Governor Jones is still improving slowly but surely.

O. S. Murdoch and W. J. Phillips of Austin are in the city.

Ross Lewers the Washoe apple man was in the city yesterday.

John Dennis of Reno and H. Mayenbaum of San Francisco are in this city on legal business.

Three of the hoodlums who pelted a Chinaman with rocks have been arrested on the Comstock.

Henry Watson now seems to be the choice for Senator from Kentucky. He came into the fight yesterday.

The Wadsworth Dispatch states that the little town is all in a hub-bub over a rich, rare and racy scandal.

Al Jaqua, mail clerk on the C. & C. has been promoted to a position on the Ogden and San Francisco R. P. O.

John Taylor, an ex-Comstocker died at Butte Montana yesterday. He killed W. D. Printice some years ago.

A telegram to General Beatty from Mrs. Jones states that the Governor's condition yesterday was still on the mend.

Since Turkey has formed an alliance with Russia there isn't so much talk in Europe about avenging the Armenian outrages.

Josua Brown, a printer, committed suicide at Harlem, N. Y. yesterday. He placed a pistol in his mouth and blew out his brains.

The new type-setting machine in the Enterprise office is now doing nicely and the typographical appearance of the paper is improved.

Buds are swelling on the trees and the fruit men think that if the warm spell continues it will be followed by a frost to the great injury of fruit.

The "Arlington" long-cut tobacco in two-ounce foil is now on sale, both wholesale and retail at Chas. H. Kelly's, Arlington block. Trade supplied.

A negro was lynched at Blufffield W. Va. yesterday. While on a spree he killed two men and wounded another. His body was riddled with bullets.

It is understood that the rule charging ladies without escorts 50 cents for the Return Leap Year Ball will be waived in favor of those wearing bloomers.

It is understood that attorney Coffin has secured the services of Pat Reddy to defend him in case of a Grand Jury indictment for bribery in the Heney case.

Senator Teller is said to have telegraphed this advice to a Colorado mine owner: "Hold on to your silver properties. The price of the white metal will reach 85 cents by April 1, 1896."

Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. Since Olcovich Bros., reduced prices on dry goods other have imitated and followed, but they'll never catch us. We propose to keep in front and give values that no one can equal. We have reduced the prices on silks, and offer fine China silks, red, pink and blue 28 inches wide at 40 cents per yard. Other things in proportion.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER.

John Dias of Lander County Tries to Kill His Wife

The Reno Journal publishes a special that announces another shooting in Lander county, that will in all probabilities result in the death of a woman. The circumstances of the shooting or the cause were not communicated, but it is thought that the attempt at murder was made in a fit of jealousy or drunkenness. The shooting took place at the Vaughan ranch that has already become notorious in the Lander county courts as the residence of Vaughan, who killed the Lister boys some time ago. The dispatch reads as follows:

Austin, Nev. Jan. 27.—John Dias shot his wife at the Vaughan ranch last night and she will probably die. The ball entered the abdomen to the right and below the navel, passed through the bladder and was extracted at the groin by Dr. Johnson this morning. The Sheriff has just arrived with Dias, who is now in jail. Dias fired two shots, the first shot missing. There were five witnesses to the shooting.

The Postal Beats.

The following is a fair sample of the sort of requests that come to newspapers daily:

Middleburg, Ky., Casey Co., 1-20-96. MORNING APPEAL.—Sir, Please send me a copy of the APPEAL, and oblige if pleased will subscribe. Address, CLARENCE COLEMAN, Middleburg Casey Co.

N. E. Send as quick as you get this.

There are people who send out a postal card daily to newspapers asking for sample copies. They have no idea of subscribing. They expend one-cent trying to get a paper and thus keep themselves supplied. Publishers generally pitch their cards into the waste basket.

His Best Speech.

The Press Club in Albany, N. Y. gave a little supper to Frank Mayo, the actor, who during the evening was called on by the toastmaster for a speech, "and let it be," he added, "the best thing you have ever spoken." Mr. Mayo hesitated a moment, he had played so many parts in his time; then he recited the Lord's prayer. The newspaper men there tell it in praise of the actor's wonderful power of diction used to the best advantage, that when he had finished his five-minute oration there was not a dry eye in that room.

Supreme Court.

Yesterday there came up the case of Geo. Watts, respondent vs. Nevada Central R. R. Company, appellant. This case involves a judgment of $10,000 in favor of Watts. Sparks from a locomotive fired stubble, and barns and crops were consumed by the flames. Watts was awarded $10,000 damages in Lander county, but the railroad appealed.

It was argued by Dickson, of Salt Lake, for the appellant, and Henry Mayenbaum, for the respondent.

The resumption of coinage at Carson would give employment to about sixty persons and would result in an expenditure of several thousand dollars monthly among the business men of the town. That would be preferable to the honest people of the community to bribing witnesses to keep out of the way, to having experts from San Francisco at $50 per day to attempt to delude jurors with the idea that thousands of dollars from the mint, known to have been melted at the Reno Reduction Works, escaped in solution through the mint sewer to somebody's potato patch, and to sending mint employes to State Prison for stealing and lawyers and local officers to jail for corrupting witnesses and jurors.—Journal.

That inhuman brute at Brook, Ind., who was annoyed by the crying of his eight-months-old baby, and who killed it by squeezing its head between his knees until blood gushed from its nose and ears, should never have been allowed to reach the sanctuary of a jail. He should have been tied to a stake and roasted to death. Ordinary hanging would have been a compliment to the fiend.

The Bee is a firm believer in, and an advocate of, lynch law for offenses of this character. It would be a disgrace to accord a trial to such a spawn of hell as this Thug of a sweet, innocent, and helpless babe.—Sacramento Bee.

A preacher in Bloomfield N. J., puts a white crayon on a dog and allows him to sit beside him in the pulpit while he preaches. It don't speak much for dogs' intelligence, where it allows itself to associate publicly with such an ass, even if it is only once a week.

The stormy weather seems about over.

A Risky Experiment.

The young ladies of Alameda have proclaimed as their ultimatum that they will not submit to be kissed by any man to whom they are not engaged. This may be a brave and virtuous resolve for the first month of leap year, but when the gentle spring and the green foliage and the double-hammocks come into play, we opine that many of these good resolutions will be forgotten. It is easy to make these rules and resolutions, but when the Alameda maidens see the eligible men sauntering off to Milpitas and Oakland on moonlight nights, they will discover that the high protective tariff they have placed on themselves will keep them out of the matrimonial market, until the advanced age of the girls will be a sufficient protection without any necessity of cast iron rules and regulations.

Pearl of Savoy.

This delightful little drama will be given by the Carson Dramatic Club about the 12th of February. They are now rehearsing the piece and have a particularly good cast.

In a Philadelphia Theatre, actor Corbett the retired pugilist was caught smoking cigarettes which was against the rules. The fireman remonstrated with Corbett who attempted to fire him from the dressing room, but the fireman jibed Corbett in the jaw and loosened his teeth. He then grabbed him by the heels and threw him down stairs. Corbett will soon find that he cannot smoke cigarettes long and still be able to tackle local firemen.

Greenbacks, treasury notes and silver coin are plenty good enough for use in developing the latent resources of the country, in which lies our real wealth. It is the part of madness to destroy and discredit these for the sake of borrowing gold from a foreign land, which we can only repay by shipping her our products at the ruinous prices entailed by gold monometallism.—The Mining Industry and Review.

Billy Musgrave recently discovered gold in a creek near his ranch and set in a line of sluice boxes expecting to work out the yellow metal. He hired some placer miners recently to develop the claim, but on taking them to the spot found someone had stolen the sluice boxes.

A prominent New York politician, who is one of the managers of a rival candidate, and just returned from a tour through the West and South, says if Governor Morton will open a "bar" he will soon be a leading candidate for the Republican nomination.

California orange shippers are sending frozen oranges East. They are actuated by the same shortsighted policy which causes them to send poor wine East. Then they sit down and wonder why their wine and oranges are not in greater demand.

The Clerk of the District Court ofureka county is getting in hot water. In the case of Streater vs. Foley the papers he forwarded were in such a mess that they were useless. The thing has happened several times before.

The ladies of the National Equal Suffrage Association were given a hearing before the Senate Committee yesterday at Washington. Mrs. Williamson of Nevada was among the ladies who addressed the Committee.

The Womens Relief Corps will give a grand ball and supper on Friday evening, February 14th. The ladies have always claimed St. Valentines night as theirs and the coming dance be a grand event.

The U. S. courtroom was crowded yesterday by people who expected that a move would be made in the Coffin case. Nothing was done however and the Court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Captain Harry J. Gosse, a popular man on the Comstock, will take charge of the Riverside Hotel on the 1st of the month. He has a large acquaintance and will make a genial landlord.

CHEAP CUSTOM WORK A DECEPTION.

A style of tailoring is rapidly gaining headway which is but an imposition upon the consumer and a detriment to the workman. The cheap custom work or what is called "special order work," is a shrewd dodge for the purpose of deceiving the customer into the belief that he is obtaining custom work at ready made prices. The real worth of custom work lies in the exactness of the fit, and the thoroughness in which it is made. Cheap custom work is therefore inferior to ready made work.

Large concerns, some also engaged in ready made work have grown up of late and depend for patronage upon retail stores, and have numerous agents scattered everywhere soliciting orders and gain trade because of the strikingly cheap prices offered for goods made to order. As a rule these agents seldom obtain an order twice from the same person.

It is about time that this scheme was exposed to the people and ABE COHN of the EMPORIUM shows up the fraud. If you want clothes that fit and are tried on as often as is necessary call at the EMPORIUM Court House Building, Carson City, Nevada.
