The man who fights vice will discover before he gets through that he must also fight the subsidized press of big cities, the subsidized pulpit, and society, the owner and purchaser of both.

There don't appear to be such a positive demand for the abating of vice as some people think.

The Chicago Herald, one of the most powerful and representative organs of the Western Democracy, has carefully prepared a list, by States, of the National Convention Committee on Resolutions, which is as follows:
