The ladies are jubilant over the passage of the Womans suffrage amendment.

Anna Gould denies that she will become a Catholic on her marriage to the late Castellane.

There is a bill before Congress to give $100,000 to the inventor who constructs a successful air-ship.

The drouth stricken district of Nevada was yesterday visited by a heavy rain, the heaviest in many years.

The habeas corpus case of Jim Gardner will come before the Supreme Court at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Mrs. Cleveland has turned temperance reformer. She will have a wide field for her missionary labors right in her own family.

There are 1,400 head of beef cattle being fed in Churchill county. Hay selling there at $3 per ton and feeders do their own feeding.

Mr. Delcher the advance agent for the Nellie McHenry troupe, who will produce "A night at a Circus," here in March 7th paid this office a visit yesterday.

It is the opinion of the Revenue Collector, Charles E. May, that Nevada will make the best showing according to population on the income tax of any State in the Union.

Pete Lake, a millionaire mineowner from Cripple Creek, Col., created a sensation in a Chicago cable-car. He demanded and secured a seat for an old lady, but had to throw two men from the car to get it.

The English papers denounce the overthrow of the Queen by the Hawaiian Republic as a spectacle to astound and scandalize the civilized world, and that America is the cause of the whole trouble, as she wants the islands.

The common theory that women do not understand the voting system sufficiently to be allowed to vote has been dispelled. At an election of the Portia Club in San Francisco, the ballot box was found to contain more votes than the Club had members.

The analysis of the partisan vote on the Gold bill in the House is:

Democrats—For the bill, 80; against 94; majority against, 5.

Republicans—For the bill, 31; against, 63; majority against, 32.

Populists—Against the bill, 10.

The alarming rumor comes from Washington that the San Francisco Postoffice site is to be examined meantime the expenditure of $4,000,000 on the Chicago Postoffice building proceeds with neatness and dispatch.

The County Commissioners Bill.

The bill to repeal the law by which the taxpayers in the various Commissioners districts are allowed to vote only on the nominees in their own districts, has occasioned a good deal of discussion. The present law makes it certain that the residents of each district can get the man they want, the proposed change does not.

For instance two opposing candidates are running in District No. 1. A gets 500 votes and B gets 50. It is clear that the majority of the voters want A. But suppose B gets enough votes in the other two districts, to elect him over A. It is clear then that the voters of District No. 1 have a man saddled on them that they do not want and the man elected not by the votes in his own district, but by the votes of the other two districts naturally will feel that he owes no allegiance to District No. 1, but will stand in for the people who elected him in Districts No. 2 and 3. Under these circumstances District No. 1 will practically be without representation. Under the present law the nominee receiving the most votes in his District is elected and such a law seems the fairer of the two.

Bad Pay.

We advise newspapers in this State to look out for the Capitol City Commercial College of Topeka. Some months ago the institution sent an adv. to the APPEAL with instructions to run for one month and send the bill. The contract was complied with and the bill sent. In reply came another proposition to run another adv. for six months, and send the bill. We replied by saying that as soon as the first bill was paid, we were ready to make another contract.

We have never heard anything more of the institution, and the advertising bill remains unpaid. The boy who receives an education at this College, will be a good man to run a junk shop and fence, but you wouldn't want him in a bank.

Death of Bishop Manogue.

Yesterday a dispatch from Father Clyne announced the death of Bishop Manogue. For many years he was priest of the Catholic Church at Virginia City, and today hundreds on the Comstock irrespective of religious creed wear mourning in their hearts for the dead Bishop. He spent his big charitable heart knew no creed in its dealing with man-kind. He lived to a good ripe old age and died in harness. While the members of his flock idolized their good Bishop he had friends just as warm in every walk of life, and hosts of people who had no religious views whatever admired him as a man.

Consolation.

Bob Logan of Ormsby was a candidate for Senator in Ormsby county last Fall, and Jim Yerington was a candidate for a similar position in Esmeralda county. Both were defeated and they met recently, and being old acquaintances were discussing the causes which resulted in their defeat. "I was beaten in Esmeralda," said Jim, "because the people said I was backed by railroad influences." "Yes," said Bob, "and I was beaten in Ormsby because I was opposed by railroad influences, which proves that we were both running in the wrong counties."—Journal.

The Moral of It.

About three months ago a gentleman who had recently purchased a bankrupt stock of gents furnishing goods came to Carson and opened a store. He advertised two days then, once on Monday and once on the following Wednesday. His advertising cost $3.50. That ended it. It is safe to say that 50 per cent of the people in town don't know he is in town, or if they ever did know it, have forgotten it.

But now he is again advertising—a closing out sale—in which he announces that at the end of 30 days he will withdraw from business.
