

MORNING APPEAL

Official Paper of Ormsby County
TUESDAY..... APRIL 24

Did You Ever Think of It?

After you get angry and stop your paper, just poke your finger into water, pull it out and look for the hole, says the Orville Mercury. Then you will know how sadly you are missed. A man who thinks a paper cannot thrive without his support ought to go off and stay awhile. When he comes back half his friends will not know he had gone and the other half will not care a cent, while the world at large kept no account of his movements. You will find things you cannot endorse in every paper. Even the Bible is rather plain and hits some hard raps. If you were to get mad and burn your Bible the hundreds of presses will still go on printing it, and when you stop your paper and call the editor names, the paper will still be published, and what is more you will read it on the sly.

The Cahill Burial.

In referring to the recent burial of W. D. Cahill, M. A. Downey says: "The article in Saturday's Tribune to the effect that William Cahill was taken to the cemetery in Fred Sargent's wagon is untrue. "He was taken out in a hearse and a nice coffin, and buried at the county's expense. The man was kept two days and two nights and the third day at 9 o'clock was buried by orders from the right man. All the friends who came to see him would not spend 50 cents to buy a shirt to put on him."

Bear vs Lion.

The sporting men have now begun to bet on the Lion and Bear fight and a good many more backers of the grizzly have come to the front than was expected. There has been a good deal of talk about the bloody temper of the lion "Parnell," but men who understand the grizzly figure on his terrible vitality and toughness. The lion will think he is chewing a piece of rubber before he gets through, and a grizzly in a rage is the king of all brute creation.—Mid-Winter Appeal.

Attempted Suicide.

Marchie Kelley drank about an ounce of chloroform at 7:30 last evening with suicidal intent. Dr. Guinan pumped him out in time to save his life. This is Kelly's second attempt. Despondency was probably the cause.

Sunset Scenes.

The S. F. Examiner has a new series of photographic views—illustrating phases of life and scenes peculiar to the Golden West. Cagwin & Noteware, the Examiner agents in this city, have received parts one, two, three and four of these beautiful works of art for Examiner subscribers.

The Weiland Saloon.

W. Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, which he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey, which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit." (11)

E. B. Raii has just received a good stock of the Oliver Chilled Plow, also the John Deere Steel Plow, at a extra for the same. He has added to his other goods to make the stock complete. Now is the time to get your paints and oils and anything in the house furnishing goods. Call and see the stock. At prices to suit the times.

WHAT IS THE REMEDY?

There are dull times all over this country of ours—a business depression and dearth of money in circulation. Hundreds of thousands of men are living in enforced idleness, hence they are restless and dissatisfied. Idle and poor men are a menace to good order and the well being of society. When the people of a country are employed and earning a decent living for themselves and their families, they are not at the same time plotting mischief. It is the duty of the governing power of this or any other country to try to legislate in the interest of the people that they may be kept busy all the time. We do not say that it is the duty of the government to directly provide employment for all who apply, but that Congress should enter upon a system of public works, of internal improvements on a large scale, which would require the employment of a very large number of men, skilled as well as unskilled laborers.

An emergency has arisen in this country, when, under its obligations to preserve peace and good order, it will be wise for the government to furnish employment to those needing it, just as in special emergencies it has been expedient for the government to supply people with food. The marching toward Washington of an army of unemployed men may or may not arouse Congress to vigorous action; but we believe nevertheless that it will have a salutary effect in calling attention to the deplorable condition of the industrial classes under the present Democratic administration.
If the men in high places at the nation's capitol cannot see the menace to society and government which is implied in marching through a country of tens of thousands of men out of employment but willing to work, then there will have to be a thorough overturning and weeding out of the incompetents who have the power to ameliorate the condition of the unemployed, but will not act, and filling their places with others who can and will act for the best interests of all—the poor as well as the rich.—Ogden Press.

The Irrigation Movement.

Active preparations are now being made for the next National Irrigation Congress to be held about September 15th, at some point in the West not yet determined on. The last Congress, which was in session an entire week in Los Angeles, October, 1893, appointed commissioners in every Western State and Territory, whose duty it is to prepare a report to be submitted to the coming Congress covering all the features of special interests in each State and Territory of the arid West. The commission for Nevada is composed of John E. Jones, Carson City, Chairman; Jas. Newlands Jr., Carson City; L. H. Taylor, Reno; W. C. Pitt, Lovelock; R. M. Clark, Carson City.

The citizens of this State are cordially invited to correspond with any of these gentlemen, and give them such information as they may possess on the points to be covered by their report, as it is designed to cover every point of interest which can be suggested. Information covering the work of the National Committee can be obtained from Fred L. Alles, Secretary, Los Angeles, California, and information as to the work in this State from any of the Commissioners named above.

Promising Horseflesh.

Bailey & Kaufman, of Mason Valley, are at the Carson District Race Track with five runners and two trotters, which they are training for the Fall races.

Mellinite is the property of Theo. Winters and Billy S. is well known here, having beaten You Bet at the last Fair.
There is also another promising colt—Sterling Boy by Sterling, out of Yuba M.
The most promising of the trotters is Filly, by Sterling Boy out of Kate Kaufman, which will probably be entered in the 3-minute class for a starter.
Two more horses arrived yesterday: Monarch, by Box, from Mason Valley, and Barton, by Hannibal, from Reno.

There was a dramatic scene in a court-room at Spokane Saturday when Benton Wilson, a young man aged eighteen years, told the Court he was guilty of the murder of his brother-in-law, J. W. Johnson, for which he, his father and sister had been indicted. The evidence had been purely circumstantial and the acknowledgement of the murder had a startling effect. The murder was committed in anger, which had been aroused by Johnson's threat to kill his wife, Wilson's sister.

The State Fair will be held from September 17th to 23d, inclusive. The district embraces the State of Nevada, the counties of Modoc, Plumas, Lassen, Sierra, Mono and Inyo, California, and Lake and Grant counties, Oregon. All nominations for the trotting stakes will close May 20th, thirty days from date. This announcement indicates that the State Agricultural Society has decided to hold the annual fair as usual, though reports to the contrary have been circulated. People want some recreation in dull as well as lively times. An election for a full State ticket takes place next Fall and the fair will afford candidates an opportunity to see farmers and others from all parts of the State.—Reno Journal.
