Bonds and Pensions

EDITOR APPEAL:—In reading the letter of Q. J. Phelps in the Genoa Courier, it seems to me that the following sentence is misleading and hardly just in its conclusions: He says:

The holders of U S securities have received since 1861 to 1865 and premiums over $3,000,000,000, and the pensioners have received since 1865 nearly $2,000,000,000 in pensions alone making the fabulous sum of $5,000,000,000 to two kinds of bloodsuckers—the toilers of the country have paid.

In the Eastern States during the sixties the bonds issued by the U. S. Government were eagerly purchased by small capitalists, and people with a very few hundred dollars to invest, because of their undoubted safety. Therefore the "interest and premiums" on those bonds went back to the hands of the "toilers of the country" very largely. As the majority of the soldiers who applied for pensions were "toilers" it follows that the largest part of the $2,000,000,000 paid out by Government to these "bloodsuckers" went back into the pockets of people who might otherwise have become objects of charity or suffered in their old age from poverty. Naturally there are frauds perpetrated in all places where money is to be obtained, but the Government had better pay one-third of its pensions to unworthy people than let the other two-thirds of deserving soldiers go hungry. At any rate the money goes back to the people from whence it came.

Make your fight against the payment of "interest and premium" to foreign money lenders,

JUSTICE.

About Nevada Raised Tobacco.

Dr. Bergstein is in receipt of the following, which will explain itself: "Windsor, Ont., Jan. 13, 1888.

"Dr. H. Bergstein, Superintendent Insane Asylum, Reno, Nevada:—MY DEAR DOCTOR—My son Chess sent me a piece of tobacco which you had kindly placed on exhibition in the Reno Drug Company's window and grown at the Asylum. I must say I was astonished at the quality, flavor and smoothness in smoking. You have discovered a means of growing and curing Nevada tobacco which may mean "millions" to the State and I feel much interested in your experiments.

"I hope to hear that you have a large field of different seeds planted this year and feel confident you are on the 'right road.' 'Rsh for Nevada,' wishing you and yours the compliments of the season.

"I am very sincerely yours, "W. A. PERKINS."

The "Call" on the Uber Case.

The following is an extract from the Call in an editorial on the Uber case:

In the meantime it is gratifying that the case when fully examined makes a much better showing for the people of Nevada than appears on the surface. An effort, really in earnest on the part of the officers of the law, was made to bring the lynchers to justice. The prosecuting attorney did his work with zeal and seems to have submitted to the jury abundant evidence to prove the case of the State against the accused. A considerable number of the Grand Jury also were ready and willing to act. Justice failed simply because a number of thrifty citizens whose devotion to economy would have made them excellent Supervisors were by a freak of fortune turned from that office and lauded in the Grand Jury.

Mattie Approves of It.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 29.—Martha Overman, who accused Rev. C. O. Brown, D. D., pastor of the Congregational Church of San Francisco, of immoral conduct at the church trial two years ago, is an active member in the Hope Mission of this city. In commencing upon Dr. Brown's confession before the Bay Conference this week, Miss Overman said:

"I am glad for his own soul's sake that Dr. Brown has finally made this confession. I have wondered how he had held from it as long as he has without his conscience breaking him down. I knew I was right when I made the confession to clear my own conscience of guilt, and it mattered not to me whether he did so or not, so far as public vindication of myself was concerned."

How it Happened.

When George Heritage was killed he was engaged in setting switches, and in the darkness stepped in front of the engine, thinking he was quick enough to get out of the way. In an instant the engine was upon him and he was drawn under the foot rail. When taken from beneath the wheels by fellow workmen his body was cut in two.

Who Fired That Shot

Carson, Jan. 29, 1898.

ED. APPEAL:—I wish to state through your paper, the MORNING APPEAL, that the shot that was fired a few nights ago was not fired by me at all, and I am getting tired of being blamed for everything that goes on in that line. I believe that there is a young clerk, or ex-clerk from a dry goods store in this city knows more about who fired that pistol that night than I do.

Thanking you very kindly, I remain, M. KELLY.

The Sierra Nevada.

Sierra Nevada stock took another whirl upward yesterday. It opened at 75 cents and closed at noon, for the week, at $1.10. Good reports from the Riley tunnel are said to underlie the spurt. The Sierra Nevada weekly letter, published in the Chronicle, says that a body of ore was cut into during the week and that it assayed from $18 to $30 per ton. It is reported on the street that the deposit of ore shows a width of 9 feet already, with its limit yet undetermined. The prospect is very good and higher prices for the rock are expected.

The Old Thing.

Our esteemed friend over the way is getting "buggy" again over the fact that the Senior editor of this paper draws a salary as a State official. Has his memory become so impaired that he has forgotten that he drew a salary from the board of Trade, comprising only a few public spirited citizens, while he shoved a pencil on the Gazette or has he forgotten the salary he drew at the Carson Mint while editing the Gazette in Reno? It is not suggested by this that he did not earn his pay in every instance, but it does demonstrate that even a Republican will draw as many salaries from as many different places, if the opportunity offers, and in fact some of them have been known to draw from two opposing political parties at the same time. Glass houses are an unpleasant abode if stones begin to fly. Rip sugar tests, tariff or even McKinley's prosperity wave up the back, Brother Brazz, and give your neighbors a show at the crib now and then.—Journal

A young man of twenty in Idaho wishes to marry a girl of sixteen, but under the law he cannot get a license. However, he is a determined lover and he has begun an action to compel the issuance of a license on the ground that the law is unconstitutional. This raises an interesting point. By the time the case is decided by the Supreme Court the couple will be old enough to get married.

A scandal has developed in the Hanna family at Cleveland. Dan son of the Senator has been sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Hanna charges gross neglect and cruelty. The couple have three children.

It is now believed that the heavy frosts in the Southern California have done more good than injury, from the fact that the vine pests and those on fruit trees have been destroyed. The frost is now considered to have been a blessing in disguise.

It is stated that a sworn statement by Mattie Overman, detailing her criminal relations with Rev. C. O. Brown, was the principal cause of the ministers confession of guilt. It has never been published, but is in the hands of the officers of the Bay conference.
