GEN. WEAVER IN VIRGINIA

He is Accorded an Ovation on the Comstock.

SIX THOUSAND MINERS ON A STRIKE IN AUSTRALIA.

D. O. Mills Will Open a Barrel for Whiteaw.

Special to the APPEAL:

Weaver's Virginia Ovation.
Virginia Aug. 4.—General Weaver and party arrived here on the morning train. An open barouche drawn by four black horses and decorated with American flags, met the General and Senator Stewart. There were also carriages for the members of the State Central Committee.

The party was driven about the streets and then to the International Hotel.

In the afternoon the Weaver party accompanied by several Virginia and Reno ladies, went down the Con. Virginia mine and explored the lower levels, remaining under ground two hours. The party was photographed on its return above ground.

In the city today was D. O. Mills, H. M. Yerington, Francis Newlands, Senator Stewart, C. C. Powning, George Nixon, Charley Wallace and politicians from all over the State intent on whatever action the Executive Committee would take.

The street has been full of the wildest political rumors all day, and reports of caucuses, some of which never were held.

Friends of the various candidates on the Republican State ticket, were on hand watching their interests, and sharpening their knives for battle.

At half past six the Executive Committee of the Silver League met in the Odd Fellows' building and adopted a uniform silver pledge to be used by all the leagues of the State. It pledges all silver men to support the coinage of gold on the 15 to 1 ratio and only applies to national politics.

In the evening Weaver addressed a packed audience at the Opera House and hundreds could not gain admittance. His handling of the financial question was made in the homely metaphor that everybody could understand and his talk was frequently interrupted by cheers. It was unanswerable and captured the Comstock. Mrs. Leese followed and her eloquence held the audience for an hour.

When she denounced the Pinkerton assassins at Homestead and eulogized the way the Comstock miners had organized to keep up wages on the Comstock she was greeted with cheers. The meeting was a splendid success, and made a fine impression. Hon. C. C. Powning presided.

6,000 Miners Strike in Australia.

San Francisco, August 4.—Advices from Australia state that the silver miners at Broken Hill have struck. All the mines are idle, and about 6,000 men are out of work. The question in dispute, is as to the working of mines. The mine owners have decided that stoping of ore shall be let by contract. The men refuse to agree to this, and ask that it be paid for by day work, as at present.

Papa's Barrel.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—D. O. Mills, father-in-law of Whiteaw Reid, will make this city his headquarters during the campaign, and will take active and personal interest in the fight. He says he is determined that the coast shall go for Harrison, and he will help furnish sinews of war, for the campaign.

Bidwell Notified.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—General Bidwell, the Prohibition candidate for President, was officially notified this evening of his nomination, by Eli F. Ritter, of Indianapolis, Chairman of the National Prohibition Convention. The ceremony occurred in Metropolitan Temple, before a large crowd.

Fresno Train Robbers.

Fresno, August 4.—Sheriff Henley and party are in close pursuit of the train robbers, who have been tracked to the the Coast Range, and their capture is expected before morning. The stolen treasure consists of three bags of silver valued at $12,000. Roberts, the Express Messenger, is not seriously injured.

In Two Rounds.

San Francisco, August 4.—News from Australia says that Abe Willis, the crack bantam who was so easily defeated by George Dixon in this city, whipped Williams at the California Club in Sydney, on Saturday night, June 25th, in two rounds.

GENERAL WEAVER.

Confident of the Success of the Independent Movement.

A representative of the APPEAL had a talk with General Weaver on the train yesterday morning. Regarding the chances of success in November he said:

"I do not think that the people of the West realize how the movement is gaining ground in other parts of the country. The men of the South are as keenly alive to the causes of low prices for crops, as you are to the low price of silver.

"They know that low silver means low tobacco and low cotton. Why, the people of Nevada were not the first advocates of free coinage by any means. The producers of the South were calling for it years ago.

"We will carry Georgia and we will carry Texas to a certainty. If the election were held tomorrow we would win there, and by November we will have the Southern States under control; in fact they are practically so now. We are gaining every day. It is a popular movement; a people's movement. The masses have broken down the party fences, and are determined that the old parties, of whom they have become distrustful and disgusted, shall no longer boss and humbug them under the guise of fealty to machine politics.

"In the Middle States the farmers and working men are falling in line in splendid shape. It is the toiler and producer fighting for a change and determined to overthrow the representatives of Wall Street. The grand combination between the West and South is a winning one and cannot fail.

"We have much to contend against in the Associated Press, which is owned by the Wall Street people. You do not get a correct idea of the way the ground swell of public opinion is moving, by reading the newspapers. You don't see the Associate Press giving accounts of the ovations everywhere accorded our speakers.

"Everywhere our party went in the South the people greeted us en masse. A few weeks ago I addressed an audience of twelve thousand people at a barbecue in Georgia. They had three hundred roasted carcasses and people there to eat them. This is the common way down there of greeting political speakers. It was the way everywhere we have spoken.

"The Western States are splendidly in line. You have thrown down the gauntlet of free coinage to the Administration in good shape, and the ability and pluck of your fighters has challenged the admiration of everybody.

"Jones, Stewart, Bartine and Newlands have done great work for you. You will soon be known as the 'Unanimous' instead of the 'Rotten Borough' in the East. Every move Nevada and Colorado makes is closely watched. We had a long line of ovation in Colorado and Nevada.

"If the silver men in the House will stand by their pledges, and they dare not repudiate them, we will win; there can be no doubt about it."

The General was accompanied by his wife.

Mrs. Leese, the "Kansas Cyclone," is a tall, handsome woman, whose speaking was a revelation to the Reno people. She followed Weaver. She was unheralded, and the speech she made set the audience into ecstasies. Her voice is something marvelous, and her eloquence, wit and comprehensive grasp of politics, astonishes all who listen to her.

When she compared the present movement to the great uprising in 1860 when Lincoln marched to victory, the audience rose and cheered. She is a pleasant, unassuming woman with a flow of good humor and sensible talk, and she never prepares and address or speaks from notes. If ever there was an inspirational speaker, she is one.

She was in the thick of the Kansas campaign that retired Senator Ingalls to private life. She helped cut down the Republican majority of 80,000.

"Oh, no, we didn't beat Ingalls; he beat himself. What he says on Friday he unsays on Saturday. We merely followed him around and pitted the Friday Ingalls against the Saturday Ingalls, and when the people saw what a monument of inconsistency he was they took his Senatorial job away from him. That's all there was in that campaign."

When the train pulled into Carson yesterday the depot platform was crowded with people, both ladies and gentlemen, to see the next President and hear him address them on the subject of silver and also a few national improvements which are bound to take place under such an administration, as will follow his election in November.

He stood upon the step of the car and delivered a strong speech in a happy vein, talking straight from his heart and throwing all the force of his logical statements into each sentence. He was frequently interrupted by applause and bursts of individual opinions from his constituents—the free thinkers.

Although he made eight speeches the day before, he stated that he was willing to make as many more to the people of the Silver State, as long as he could.

At the conclusion, three rousing cheers were given him, and Mrs. Leese, the "Kansas Cyclone" took the stand.

She represents but a small factor in the great "National Cyclone," which will scatter to the east and west, the jobbing politicians of the Union, who assume to control the country by a monetary system of their own.

She ripped a hole in the old parties, and showed the audience the price of looking into the machinery of the gang. It is a rarely nauseated them. She kept a broad smile in the faces of her listeners during her entire speech.

Geo. Nixon one of the best supporters of free coinage in Nevada made a few enthusiastic remarks just before the train pulled out for Virginia.

Lack of space forbids a detailed report of the utterances of the speaker but they were all such as would come from the lips of people who were sincere champions of the masses and not slaves of Wall street.

Stockwell's Theatre.

Stockwell's new theater on Powell street has been furnished and opened with great eclat, with Jeffry Lewis, in the leading role. It is an ideal theatre in every respect, the changes all having been made under the direction of L. R. Stockwell, who has as much practical knowledge of theatrical business, stage construction and play mounting as any one man in America, and is besides an actor in the fullest sense of the term.

Professional people pronounce it the most complete, comfortable and convenient theatre in San Francisco. It is opposite the Baldwin Hotel.

Southern Esmeralda.

CANDELARIA, Nev., August 3.

Chairman Weaver Meeting, Reno:—The distance to Reno and scarcity of money prevents a large delegation from hearing Mr. Weaver speak, but the voice of the silver party will be heard in Southern Nevada on the 8th day of November next in no uncertain sound.

The Mid-Summer (August) number of Current Literature appears in a handsome white cover. Its contents are particularly rich and appetizing. Whether it is science or philosophy, that which the man ought to know about is set forth in pleasing array. One is surprised at the wealth of material presented, and that the 160 pages of Current Literature are sufficient in number to admit of all that it contains.

Gen. Field is not in company with General Weaver on his western trip. He telegraphed Weaver that he could not leave, as the people all over Virginia were holding immense barbecues, at many of which he was bidden to speak. He assures General Weaver the People's party will carry Virginia.

After the Weaver party passed through yesterday, people began to make preparations to take the special train for Virginia, that they might get some more such material while it was on tap. Four carloads went up.

John W. Kelly and Miss Mary Kennedy were married at Bodie in the Catholic Church by Rev. Father Nix on Wednesday, July 27th. Kate Grant was sent to the Napa Asylum the day following.—Virginia Chronicle.

Dorsey Neteware has returned from Omaha, and says the Peoples Party is not the side-show, but the main circus and is really the only drawing card of the campaign.
