

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.] WASHINGTON, April 17, 1890.

Editor Advertiser:

Secretary Blaine having sent for the United States minister to Brazil has been holding long conferences with him this week in order to concoct a plausible statement, which is to be made public, to account for the slowness on the part of this Government in recognizing the Republic of Brazil.

The tariff bill, which after many hitches and delays was finally reported to the House late Wednesday afternoon, is not the measure it was when first made public by a good deal.

The committee could not stand the pressures and were compelled to make many changes, among the most important of which were the placing of hides and sugar on the free list. To conciliate the sugar producers of this country a bounty of two cents a pound is provided for during the next fifteen years.

Mr. Carlisle's minority report shows that the bill increase the revenues and in strong terms punctures the hypocrisy of the whole bill; an additional minority report against the sugar clause was made by Mr. McKenna, a Republican. The majority report practically admits that the bill is a poor one, but excuses it on the ground of the necessity for "protection"; it admits also that the exact effect upon the revenues of the bill is "difficult of ascertainment," and very naively says: "It is not believed that the increase of duties upon wools and woolen goods and upon glass ware will have the effect of increasing the revenues."

If the report told the entire truth it should have added that this increase in duties will add materially to the expenses of every family in the United States that purchases woolen goods of any kind or glassware. Further on the report says: "This bill is framed in the interest of the people of the United States." To have been truthful it should have read: "This bill is framed in the interest of certain manufacturers at the expense of the people of the United States."

Thousands of people viewed the remains of the late Samuel Jackson Randall, as the body lay in state yesterday morning, previous to the funeral, in the Presbyterian church which he and his family have attended for years, and of which he became a member a few months ago. His colleagues of the House were anxious to have the funeral take place in the Hall of the House of Representatives, where Mr. Randall had gained his greatest triumphs, but his widow refused to allow it because her distinguished husband had requested that he be given only the funeral of a private citizen. Immediately after the funeral services the body was taken to his old home in Pennsylvania for interment. Already there is a movement started here by his old comrades of the Army of the Cumberland to erect a monument to his memory. He was a private in that army and should the statue erected it will be the first time that a private soldier has ever been so honored. Mr. Randall lived and died a poor man, though he had opportunities to have made millions had he chosen to take advantage of his official position as so many of our public men unfortunately have done, but he has left a heritage far more valuable than money—unimpeachable honesty, and a name that will forever shine in the pages of history among the brightest galaxy of the statesmen of his time.

The edict has gone out from Czar Reed that legislation is to be railroaded through the House from this time on, in order to adjourn by the first of July, and the Republicans began this week by passing the Naval appropriation bill, and the bill to reorganize the U. S. district courts and appoint seventeen new judges. So outrageous was the haste to pass the latter that the Democrats refused to vote, but the Speaker counted a quorum and announced the passage of the bill. The Democrats are helpless now against these usurpations, but they will appeal to the people next November.

The Republicans are still wrestling with the silver problem, and a joint committee of the House and Senate is trying to form a bill that will meet the approval of a caucus of their party. The Republicans of the U. S. Supreme Court have affirmed the decision of the U. S. Circuit court which released Neagle, the U. S. deputy marshal who was arrested by the California authorities last summer for killing Judge Terry, Chief Justice Fuller and Justice Lamar dissented; it was too great a stretch of Federal authority for them.

The Senate by a vote of 36 to 26 legalized the grabbing of two seats by the Republicans of Montana.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequalled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. LaFever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. It promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

PHENOMENAL.

[Smith, Gray & Co.'s Monthly.] "Hallo! Been fishing? Fine day for fishing, ain't it?"

"Queer day on the water, though; smooth and calm, and, at the same time, as rough as blazes."

"What, what! Impossible!"

"Impossible, hey? Water was so smooth you could pick pin-holes in it, and they'd stay there. That's plain, ain't it? Well we fished seven hours and didn't get a bite; wasn't that rough?"

BROUSSARD P. O., La., May 22, 1888. Mr. F. Gouaux, Houma, La.:

Dear Sir—I have been suffering for some time with ring-worm on one foot. Tried several preparations but to no satisfaction until I used your "Ringworm Ointment and Solution" which quickly cured me. I can recommend them as the best preparations I ever used.

Yours truly, O. BROUSSARD. "Men give me some credit for genius. All the genius I have lies in this: When I have a subject in hand, I study it profoundly. Day and night it is before me. I explore it in all its bearings. My mind becomes pervaded with it. Then the effort which I make the people are pleased to call the fruit of genius. It is the fruit of labor and thought."—Alexander Hamilton.
