

THE NUDE IN SACRAMENTO.

A great outcry has been raised in Sacramento because the art class of the Crocker School of Design has exhibited a picture representing a nude female figure standing in water. The body is exposed from the hips up.

The Bee reproduces the picture, which is a very graceful study of the human figure.

Some old hens in Sacramento have proceeded to make an outcry against it and pronounce it indecent.

It is high time that the ravings of a lot of nasty old women against nude art be regarded merely as the frothings of lunatics.

God made the figure of woman beautiful, and framed the eye of man to understand its beauties.

The female figure was the crowning work of the Almighty and when He finished the labors of creation He left this legacy of loveliness to the world.

Yet there are people so depraved that they see nothing but vulgarity in nude art. When Nature has stripped nearly all the meat from a woman's bones and dried up her stock of common sense, you hear her raving against nude art.

We recall to mind the case of a woman in Omaha who tried to get the city council to pass an ordinance against nude paintings in the city limits as she held they depraved the morals of the young.

Before they had time to draw up the ordinance she ran away with a colored hack-man.

Had the ordinance been passed in time it might have saved her.

Wells, Nev., Excited.

About 1,200 Indians, principally Shoshons and Snakes, and representatives from nearly every tribe from Colorado to Oregon, are holding a big fandango there. They give the town quite a lively appearance, every street and business house being thronged with naked savages.

After a week's chase, Deputy Sheriff Hall on the 11th brought in a desperado named Cass Austin, whom he caught in the Goose Creek mountains, and Judge Conger promptly sentenced him to six months in the Elko jail. Austin and another desperado, named Dave, have for a long time been robbing settlers and shepherders on the borders of Idaho, Utah and Nevada, and making raids into Tacoma and other unprotected towns, terrorizing the inhabitants by knocking them down with six shooters and shooting into their houses. They came into Tacoma two weeks ago and perfectly riddled Bellinger's hotel, while the proprietor and three of his children were very low with pneumonia. Dave escaped to Montana.

Elko Will Contest the Bonds.

At the last meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Elko county the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the District Attorney of Elko county be and is hereby instructed and directed to contest the issuance of such bonds [railroad bonds] and by every honorable means fight the same in every Court to which the matter can be carried, upon any grounds which he may think tenable or which promises or offers any hope of success, and to the end that such a contest may not be made too burdensome upon him and that it may at all times be made with the utmost vigor, the District Attorney is hereby authorized to associate with him in this matter such assistant counsel as he may deem advisable, who shall with him be empowered to use every legal means known to prevent the issuance of the bonds above specified.

Jack Lynch yesterday laid half a dozen large Centennial potatoes on the APPEAL table which looked as if they had just been dug from the ground. They were last years murphys however and had been packed in straw during the winter.
