Home From The Mines

Gib Briggs, Honsinger, Pratt Martin and Hannigan came in from the Poco Tiempo mine yesterday in order to properly celebrate the Fourth. They report the work on the mill progressing rapidly as possible and the mine looking better every day. All of the material is on the ground and as soon as the boys get through celebrating, they will put the mill in running order. This is one piece of mining property in this section that gives every promise of being something more than a prospect.

The attention of the Democratic and Silver Party County Central Committees is called to the party convention on the fourth page of this issue.

Several parties who have been planning camping trips have changed their tactics and will head for the hills in search of winter wood.

With anything like decent weather Carson will be a deserted village tomorrow. Everybody that can raise the price will go to the Carnival.

All the Same Price

Wall paper of the latest variety is now being shown at the Fox store. It is direct from the factory and gives the Carson people a chance to keep up with the times in the home decoration line. One of the best features in the new stock is the greatly reduced price of that of other years and another feature is the price of the wall, ceiling, and borders are all the same price. When the price of border was double that of the wall and the ceiling it made papering a luxury. All the new designs are exhibited and the prices compete with the catalogue figures that are offered by others. The public is invited to examine the full line that is shown, and they will find that the prices are in keeping with the times. The Fox Store certainly has the finest line of wall paper ever shown in this city.

Pure Ice

The ice season has opened and parties or families desiring the pure article should see me in person and make a contract for the warm weather. He cut a house full of the pure article at his pond on the Carson river which is guaranteed to be pure, free from dirt and as clear as a crystal. Rates are reasonable.
