hands and demand legislation that was in their interest. The effect of such a bond as this, Gen. Spinner said, had been studied out by him in all its ramifications, and he was not only convinced that it was a safe measure for Congress to enact, but that it was the only one possible whereby to achieve a stable, equitable and permanent financial basis for the government.

He did not believe that there was much significance in the attitude of the two political parties in Ohio on the financial question; neither understood what they were quarreling about, and each was trying to throw more dust than the other; but he did believe the financial issue a live one for all; that it was the issue about which the people thought the most, and upon which there was the most demand for high and right of action.

TRIAL OF THE INSURRECTIONISTS.

Augusta, Aug. 30.—The trial of the negroes charged with getting up an insurrection commenced at Sandersville, Judge Herschel V. Johnson presiding. He made a fair and impartial charge to the Grand Jury, which is composed of the best citizens of the county, the foreman being the Master of the State Grange.

The Judge called on the jury to deliver themselves of all passion and prejudice, and instructed them to conform strictly to law, to expel from their bosoms every feeling of hatred, malice and revenge. The fact, he remarked, that those charged with participation in this plot of insurrection are those who were lately our slaves, may influence the indignation of the whites and intensify their feeling of insecurity, but we must watch ourselves on this point.

They are free and entitled to a fair and impartial trial. The law throws over both races the same and equal protection. The jury, in its investigations, must ignore the fact that the accused are negroes; that they were ever slaves, and deal with them as if they were whites. He paid a high compliment to the coolness of the whites, and instanced the fact that not a single drop of blood had been shed.

In the trial, the State will be represented by the District Attorney, Attorney General, and others; the accused by Hon. A. T. Ackerman and several of the leading members of the local bar.

NEW YORK NOTES.

New York, Aug. 30.—The new Post Office is in full operation to-day. The removal was accomplished by Postmaster James and his assistants without delaying a single mail. All the mails from and to East, West, North and South were received and dispatched on their regular schedule time. The newspaper department under Superintendent Yeager was interrupted but five minutes in its actual business.

Postmaster General Jewell in a dispatch to Postmaster James, says: "The removal of this great office was a marvel of expedition, and congratulates the latter and the public on the increased facilities afforded for the transaction of enormous business of this office. Over 50,000 people visited the great building yesterday, and an immense crowd flocked through its corridors to-day."

The Commercial Advertiser gives currency to a rumor that over a million dollars loan on the stocks in which Jay Gould is supposed to have an interest were called in to-day and promptly met, adding that Jay Gould's brokers stole only $300,000, which had been called in on them, which were renewed on cheap terms.

The Commercial also says the calls were not made from district in the security which were in ample margin, but that the bankers lending the money have other uses for it.

CATHOLIC MATTERS.

Louisville, Aug. 31.—Within the past week considerable commotion has been created among the Catholic clergy and laity of the Diocese of Louisville, growing out of the removal by Bishop McCloskey of Rev. Father Box, pastor of St. John's Church of Louisville, and his transfer to Bowling Green, Ky., in place of Rev. Father Devries, who was ordered to Hardinsburg, Ky.

pose of representing him, and they are now on their way there. St. John's congregation made an appeal to the Bishop to rescind the order removing Father Box, but without effect.

In order to allay what threatened to become a public scandal, Bishop McCloskey concluded, although contrary to usage, to explain matters from the pulpit yesterday, defending his action and assigning as the cause of the trouble that Father Devries had refused to furnish the yearly report of the financial condition of his parish, for which he was removed to another parish.

DROWNED.

A Sad Accident on the River. From Capt. J. O. Vallette, of the steamboat Waloon, we learn the particulars of the drowning of Moses Levy, a peddler, and his wife.

On Saturday evening last, between 5 and 6 o'clock, Levy with his wife started across the river in a skiff, with a negro as oarsman, at a point between the Delacroix and Irving Plantations, about twelve miles below the city, and while on the way across and after the skiff had reached the middle of the river, the steamship City of New Orleans passed down.

The swell from the steamship caused the skiff to rock and roll considerably, and threatened to swamp it, it being heavily laden with goods, the stock of Levy.

Mrs. Levy became frightened and jumped overboard, and her husband, in his efforts to catch her, overturned the skiff.

The negro man succeeded in catching and clinging to the skiff, but Levy was swept away, and his wife and he went down together and were drowned.

The negro man floated down to the Armstrong Plantation, where he was picked up, completely exhausted and just alive. He received the best treatment and was brought to, and at last accounts was doing well.

Levy was well known on the lower coast, and was in comparatively easy circumstances. He is supposed to have had $5000 on his person at the time of his death.

At last accounts neither his body nor the body of his wife had been recovered.

ALMOST A TRAGEDY. Sunday night about half past 10 o'clock, while the festivities at the Fair Grounds were at their height, a most unfortunate affair took place between Messrs. E. D. Terreboune and Edward O. Ducros.

It appears that Mr. Terreboune was very much under the influence of liquor, and it is said, offered some indignity to a lady with whom Mr. Ducros was dancing.

The lady called the attention of her partner to the indignity. When Mr. Ducros remonstrated with Mr. Terreboune, high words ensued, when Mr. Terreboune slapped his face, and stepped back as if to draw a weapon.

Mr. Ducros, upon this, drew his six-shooter, and leveling it at his antagonist, fired the ball taking effect in his assailant's face. From the wound the blood flowed freely and trickled in a red stream on the ball room floor.

The scene was one of the greatest excitement, ladies screaming and men rushing to and fro, as if bewildered by the occurrence.

After receiving the wound Mr. Terreboune was taken from the ball-room and laid in the grounds upon the grass, and then brought into the city and conveyed to his residence, No. 30 Conti street, where Dr. Castellanos was called and pronounced the wound severe though not fatal.

At about 1 o'clock Mr. Ducros was arrested and conveyed to the Fifth Precinct Station. This gentleman appeared to be very cool, and claims that he had only vindicated the honor of the lady and defended himself; he positively refused to make any statement.

The wound received by Mr. Terreboune was quite severe, entering the mouth and running along the right jaw, crushing the bone and giving great uneasiness to the sufferer.

Mr. Ed. A. Ducros was released on bonds of $2000, at 2 o'clock P. M., Monday. Mr. Terreboune's condition is somewhat improved. A certificate was given by the physician, and Messrs. John Gray and John Llambras are Mr. Ducros's bondsmen.

THE CITY.

DETERMINATION OF SUPT. LOAN.—The Houses of ill-fame to be Regulated.—Of late the fallen women of the city have been growing bold and scandalous in their behavior and have taken up quarters on much frequented thoroughfares, where they have not been slow to insult and annoy passers-by.

Particularly has this been the case on streets through which the cars run, and the evil was becoming so great that ladies, children and gentlemen feared to pass on the boulevards or ride in the cars lest they should be insulted and abused by these women.

Supt. Loan, with a view to abating the evil so far as possible, and making it safe for respectable people to travel in the cars or otherwise, ordered a raid on last Saturday night in the First and Third Precinct, and quite a number were arrested. Supt. Loan is determined to deal with these women as to make them fear and respect the law, and conduct themselves in such a manner as not to outrage good morals and propriety. He to-day sent the following order to Capt. Lawler, commanding the Third Precinct.

"You will be required to arrest all lewd and abandoned women in your precinct found violating city ordinances, as were those whom you arrested on the night of the 28th inst., and continue to arrest all such women found so offending. Be particular to secure the arrest of all such women residing on streets through which street cars run. By order of the Superintendent: P. H. BOYLE, Secretary."

The Superintendent is determined to pursue this course so long as there is any necessity thereof. While landlords and their agents, people claiming to be respectable, continue to let their houses to women of this sort, who are notoriously vile, the best energies of the police will be taxed to control them. P. H. BOYLE, Secretary.

PRINTING OFFICE UPSET.—Some time during Sunday night the printing office of the Louisiana State Register newspaper, corner of Plum and Carrollton Avenue, was found open. Upon an investigation it was ascertained that an entrance was effected by some unknown party or parties, who ransacked the whole place, and also upset all the type and blanks that it contained. The office, the perpetrator is evidently a person well acquainted with the business. Nothing was stolen.

BROKEN ANKLE.—Between 3 and 4 o'clock Monday evening, Ann Phillips, a white woman, while crossing the street at the corner of Canal and Galvez streets, became frightened by horses coming up, and while trying to get out of the way, fell and broke her ankle. She was taken to the Charity Hospital.

TRAME MARKET.—There are great many complaints about the foul condition of the stalls in the Trame Market. The police have reported it, and the papers spoken of it until they have become weary. Who will remedy the evil?

ANOTHER RAID.—It appears to be the determination of Col. Loan to keep the abandoned women out of the city, for notwithstanding their discharge Monday morning he last night sent orders down to the Third Precinct Station for all found on the streets behaving in an indecent manner to be taken in at once. It appears that Dauphine and Burgundy streets have of late been somewhat noisy, and order is to be kept. Accordingly, at 8 1/2 o'clock last night squads were dispatched for the arrest of all violating section 528 R. S., which forbids abandoned women calling passers-by, drinking in coffee-houses or sitting on their steps.

By 11 o'clock many had been taken in, and the station yard was like some Pandemonium with the yells and execrations of the prisoners. Some in their carouse struck up wild songs, while others seemed to vent their anger on the police.

This morning the validity of that section of our criminal laws will be tested.

BRICK YARD ROW.—About 7 o'clock Monday morning a difficulty occurred in the Delachaise brick yard, on Tchoupitoulas, near Amelia street, between two men named Thomas Woody and Edward Nelson, both employed in the yard as laborers, which resulted in the former being cut with a pocket-knife by the latter, inflicting a wound on the back of the head and one in the right side.

From all that could be gleaned, it appears that Woody was throwing bricks around promiscuously and struck Nelson with one, whereupon the latter drew his knife and attacked his opponent. The wound, though severe, is pronounced not dangerous.

THE DOVES BROUGHT DOWN.—Three hundred and forty dollars enriched the treasury of the First Municipal Police Court on Monday, being the proceeds of the big raid on Saturday night upon the houses of the soiled doves. Various were the colors and classes represented, but they all pleaded guilty to the charge of violating article 528, city ordinance, about fifteen years old, was run over by a butcher cart (from information received No. 258), at the corner of Hospital and Levee streets. The boy is severely hurt in the right and left arm. He has been working on a lugger lying at the head of Hospital street. The captain took the boy in charge and furnished medical attendance. It is stated that when run over the butcher cart, was going at a furious rate, and after the boy was run over the speed was increased.

DRIVING AT A FURIOUS RATE.—At 7 o'clock Sunday morning, a new named Alfred Lendsey, about fifteen years old, was run over by a butcher cart (from information received No. 258), at the corner of Hospital and Levee streets. The boy is severely hurt in the right and left arm. He has been working on a lugger lying at the head of Hospital street. The captain took the boy in charge and furnished medical attendance. It is stated that when run over the butcher cart, was going at a furious rate, and after the boy was run over the speed was increased.

ARREST OF A BURGALAR.—Cubed Forster, a well-known negro burglar, entered the house of Emily Frost, on Willow street, near Thalia, during her absence, and stole therefrom clothing, linen, etc., valued at about $50. Forster was subsequently arrested by Officer Garlick, but none of the articles recovered. He is also charged by Lizzie Bragstone with assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to kill.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.—About 1:30 o'clock Sunday a difficulty occurred on the corner of Fourth and Lafayette streets, Gretna, between two men named Gasper Weiss and George Klempeter, in which the former was shot in the thigh and left side. Dr. Reilinger attended the wounded man, and pronounced the wound not dangerous. Klempeter was arrested and lodged in the Eighth Precinct.

BODY FOUND.—The body of Dallas Sharp, drowned last Friday while loading coal at Coyle's coal yard, was found on Saturday, opposite the coal yard, by Mr. Pierre Young. The coroner held an inquest; verdict: accidental drowning.

CHARITY PATIENTS.—Mrs. Dobb Catharine Robinson, aged fifty-five years, was sent to the Charity Hospital, having been found at the head of Poydras street in a sick and destitute condition.

HYDROPHOBIA.—About three months ago, a man named G. Aladie was bitten by a mad dog at his residence, 75 St. Peter street. On Sunday morning, at 11:30 o'clock, Aladie died of hydrophobia. Dr. Decan was in attendance.

ASSAULT WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON.—Adean Washington was arrested at the corner of Alin and Chestnut streets, charged by A. Carigoll and J. Rich with assaulting them with a dangerous weapon. Adean was locked up in the Seventh Precinct Station.

It will pay to buy your coffee, parched or ground, at the Tea Depot, 5 Camp street.
