MICHEL MEETING

Extracts From Editorial Comment of City Papers on Big Rally Tuesday Night.

The Michel meeting at the Athenaeum on Tuesday evening was large and, as we predicted, and as its managers arranged, overflowed, so that speaking went on both inside and outside the hall. Probably 8,000 people attended. All the well-known artifices of the local organization were called into play to make a demonstration, and the weather being exceptionally propitious, they succeeded in their efforts, the obvious intent of which was to make the country people believe that Mr. Michel is to get an abnormal majority here.—N. O. States.

Did you notice the conspicuous absence of the real beneficiaries of Ring rule from the platform of Michel's Ring meeting in the Athenaeum—the ward bosses? It was a concession to good taste not to let any boss except Michel himself address the people, but was it not a confession that the Ring knows its men and methods are unsavory and unpopular?—N. O. Item.

No one has ever disputed the ability of the ring to hold a big political meeting or give a big political display of this kind. When it is remembered that it has several thousand men who hold office, and who have made politics a profession, it would be strange indeed if it did not make a fine showing in its special field. A mere order to all city employees to be on hand at such and such a place to endorse its candidates would furnish an audience too big for any hall in this city, enough indeed to make a half dozen overflow meetings.—Times Democrat.

The vast concourse of its citizens who turned out last night to greet John T. Michel at the opening of his gubernatorial candidacy in this city demonstrated beyond any contention two facts.

These were, first, the immense solidity of public sentiment in New Orleans in support of Mr. Michel, and, secondly, the absolute need in this city for a vast auditorium, where ten thousand to twenty thousand people can assemble in comfort for any grand purpose of business or pleasure.

Never was an assemblage more enthusiastic in its outbursts of applause, and never was so vast a concourse of citizens more orderly and quiet as they listened to the various speakers. The great body of auditors in the big hall listened with extreme interest and attention until the exercises closed at nearly midnight, showing how much and how deep the sympathy felt and the encouragement vouchsafed so admirable a citizen, who had been so vilely slandered by his envious and jealous political foes.—Picayune.

The Michel rally at the Athenaeum in New Orleans, Tuesday night proved to be the largest political gathering in the city in years. Had it been otherwise it would have been strange, for it was "up to" the ring to make a big show in Michel's home, as a matter of self defense, to counteract the effect of the big Hall meeting recently, and the resourceful ring was equal to the occasion. But for all that New Orleans will give Hall the necessary vote to make him governor.

The State Board of Education met at Baton Rouge Monday and adopted rules and regulations for the agricultural schools. The members present were: T. H. Harris, State Superintendent of Education; A. Britton, New Orleans; George Montgomery, New Orleans; S. L. LeBlanc, Napoleonville; E. L. Kidd, Ruston; S. T. Woodring, Lake Charles.

As a result of the attitude of Chinese importers, owing to the effects of the revolutionary movement now in full swing in that country, December cotton contracts were lowered in New Orleans Wednesday to 9.02.

Doctor Aswell "got off" this at a meeting in the Tenth Ward, New Orleans, the other night: "I was just getting ready to leave a little town of some 400 inhabitants the other day and a man came to me and said: 'Doctor, do you want to see a curiosity?' I said 'yes,' and he took me over to a man and said, 'Here he is, doctor; he's the only Michel man we've seen around here.'" I turned to this man and asked him, 'Can you give me a single reason why Michel should be elected—just one reason—just one? Don't you know his election will mean a continuation of Sandersism and all its evils?' 'Oh, that's all right, doctor,' he said, 'but if he is elected I'll get a job and members of my family will get jobs.' " Of course, the crowd laughed.

Reporting the overflow meetings at the Michel rally in New Orleans Tuesday night the Item has this spicy note of one:

Colonel John P. Sullivan, the main and largest figure in the wagon out in the open lot, declared that liquor and liquor law had no place in this campaign. There were some evidences of liquor in his hearers, however. After putting liquor outside the issues, Colonel John P. pictured Judge Luther E. Hall as a rabid prohibitionist, fanatical, determined and aggressive, hot as molten iron in a mad desire to dry the whole state and himself as dry as fire. The crowd groaned in sympathy with John, but one man said: "I see the Judge lapping it up at the bar same as you and me."

Pressed for specifications, dates and places, the speaker declared to a reporter that he saw Judge Hall treat a crowd of lawyers to a drink in the St. Charles hotel.

The N. O. States has propounded and continues to propound some very embarrassing questions to Mr. Michel as to his White Lake transaction. Yesterday the States commenting on the big rally said:

The most striking feature of Mr. Michel's meeting at the Athenaeum on Tuesday evening was the complete elimination from the candidate's address of any reference to his White Lake transaction. Whatever references were made to it by those who spoke in his behalf ignored entirely the grave charges which have been laid against him, and which, if uncontradicted, leave Mr. Michel stripped of the qualifications demanded of a Governor of Louisiana.

Williams' violet and carnation Talcum powder has a fine combination of talcum and boric acid, which makes it a very soothing powder. Our price, 15 cents a can or 2 for 25 cents. Moss Pharmacy.

Maine "Dry" Again.
After some months of uncertainty, during which conflicting reports gave over apparent victories, it seems that Maine's voters retained the constitutional provision for prohibition. Gov. Plaisted and his council decided last Monday to accept the corrections filed by divers election clerks. In consequence, the majority of 26 for repeal was reversed, and it is announced that the State, by a majority of 758, retained constitutional prohibition.

For general use Moss' borated talcum powder, in pound cans, is very satisfactory, being refreshing and antiseptic. We guarantee it to be a pure powder, 25 cents a can. Moss Pharmacy.

Producers' Co. to Bore at Pin Hook.

The Producers' Company has secured a small lease at Pin Hook, we are informed by President Alcibiades Broussard of the Lafayette-Crowley Oil Company, next to his company's holdings, and they expect to begin operations in a few weeks as well as will his company. He stated also that the Texas Company has bought the mineral rights on four acres in the same locality for $500 cash and offered $500 for an acre next to the Lafayette-Crowley Oil Co.'s land.

There are excellent indications of oil at Pin Hook and the entrance of these two companies indicates an early development of the field.

STATE PRESS COMMENT.

While Gen. Guion does not undertake to guarantee it will not be upset by the courts, if anyone should decide to make a test of the matter, his opinion that the State Central Committee possessed the legal authority to postpone the second primary will be generally accepted as founded in common sense. It at least makes it certain that we are not to have inflicted on us the unspeakable calamity of a Mardi Gras election, and that, after all, was the vital consideration. New Orleans States.

To boom stocks and sell them to the public is but one part of Wall Street's game; the other part consists in creating a panic, in which the public may be forced to disgorge the stocks distributed during the boom. A beautiful game—for the insiders.—Times Democrat

"Rice does not need a tariff," according to Governor Sanders. Neither does the hapless snowdigger in Wisconsin need clothes this winter.—Crowley Signal.

The esteemed New Orleans Picayune refers to the Hon. John Treadlightly Michel as "the regular democratic candidate." There won't be any "regular" democratic candidate until after the second primary is held—and John Treadlightly will not be that man.—Shreveport Journal.

Franklin Watchman says that something sensational may be expected in a few days when suit is filed in that parish to set aside the sale of White Lake to John T. Michel. If there are any more sensations in the case than New Orleans Daily States has sprung, we judge that Mr. Michel is not anxious for them.—Lake Charles American Press.

Governor Sanders is running against two experienced campaigners and his platform of 1908 this time. Four years ago he and his magnificent platform was opposed only by a sugar planter.—Coffax Chronicle.

As a result of the mudlin sentiment that has practically banished corporal punishment from the public schools, a twelve year old boy was hauled before the juvenile court of Lake Charles a few days ago on the charge of destruction of public property. The heinous crime committed by this youngster, who hitherto had borne a good reputation, was no less than the bending of some rods in the gymnasium apparatus, damaging them to the extent of seventy-five cents, and yet for this small offense this boy, as well as his parents, friends and neighbors were compelled to go before the court, when the entire matter ought to have been settled by the teacher by a reprimand or if necessary by the application of a good switch. Verily the wise man of old knew whereof he spoke when he said "Spare the rod and spoil the child."—Weish Journal

Meat and Cancer.

In view of the fact that meat, and especially fresh meat is comparatively very cheap in Australia and in consequence its use probably very much more general than in any other country, it may be interesting on account of meat being frequently associated with cancer to note the incidence of this disease.

In 1908 the total number of deaths reported in the Commonwealth was 46,425. Of this number 2,921, or 6.29 per cent, were due to cancer. If the population is estimated at 4,500,000 the incidence would be one death per annum in every 1,540 of the population. This rate is very much lower than that of the United States. Great Britain or Germany.—Medical Record

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

Massachusetts, Kentucky, Mississippi Democratic, Maryland and New Mexico in Doubt, Rhode Island Republican.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Elections held yesterday in many states and cities throughout the country resulted in the election of democratic governors in Massachusetts, Kentucky and Mississippi, a republican assembly in New York, which will challenge the continuance of Governor Dix's policy, a New Jersey legislature, with majorities probably not in accord with Governor Woodrow Wilson of that state, with results of state elections in Maryland and New Mexico still in doubt.

In Massachusetts, Governor Foss, democrat, was elected by a reduced plurality of about 8,000, over Louis Frothington, republican. The contest was unexpectedly close. The republican candidate for lieutenant governor, was elected by 7,000 majority and other republican state candidates probably were elected.

In Rhode Island, Governor Pothier, republican, is re-elected over Louis A. Waterman, democrat, by a generally increased plurality. The state senate is solid and the assembly largely republican.

New York state furnished one of the chief surprises, reversing the present democratic majority of 24 in the state assembly and electing a republican majority of 50 or upwards.

The change removes the united support which both branches of the legislature, heretofore has given to Gov. Dix's policies. In New York city Tammany's control was shaken but not overcome, Tammany candidates in Manhattan and the Bronx being elected, while those in Brooklyn and Queens county were defeated by fusion candidates.

New Jersey similarly furnished a surprise by the probable removal of control of the legislature, the returns at midnight indicating republican majorities in the senate and assembly.

In Kentucky, Jas. B. McCreary, a democrat, was elected governor by a majority estimated at 20,000 to 40,000. A democratic legislature also was elected, which insures the selection of Congressman James as United States senator from Kentucky.

Mississippi elected a democratic governor and state officials by a decisive majority.

Returns up to midnight from Maryland were inconclusive. Claims were made of the election of Philip Lee Goldsborough, republican candidate for governor, by 50,000, over Arthur P. Gorman, while counter democratic claims of success were made. The constitutional amendment designed to disfranchise negro voters probably was defeated.

The Ohio municipal elections resulted in the election of democratic mayors in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus. President Taft cast his vote at Cincinnati.

In New Mexico, the democratic state committee claims the election of McDonnold as governor by 4,000 in the first election the new state has held. The result is in doubt. The election of a republican legislature is indicated which will mean the election of two republican United States senators.

Marked Socialist strength has developed at various points, notably in several of the municipal contests of Ohio, where eight cities elected Socialist mayors, also Schenectady, N. Y., where a Socialist mayor and a Socialist member of the State Assembly were elected and in Mississippi, where the Socialist candidate for Lieutenant Governor polled a considerable vote.
