

KEELY AND KING ALCOHOL.

The dispatches say that twenty-eight distilleries will soon close in Pennsylvania.

There is a great amount of whisky in the ware rooms and storerooms of distilleries than ever before known. The reason given by the distillers for the decrease in production is that at the Keely-Cave men have something to do with it.

It is not impossible that the Keely-Cave has done more to detract King Alcohol than any one agency.

A Commonplace Pun.

Under the head of "Rosebery's bon mot" the following is telegraphed from London:

Thomas Gibson Bowles, the Tory Member of Parliament who has made special attacks on the Government's fisheries bill, while riding along Rotten Row met Rosebery, to whom he remarked that at least the seal fisheries bill had passed. "Yes," replied Rosebery, laughing, "and there has been a good deal of fishing for the seal of office this week."

It is odd to think that so commonplace a pun as the above should be telegraphed all over the world. It was high time Rosebery stepped down.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Examiner publishes a sensational story relative to the seduction of a young girl at Benicia by a mock marriage with the late James G. Fair. Dr. Perry, the man who attended the young lady in her confinement, says that Fair paid for the attendance and was there as "Uncle Sam." He identified Fair's portrait and his story leaves no doubt that Fair was the man.

This will give the mother of the children a big slice of his millions, notwithstanding the clause in the will leaving his illegitimate children with one dollar each.

We do not understand how the Merced Sun can have the face to say that the Democratic State Convention last year declared for the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. The convention did nothing of the kind. The Sun should spread its effulgences upon the Democratic platform and with the aid of a good pair of spectacles look for the silver plank. It will then find out its mistake, and learn that the California Democrats were gold men.

An American who opened a restaurant in the City of Mexico, refused to allow a negro to eat at his table. After he had paid a fine and spent several days in jail, he realized that equality in the Republic of Mexico meant all is said in the Constitution.

The Republicans and the Administration Democrats have discovered an easy way of settling the silver question by saying nothing about it in their platforms and those who play party success before general propriety commend their wisdom.

A writer of English society gossip says that Lulu Warwick is the one woman of the nobility who has remained most true to her marriage vow. Which is almost like recommending a suspicious egg as the best egg in the basket. Possibly Lulu Warwick is like the Pinafore fellow who was "hardly ever" untrue to his wife.

A daughter of Mark Twain says her father is the nicest papa in the world, but she does not think much of his books. She does not like to have people ask to be introduced to her just because she is the daughter of the great American humorist. Miss Clemens evidently means to shine in her own light.

The case to test Senate Bill 81 comes up in the Supreme Court on Monday. It is brought by the Reno Gazette against the District Attorney of Washoe County, and involves the question as to whether the Recorder or the County Commissioners have the disposal of County printing.

A majority of the Kentucky Democratic Convention followed the example of the Cleveland Republican Convention, and achieved "a signal victory for free coinage" by utterly ignoring it.

Another witness has turned up in San Francisco against Durant. He saw Durant and Minnie Williams together in front of Emmanuel Church at 8 o'clock. He was well acquainted with both.

From the remarks of our morning contemporary we are led to believe that it also has just experienced a dose of the composer who is in love and needs the jug cure.
