A good deal of the stone work on the annex to the State University will be done at the State Prison.

An Iowa Judge has decided that male voters make trouble enough without a woman in the case.

The cholera has struck Japan. The cholera in warfare is worth a million men as a reliable and intrepid ally.

Now is the time for the Spring advertiser to get his work in. The one who hits the public just right will get the persimmons.

Spring is here, the weather is warmer, but so long as the soda fountains haven't begun to sizzle, the Summer isn't here on both feet.

A lot of ore taken out of Tubino's Gold Bar mine near Hawthorne by Rabel and McMaesters, worked $100 per ton in the arrastras last week.

Each inmate of the State Prison will receive a bouquet of flowers on Easter. There will also be special music for the benefit of the prisoners.

The Yerington Rustler calls attention to the fact that the assessed property of the bondsmen of Lyon county officers is $6000 less than the bonds.

The deposit on the roof of the Mint has been gathered up and will be treated to recover the gold that has gone up the chimney by evaporation and settled on the roof.

Japan wants 400,000,000 yen from China as the price of an armistice. A yen is a silver coin worth about 47 cents American money, if we are correctly informed.

Huntington will be arrested for issuing a free pass as soon as he reaches California. The President of the V. & T. has called in all his passes so as not to run any risks.

A lawyer in San Francisco has been arrested for destroying a will and forging a new one. After he is acquitted he will be a candidate for Pres. of the S. F. Bar Association.

The reporters on the Enterprise and Chronicle are quarreling over the proper way to report the case of a school girl who had been led astray.

The only proper way to report it is to let it severely alone.

John Hunsucker, his brother George and J. M. Coe left for the Lake yesterday, en route for McKinney's Landing. Mrs. Clark's lease of Rubicon Springs having expired, they will run them during the Summer.

A mouse in the Grand Stand at the Bay District races almost frightened 1400 women into fits the other day. The stand was cleared and the racing almost came to a stand still. Several of the fair damsels wanted their entrance money back.

In San Francisco the other day a girl who had been seduced under promise of marriage found that her betrayer was already married, she threw herself into the Bay and ended her troubles. Pity she did not put a hole through her betrayer first.

When Baby was sick,
We gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child,
She cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss,
She clung to Castoria.

When she had Children,
She gave them Castoria.

WHERE IS HENEY?

Has the Ring run him to Parts Unknown.

The excitement over the Mint shortage is now more intense than any time since the original discovery.

When it was known that Heney had disappeared, and that the authorities had allowed such an important factor in the investigation to slip through their fingers, there was plenty of pretty free talk on the street over what everybody considers a blundering mess on the part of the authorities.

It appears that more than two weeks ago H. H. Beck of Reno, who has been in the business of purchasing bullion, notified the authorities that he had about two years ago purchased $22,000 worth of bullion from Heney. At that time Heney said that it came from a Silver City mine he had leased, and that he did not wish the owners to know its value as they would decline to renew the lease.

The explanation was satisfactory and the bullion taken. It was the same fineness as Mint bullion, but at the time Beck was not conversant with the real fineness of Mint bullion, and gave the matter no consideration.

It is ascertained that a detective located Heney in San Francisco, and he was found in Dunns saloon and there identified. The detective had no warrant and applied to United States District Attorney Jones for one but it was delayed and now the man has skipped. The Reno Journal strongly intimates that Jones neglected his duty in not having him arrested at once, but on the other hand it is claimed in justice to Jones that he has a detective on the trail and is in daily receipt of telegrams from the detective who has never lost sight of his man.

The impression however, is everywhere that the money of the ring is behind Heney and assisting him to get out of the country, that he may not turn State evidence. It is supposed that Heney dropped on the systematic thievery going on and demanded to be let in on the combine as the price of silence, and that herculean efforts are being made by those involved to smother actions in the investigation and delay it until the main witnesses are out of the way.

When Heney left the Mint he remarked to several people in this city: "Hell will pop here inside of two years."

Opposed to Cremation.

Philadelphia, April 11.—Cremation services have been officially declared by Masonic authorities not to be Christian burial.

The question that brought about this decision arose over the making of arrangements for the funeral of the late Charles R. Reissler. It had always been Mr. Reissler's wish to be cremated, and after his death his family decided to follow his wishes. Mr. Reissler was also a Mason.

The matter was referred to the Grand Master of Pennsylvania, who is Judge Arnold, and he promptly rendered a decision that services at cremation were not Christian burial under Masonic law. The family decided to abandon their original intention. The funeral will take place at noon tomorrow. The Masonic organizations will attend in a body and perform the Masonic rites.

A Nevada Artist.

The San Francisco Chronicle in discussing the New York magazines says:

The April number of Chips is interesting to Californians as the place of honor is given to a little anecdote of Nelson by Joaquin Miller, and a page is devoted to a "circle" portrait of William Sharp by Phillip Mighels, the young Nevada artist who has recently made a hit in New York by his original sketches in the Herald. Mighels has devised a new method in black and white that is as striking as Beardsley's work and far more attractive.

Donohoe's Millions.

San Francisco, April 12.—The will of Banker Joseph A. Donohoe, who died April 5, has been offered for probate. The widow and Joseph A. Donohoe, Jr., filed a petition stating that the value of the estate is unknown. The bequests include $5,000 each to four relatives; $11,000 to orphan asylums in sums of from $1,000 to $5,000 each, and $50,000 given Archbishop Riordan in trust for a fund for a Catholic seminary at Menlo Park. The Donohoe block on Market street was given to the three children and the residue of the estate to the widow.

Ten thousand dollars has already been raised by the Greek committee on the Olympian games, of which the duke of Sparta is chairman, in order to clear the rubbish and put in order the stadium, the ancient race course at Athens.

Found the Kids.

Yesterday Jack Furlong returned from his search after his own boy and young Gilson, the lads who went away a few days ago with a complete outfit, either for strolling up an S. P. train or starting a revolution in Cuba. He found them on two horses about three miles this side of Wabuska. The people of the town who had warning of the approach had thrown up barricades and were calling on the local militia to drill.

When they saw Jack they halted and faced the music.

"Well so I've found you at last," "Ah cheese the lecture," said Ray Furlong pulling a six-shooter and examining the lock to see if it was in working order. Jack told them to face for home and start. They did so at once and he brought them in yesterday morning. Horse-back riding had been more than they had bargained for, and they went to bed at once. Meanwhile ordering each a small bottle of vaseline.

The horses were both badly used up, and their owners are rubbing their backs with lard. The boys think there is no place like Carson for a Summer residence. They say that if Jack hadn't sneaked upon them when they were asleep in a barn, he would never have caught them.

Fire at Wadsworth.

Wadsworth has had a serious fire. The Dispatch says: An alarm of fire was sounded at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The clouds of smoke rolled up from back of town, and Hon. T. G. Herman's barns and corrals proved to be the scene of the conflagration. Constable Lothrop was among those first at the fire, and helped take out the Cleveland bay stallions that were in the burning barn. The stock in the corrals and 25 head of horses were turned loose.

The Wheel Craze.

It's hard to find any one in Carson who hasn't a wheel. About two dozen arrived this week and they are of all kinds and makes. The ladies are taking to the wheel and so many of them flash about the city on bicycles that very few men turn a second time to look at them.

The labor element of California are very hot at Governor Budd because he did not appoint the man they wanted. The politicians pay no attention to the labor element after election. They are divided up among various parties, and therefore have very little influence. When they attack themselves solidly to one party, they will be respected. Like the Silvermen they have segregated their forces and while in this position have been chopped to the ground.

Irving M. Scott, who has just returned from the East, thinks the next Congress will authorize the construction of a cable between San Francisco and the Hawaiian Islands. He also reports that a feeling in favor of the Nicaragua Canal is growing, and that that enterprise will also meet with careful consideration.

It now turns out that the concrete piers of the Ferry landing in San Francisco are defective and the work botched by the contractors. Ed. Colnon, the new Harbor Commissioner, insisted on an investigation in the interest of the people and will run the fraudulent contractors to cover.

Mrs. Vanderbilt as ordered all the nude pictures in her new $2,000,000 villa repainted with suitable draperies so as not to offend her fastidious eye. If she would put some clothes occasionally on the naked limbs of the poor in her vicinity, she would be doing a good deal better.

Many of the State exchanges are running the ad of the Capitol City Commercial College. The institution is a fraud and does not pay advertising bills.
