There are coarse, stout goods for rough usage, plain, serviceable goods for everyday wear, and fashionable and costly goods from Vienna, Paris, London and New York. Prices are always as low, and, in most cases, lower than those of all other dealers.

These facts are cited for the benefit of out-of-town persons who wish to deal through the mails. We believe that we have stated nothing that is not accepted by those who know us.
