

THE MORNING APPEAL.

The Official Paper of Ormsby County
TUESDAY MARCH 19

ALL SORTS.

Almost everybody has the grip.

Foster has another storm billed for this week.

When Cleveland goes fishing, Silver goes up.

Miss Bell Twaddle died Sunday last at Franktown.

The game law for ducks has been extended to April 1st.

Professor Baernstein and family have moved to Reno.

Nice spring weather and the trees are beginning to bud.

The Gardner divorce case will be argued next Saturday.

Alfred Helm and wife contemplate moving to Gardnerville.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a social entertainment before long.

Mr. Jack Elliott, who fell in the lumber yard, was not seriously injured.

Most of the legislators have left for their homes in the different sections of the State.

It is denied that Schulz and Zirn have backed out of their bargain with Mr. Hulmes.

Miss Elderbody—I hate men who are always making love. Miss Scorebox—To others?

The building of the new flour mill in Carson Valley will commence on the first of July.

The Hank Martin residence in the southern part of town has been sold to M. Harris of Genoa.

Andrew Mason, Superintendent of the New York Assay office, is in town inspecting the Mint.

Now is the time for the county to try its new road machine. A number of the streets are in bad order.

The battle for the Fair millions began yesterday in San Francisco. Somebody will get hurt by the decision.

Stanley is a great man. The shirts sold by Will Day, named Stanley are great. Don't fail to call on Will, and be convinced.

Some of the members left town without paying their room rent, but it is not stated what their political persuasion was.

In the Fair will case at San Francisco yesterday, Robert Lloyd brought in a will of later date than the one offered for probate.

Miss Mary Lease is still largely in evidence in Kansas. She has won another victory, and will remain a member of the State Board of Charities.

H. Bressler, the man who opened a store here a few weeks ago, and tried to run it without advertising, has packed up and started to hunt new pastures.

It was sadly and impressively appropriate that the first stroke of the largest peal of bells that Bishop Manogue gave to his people should be his funeral knell.

After all the puffing by cable and newspapers, it turns out that Sybil Sanderson has a fine figure, a beautiful face, and all the requirements of a great opera singer, except a good voice.

Company I, N. N. G. of Yerington, has been disbanded by Adjutant General Galusha, who acted under orders of Governor Jones. All the arms left was one old bayonet of the 1858 pattern.

An important mining discovery has been made about twenty miles north of Pyramid Lake. The lead is said to be 100 feet wide and can be traced over four miles. Assays made from the croppings show from $8 to $12 in gold.

The Chicago syndicate which recently bought the tailings of the Eureka mill on the Carson river and built a plant for working them is making a success out of the prospect. Eighty eight per cent of the assay value of the tailings is being saved and everything is running in a prosperous manner.

When Baby was sick,
We gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child,
She cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss,
She clung to Castoria.

When she had Children,
She gave them Castoria.

The Session Just Closed,

It has been the fashion ever since the State existed, for the taxpayers to get out on the sidewalk after a legislature has adjourned and remark with the right fist uplifted in a striking attitude.

"Well I'll be ——— if this d—— crowd of ——— ain't the boss lot of petty larceny ——— that ever gathered at the Capitol."

The writer has heard the statements made with some slight variations in this city for the past twenty years, until it has become a regular speech, that each true sage brusher thinks he must indulge in. Yesterday the writer heard a man of fair intelligence making the observation with the regular fringes and scallops of blasphemy for trimmings and we ventured to remark that on the small bet of one dollar, that he was unable to mention one single act of legislation that they had enacted or refused to enact.

The gentleman was simply speechless. Nor could he after five minutes thinking really figure out in his mind what he was talking about.

He had the candor to finally remark.

"Well my boy you must cuss the legislature after it adjourns or else people will think you take no interest in politics. Come lets have something."

This is the situation in a nut shell. It is too early to begin even to criticize the acts of the body just adjourned. It was not a perfect body of law makers. No such body has ever assembled since the days of the old Greeks and perhaps not then.

People who rail at what they think were good measures and not passed, might perhaps modify their idea of them if they were told that some of these very excellent measures were laid aside because of flaws in the construction of the bill, or faulty repealing clauses and perhaps because they contained constructions so nearly bordering on the unconstitutional, that the wiser heads deemed it unsafe to pass them.

Law making is a regular profession and it is next to impossible for a green man, however good may be his intention or honest his endeavor to go to the Legislature and not fail scores of times on what seems to be the simplest possible proposition. The Senate is generally able to detect "jokers" in bills, but this merely because of their past experience, as the majority are hold-overs. If the law provided for hold-over Assemblymen, it would materially expedite business in the Lower House.

The Legislature just adjourned, has been up to the regular average and a little better. It has made no large inroads into the treasury; it has been unattended by scandals of any kind and less talk of corruption than has been known for years. It has been in the main, honest, economical and conservative.

A visitor to Japan says the most curious thing he saw during his travels was the band maintained by the town of Hakodate, which played every evening in the public square and won the applause of large and enthusiastic throngs. In the band were just five performers. They knew only one tune, "Marching Through Georgia," and they repeated it innumerable times every night, and night after night. Neither the musicians nor the auditors seemed to tire of this stirring melody, and everybody manifested a proud confidence in the thoroughness of the "new civilization."

One of the great evils of the day is excessive legislation. A few simple laws, rigidly enforced, would be far better than half of which is a dead letter on the statute books. One of the reasons for the growing disrespect for law is undoubtedly the large number of laws passed which are scarcely worthy of respect.—Los Angeles Times.

After Washoe county had raked the treasury for about $50,000, it then turned about and sets its fist down on all appropriation bills, and moved that Washoe county having been served her share of the pie, the State should not be put to any more expense.

The Glasscocks, husband and wife, who tried to pull Senator Stewart into a domestic entanglement some months ago, have concluded that the old man was too game a subject for them to levy blackmail upon, and have withdrawn the suit against him.

The State Department has notified Minister Taylor at Madrid that this Government will not tolerate any more offenses like that put upon the mail steamer Allianca, whether it is an old custom of the Spanish to fire on suspected vessels or not.

Matzos.

Parties wishing to order matzos can do so by leaving their orders with A. Jacobs.

Chas. Laughton Dead.

Charlie Laughton, once Lieutenant Governor of Nevada, died at Tacoma, Washington, on Saturday last, at 8:20 in the Bohemia club, of heart failure caused by kindred trouble, dropsy and a tapeworm. He came to Tacoma from Olympia, where he had been during the Legislative session. He became sick suddenly, and his son Ray was telegraphed for.

At 8:10 in the evening he felt better and was moved to the parlor of the club. Ten minutes later he complained of the room being too warm. His son Ray went to open a window when the sick man exclaimed: "Oh, my God," and expired, sinking in his chair. The book he was reading, "The Sunny Side of Politics," fell in his lap.

Mr. Laughton was born in Bangor, Me., where his father still lives, and was forty-nine years old. In 1882 he was elected Lieutenant Governor of Nevada, serving four years, and in 1889 was elected to the same office in Washington for three years. He was acting Governor for six months during 1890. He was an Elk, thirty-third degree Mason and a Noble of the Mystic Shrine.

He lived for many years in Carson, was of a happy, genial temperament, and one of the most finished violinists that ever drew a bow in this State. His death will be regretted by many friends and relatives in this city.

A Third House Resolution.

The following resolution was passed in the 3rd House.

This Honorable Body of uncontrolled delegates hereby resolves: That the Hon. Sardis Summerfield be and is hereby appointed a committee of one to name the compilers of the Statutes of Nevada, at the first session of the Legislature when he has control of the "Assembly", or so soon as the little tail end of the g. o. p. gets control of both houses of the Legislature. A copy of this to be sent prior to A. D. 10,001, to whoever may be the leading politician of Washoe county.

On the roll call all voted aye except the members from Washoe and Ormsby.

Custer Post, No. 5. G. A. R.

All members of the Post and all old soldiers are requested to assemble at Post Headquarters, in uniform, on Tuesday evening, March 19th, at 7 o'clock, to welcome our Department Commander, J. M. Walling. By order of the Post Commander.

W. T. HANFORD,
Post Adjutant.

Miss Frank's Reception.

There was a large gathering at Odd Fellows Hall last evening to meet Miss Ray Frank with the Governor and his wife. The stage was handsomely decorated with flowers, and there was a select musical program. There was a handsome display of toilet, and the affair passed off very pleasantly for all concerned.

Information Wanted.

J. Henry Seales, formerly of New Hampshire, please write to the undersigned. Five dollars reward for first information of his present residence. Address A. A. Hibbard, 602 Market Street, San Francisco.

Robert Mantell.

It was some years ago that Robert Mantell visited this town. Now Mayo & McClasky have the Robert Mantell cigars on sale. The cigars bear as good a reputation as the great actor they are named after.

The most severe frost ever known at this season of the year visited Vacaville, Cal., and the fruit crop was badly damaged. The loss is estimated at $225,000. The same reports come from Fresno, Sacramento and Stockton.

The Eastern cattle buyers, who have been at Winnemucca, Churchill and Lovelock, are offering better prices for beef than San Francisco sharks. This will have a tendency to create better prices at San Francisco.—Silver State.
