

L. P. Fisher, newspapers advertising agents, 21 Merchants' Exchange, San Francisco, is our authorized agent. This paper is kept on file in his office.

A GREAT SOUL.

Under the above head in the Salt Lake Tribune, C. C. Goodwin, who not only possesses great ability himself, but is broad enough to see it in others, says:

A great many people who never saw Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll believe that the only reason he has not horns is because he belongs to the polled variety of animals. They think of him as they do of a big furious Holstein or Galloway bovine. But the truth is he has the softest heart in all the world, and whenever he speaks, that is, whenever the natural manhood in him gives expression to thought and he talks simply for humanity, no man on earth can talk more sweetly; no woman on earth can think sweeter thoughts than he expresses. Even on as dry a subject as the silver question he, without any flourish and altogether in simple words, can state the case on the side of the people, on the side of the poor, and in a few words give an argument which all the bondholders in the world are not subtle enough to answer. Listen to these words:

"In barbarian countries women have to do the work simply because they are the weaker—that is all. And the others, being the stronger, do not expend their strength in working, but expend their strength in making the weaker do their work."

This is precisely the same in our civilized society to-day. Between the rich and the poor. If the burden is to be borne in this country, it is borne by the poor—always.

"I do not think the few should have the right to combine to increase the value of what the people call money against the debtor and in favor of the creditors. I want free coinage of all the silver you can mine from the mines of America, and if there are those who are not willing to take silver, we will not trade with them."

That is platform enough for the American people to go on and triumph on. Has Mr. Voorhees or Mr. Carlisle or Mr. Cleveland said anything like that in the past four months of trial? Not much. The basilike eye of the golden idol of Wall street has caught them and put its spell upon them, and they forget the people and what justice to the people means. We wonder if the late elections brought shock enough to cause them to turn their heads.

UNCALLED FOR.

Cleveland is said to be afflicted with a painful and necessarily dangerous cancer. This has given editors with little or no common sense, foundation for facetious remarks and grim jokes, which not only indicate bad breeding, and a total lack of decency, but these alleged jokes are without good points, and more calculated to produce frowns than laughter.

The fact that Mr. Cleveland is the President of the United States puts him above coarseness and ribaldry, and entitles him to a certain amount of respect. His life is just as dear to his wife and children as that of the humblest citizen in the lowest walks of life. Because he is not a good ruler gives no one a license to express the wish that some fatality should remove him; he was placed there by the voters of the nation and can be removed in the same manner.

Put Up or Shut Up.

If any of the goldbug editors or Demo-Republican sympathizers in this State feel so sure of the Republican party carrying Nevada at the next election they ought to be willing to back their judgment and to give them an opportunity, a reader of the Silver State has authorized us to announce that he has $500 or any part of it to wager that the Republicans do not carry Nevada at the next election. Now put up or shut up.—Silver State.

The Silver State says the indications for this Winter will be the cruellest we have had in years, and in consequence our cattlemen are making great preparations as regards feed for their stock.
