

MORNING APPEAL

SUNDAY, APRIL 13

CITRUS BELT CANDIDATES.

It is an every-day occurrence to hear conversations on the street like this:

"Do you think — will get a nomination on the regular ticket this Fall?"

"He's already working for it, but it makes no particular difference to him, for he has 100 acres of good citrus belt land in California that has been improving for several years, and if he don't get the nomination he'll go over there and live."

It has reached that pass in this State that it is the regular thing for a Nevada office-holder, whether holding a State or county office, to take the money he gets from Nevada taxpayers, and invest it in California. Many of these men do not invest, and hardly spend a dollar in this State, but merely look upon each year of office-holding as so much more money to salt down in California, and the moment the party declines to renominate them they pack their grip sacks and go down to their California orange grove to live, regaling their new neighbors with tales of the gullibility of the Nevada voter.

Men who are willing to accept office in Nevada year after year, ought to consider this State quite good enough to live in after they have been relieved of the responsibilities of office holding.

After these parties have sucked all the pap possible from the State and county treasuries, they slide over to California with their savings, to invest, go through all their money in a few years and come back to Nevada flat broke. About the first thing they do is run for office again, and some newspaper comes to the front with:

"The friends of Mr. — are trying to induce him to accept a nomination on the ticket this Fall. Mr. — is an old resident of this State and stood by it in its darkest days. He is once more here to link his fortunes with the land of his choice, and his name on the ticket would be a tower of strength to it."

The APPEAL would like to see every candidate who comes up for office this Fall, State or county, be asked the question:

"How much of the money you have made in this State have you invested in California or Oregon?"

When an office-holder is paying more taxes in California than he is in Nevada, California is the place for him to live.

The citizens of Karthaus, Pa., are erecting a monument to the memory of Clara Price, the heroic girl who sacrificed her life in the protection of her virtue. A picture of the monument ought to be sent to each of the title-hunting women of America who sell themselves to impetuous noblemen of Europe for the consideration of a soiled title.

The tourist season will not fairly open at Lake Tahoe until after the Fourth of July on account of the immense piles of snow in the valley and on the mountain roads. It is feared the season will be very short. The great amount of snow will doubtless cause frequent and heavy frosts, during the Summer nights, making the Lake undesirable as a pleasure resort.

The Evangelical Conference in Chicago is having a regular cat-parrot time at its last meeting. The old-time politicians appear to be the only people who get along smoothly when they meet.

Jerome B. Cox has at last secured justice after long years of litigation. He had to shoot a man dead and then sue his rascally attorney to get what was coming to him.

George Watt, of Lander county, informs the Reveille that he lost by last Winter's snow fully $80,000 in cattle, sheep and horses.

U. S. Surveyors are at the head of the Carson River locating reservoir sites.

From Sample to Gown.

OUR shelves and counters are taxed to make room for the new stuffs that our buyers are sending from Europe and our own New York. Gay stuffs, sombre stuffs, with the delightful stamp of newness!

No reason now why any woman in town or out of town should be badly dressed. Be her purse light or heavy, we can meet the demand for the beautiful in dress materials. The out-of-town woman selects from a generous envelope of samples; her city sister sees the pieces from which the samples were cut, but learns no more.

Samples are straightforward. They tell a plain tale of quality, width and price. In these days of steam, an order is mailed, and presto! the package in return is at your door. Before catalogues were published and railroads traversed California, the luckless housewife was compelled to take such goods as the neighboring stores supplied. Now, an out-of-town customer shops with almost as wide a choice as her city sister and may wear garments of equal style. Why should she not? The fashion magazines go everywhere; the Sunday newspaper has a fashion column; the great store advertisements are fashion news—the best of all perhaps.

Send for catalogue, as that is a great help in ordering. Also send for samples of such dress materials as you may think of buying, stating colors and about the prices you wish to pay.

HENRIETTA CLOTH, 50 CENTS.

We are meeting with great success in our all-wool Henriettas at fifty cents a yard. They have a silky finish and are of fine soft texture. These Henriettas are full forty inches wide, which is unusually wide in goods at this price. May be had in black and twenty leading colors. If you send for samples, state colors preferred.
