

SENATORIAL GOSSIP.

The Prize Nixon Wants Still Swinging Just a Little Out of His Reach.

There is but little change in the Senatorial situation. The statement is still made by the Nixon managers that they have 31 names signed up to the pledge to vote for Nixon. The people who figure say that two of the Republicans whom Nixon claims were not in the city Sunday night and therefore they are disposed to take all of the claims of his managers with certain grains of allowance.

One thing that is giving his managers considerable uneasiness is the fact that he "loosened up" to a few to keep them from wavering, has gotten whispered about. The men who swore to keep it secret must have drank a little and talked too much.

The claims made by his friends that he was in all respects a game rooster and would spend $100,000 before he would allow Tom Riskey to beat him, has incensed him. It is claimed that his sudden departure meant that he had his fight in such shape that he could well afford to leave and others claim that he absented himself to escape the business calls that have been made on him by men who suddenly discovered that they were factors in his fight and who helped to make his campaign.

One of his managers remarked in the Arlington last evening: "It would be a dirty shame for Riskey to come in now and try to get this fight. Its bad faith after Nixon made his own campaign."

"Oh come off the perch, didn't Nixon do the same thing to Jones years ago?" and then the horse laugh went up all over the room.

An old line Republican thusly sums up the situation:

"You see, hen we went into the campaign, funds were scarce and we needed some money bags. Nixon had just made a lot in Tonopah and it came easy and he volunteered to come in and furnish the sinews of war. We needed sinews about that time and we let him in. Well, he has spent his money all right but when it comes to sending a refugee from the Silver party and who was fourteen years voting the Democratic ticket, to the U. S. Senate I am forinst it and all the Republicans I know are. I am for any old line Republican who has not been voting the Democratic ticket all these years."

The members are receiving letters and telegrams from all over the State to be Republicans and elect a Republican while they are about it.

Meanwhile the Nixon managers say that while they have lost a few votes they know where they can get some from the Fusion ranks. There were men who thought that Sparks had given up the fight but he feels that he owes it to his party and his constituents to remain in and he will do so as his card published in this issue of the Appeal very plainly indicates. Any man who deserts John Sparks will now have a warm time explaining to his constituents.

It is claimed that the friends of John P. Jones are taking a hand in the fight and have their tomahawks out for Nixon's work of years ago, work which the managers of Nixon are trying to have the party forget.

Old Republicans say that his election will set a bad example and dishearten the rank and file of the party. It means that the "Johnny-Come-Lately" members of the party are the fellows who take the plums and it will result in office seekers coming in next election and asking for places on the ticket, which they cannot secure in the Fusion party. Such a course, they say, will bust the party wide open and when a mans name is presented he will have to show how many years he voted the Democratic ticket before he can get a nomination in the Republican convention. Then there are men who say that Nixon has been a Republican longer than some people have any idea of and that while he was ostensibly posing as a Democratic party man hoofs, horns and hide, he was sending his influence and sack into the field to help the Republican ticket. These circumstances they regard as extenuating.

Rickey did not arrive yesterday morning and his managers, if doing any thing, are making a very still hunt.

Senatorial Troubles.

Editor Appeal. Sir: In this morning's edition of the Appeal under the head of "Senatorial Troubles" you say, among other things: "some think they see a plot to elect Sparks in the mix-up, but the Governor wants it distinctly understood that he is not a candidate and would not accept the four necessary votes from Republican sources."

Now the facts are, I am a candidate for U. S. Senator. I have not attended a political caucus before nor since the election, nor have I asked a member of the legislature who he intended to support for United States Senator or any other position.

I am under deep obligations to the many Republicans who supported me for I would be an ingrate if I did not appreciate their kindness. I did not seek the nomination for Senator, but it was tendered to me, and I feel grateful for the honor. As Governor, I approved the act of the Legislature of 1903 for purity in elections, and I have not violated its provisions.

Very Respectfully
JOHN SPARKS.

Funeral of Maggie Cavanaugh

The Catholic Church was filled yesterday to its utmost capacity with those who came to show their respect for Miss Maggie Cavanaugh.

The impressive services were conducted by Father Gartland and the Catholic choir rendered the beautiful music.

The priest in his address dwelt upon the splendid qualities of the sister who had passed away and the purity and sweetness of her character which had made her beloved by all who knew her.

The casket was buried with flowers and wreaths and many of the congregation wept audibly as they took a last look at the face of the dead.

A long line of carriages followed the remains to the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were Hon William Woodburn, Hon. S. P. Davis, S. H. Day, J. L. Considine, J. C. Curry and P. B. Ellis.

Take a look at the new ties that are being shown at Platt's.

The Georgia Minstrels are catching particular fits from papers all over the State.

The Emporium received a fine assortment of beads in all colors, yesterday.

It is rumored that a rich strike has been made in the Golden Anchor mine at Tonopah.

Furnished rooms to rent, single or en suite for house-keeping. West King street, one block from Capitol. Inquire at this office.

Some of the members who want to know if George Nixon will stand pat with President Roosevelt on the fight he is making against the corporations are unable to secure any definite views from the gentleman.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS

are based upon personal appearance. Much as we say about judging a man by his clothes, we, all of us, are guilty of so doing. It is human nature. Go into a business office for the first time and you will realize to the fullest, the importance of good clothes. They demand respect. International Garments create a favorable impression and lend an air of distinction—generally essential to business success.
