THE DEBATING SOCIETY.—At the School Debating Society last Friday, the question given out was: "Which has been of more benefit to mankind, the printing press or the steam engine?" Those on the affirmative side were Miss Annie Sheehan, Albert Saxton and Bert Ulrick, one member on that side being absent. Those on the negative side were Misses Corrine Prince and Emma Brulin, George Bourret and Frank Saxton, and all did very well. The judges, Mr. Noteware, Miss French, Mr. Bird, Mrs. Noteware and Mrs. Folsom, decided in favor of the affirmative.

TOO FLY BY HALF.

A Carson Boy who Wouldn't be Caught by White Shirts.

Some weeks ago a full mother of this city planned a trip for her son to San Francisco, that he might have a week's recreation instead of going to school.

Of course he was delighted with the idea, and capered about the house for several days. He was so elated that he could hardly sleep nights, but one day a change came over him.

He saw the preparations being made for his departure, and his eye fell on three white shirts with starched fronts. The sight of the shirts worried him, and finally calling his father one side he said:

"Say, dad, is mum going to put starched shirts on me if I go below?"

"Why, certainly; you don't want to go there in a blue flannel shirt, do you?"

"Why not? Isn't blue flannel good enough for Nevada?"

"You'd look better in a white shirt, my son."

"Well, I ain't no dude, and don't you forget it. I ain't goin' to stand on Montgomery street and every Nevada duffer that comes along holler out, 'Say, Bill, where did you get that shirt?' How'd that sound?"

"But they wouldn't do that." "Yes they will; I know several boys here that wouldn't like any better fun than to go down and give me the grand gaff."

"Why, my son, you amaze me." "Now, look here, dad, it don't go. I may look like a gilly, but I ain't; I'm on to all these dodges. I think mum wants to get me down there and humiliate me."

Persuasion was of no avail, and the boy is still going to school. Whenever he sees a white shirt in the house he begins to edge toward the door.

What Did It?

It is now said that the three men who lost their lives in Washoe Lake met their deaths by reason of having too much whisky in the boat. Snippy says that he saw them rocking the boat very violently when the waves were rising and he called at them to come in shore.

They were within hailing distance at the time. One of them held up a bottle and called out, "Oh, that 'ill be alright, we'er fixed."

They continued to carouse and finally the boat turned bottom up and they struggled for several hours in the water holding on to the boat until benumbed by the cold.

Had Snippy had his wits about him he could have saved the men, by pulling down his old shanty and making a raft, but he seemed to have lacked the presence of mind to do so and the men perished. Yesterday the lake was dragged all day in the vicinity of the spot where they were last seen, but with no results.

Some giant powder was also exploded but there has as yet been nothing found except the hat of one of the unfortunate men.

HALLEN & HART Co.—Mr. Harry Hine, the manager of Hallen and Hart, announces the appearance of his stars in "Later On" at the Opera House, Tuesday evening next. The company just completed a phenomenal engagement at the Bush St. Theatre, San Francisco. "Later On" is a satire on Englishe Aristocracy. It is one of the strongest musical farces now being played. The San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner endorsed the entertainment in the most flattering way and the company will return to the California Theatre for four weeks more. The costumes are particularly fine and were imported from Paris last summer by Mr. Hine.

THIEVING EMPLOYEES.

Railroad Men who Rob Goods in Transit.

For some time past, E. Burlington has been losing shoes from boxes which come from the East as freight.

He recently notified the R. R. Company and requested that they open a case of goods before it left the depot. This was done and five of the shoe boxes were empty. Detectives have been sent to work in the matter and the thieves are already spotted on an eastern road. San Francisco shoe dealers have been having even worse luck.

One gentleman who was in the city a few days ago, stated that on one occasion his firm found boots taken out of ten boxes and bricks inserted in their place to make up the weight.

Tickets are out for the Capitol Band dance. Get one. Senator Forbes was in Carson yesterday.

A FLEEING WITNESS.—Hugh Elias, the ex-Private Secretary of Thomas Blythe, who was in this city for several days, has left for England. Mr. Elias has been "wanted" for some time in San Francisco to testify in the Blythe trial, but has steadily kept out of the way of the legal service necessary to secure attendance in a California Court. Mr. Elias found Nevada quite a convenient stopping place during the trial, and became one of the interesting California colony which find the pure mount in air of Nevada and the aromatic scents of the sagebrush more congenial than the stifling air of the over-crowded Courtrooms of San Francisco. Mr. Elias, when interviewed by an APPEAL reporter, expressed the unqualified opinion that Florence was the child of Ashcroft, and that old Perry, the doctor, was the motive power who put up the whole job. He claims that Perry was a constant attendant upon the Techbone trial, and one day when leaving the Courtroom remarked: "I can put up a better job now than anybody, and by G— I'll do it, too, some day."

Mr. Elias goes to England for recreation.

MARRIED.

On May 1st, A. J. Littell, the leading merchant of Greenfield, Mason Valley, was married to Miss Josie L. Herleben, one of the leading belles of that section. Rev. T. E. Sisson tied the knot at the parsonage in Greenfield. The happy couple are in Carson on their bridal trip. They will return on Tuesday, and the APPEAL learns that preparations are being made in Greenfield to give them a reception which will eclipse any social event ever witnessed in Mason Valley.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

COUGH! AND COUGH! AND COUGH!!—What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

WHAT ON EARTH—Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S' BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing.—W. H. Chedie Druggist.
