

NEW ORLEANS IS RIGHT.

Numerous papers throughout the United States condemn the Grand Jury of New Orleans for not indicting the citizens who exterminated the Mafia assassins of Chief Hennessy.

Such an indictment would never have been followed by a conviction in New Orleans. Everyone realizes that the Mafia crowd must taste liberally of its own medicine before it can realize that a colony of Italian cut-throats cannot settle down in an American city and run the town to their own liking.

The conviction of the men who led the lynching party would have given the Mafia a foothold and prestige that would have driven decent people out of the town.

Now an American can walk clean through the Italian quarter without having an organ-grinder spit in his face and an assassin stab him in the back.

The first time an American is killed by these scoundrels, the town will rise to a man and exterminate the crowd root and branch.

When there is but one way to handle such a proposition that is the way to handle it.

The Queen Stands In.

Whenever Nevada people go to the Sandwich Islands royalty gets at his best bib and tucker and primps up to entertain them. The following is from the Advertiser, Dan Lyons paper.

A party of ladies and gentlemen members of the Mystic Shrine, arrived here last Tuesday from California by the steamer Australia. On Thursday at 11:20 A. M., they were specially received at a reception given at the Palace by Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani. After a pleasant interview with the Queen and the Palace, the party withdrew much pleased with their pleasant reception.

Among the ladies present were Mrs. M. T. Brophy and her two beautiful and accomplished daughters, Mrs. F. E. Fielding and Mrs. D. M. Ryan, of Virginia City, Nevada. We predict for those ladies who are well known and popular society people in the great Silver State, a pleasant, and a long to be remembered visit to Hawaii noi.

Ingersoll's Idea.

Here is a shoe shop. One man in the shop is always busy through the day—always industrious. In the evening he goes courting some nice girl. There are five other men in the shop that don't do any such thing. They spend half their working evenings in dissipation. The first by and by cuts these others and gets a boot and shoe shop of his own. Then he marries the girl. Soon he is able to take his wife out riding of an evening. The five laborers, his former companions who see him indulging in this luxury, retire to a neighboring saloon and pass resolutions that there is an eternal struggle between labor and capital.

Still They Come.

The following is an Associate Press dispatch:

At the recent election in Chicago Mr. Kiolbassa was chosen city treasurer, and among his bondsmen were these representative American names: J. Arkerzewski, F. Nowaczewski, A. Jendrzek, John Czaja, V. Kubicka, V. Bardoni, J. Paszkiewicz, Joseph Dzielowicz, W. Dyniewicz, A. J. Kwosigrooch and J. Dombrowski.

At this rate it will only take about twenty years to weed Americans out of American politics.

A gamey old man is Ben Butler. A few days ago Judge Carpenter of Boston refused to listen to him in a case, and when the old man persisted in talking, had him removed from the Courtroom by the U. S. Marshal. The General, eager for the fray, had had himself appointed assistant counsel in a case which the government is anxious to win, and will have a chance to face his enemy again. There is likely to be music in the air when that case is on trial.
