BOOKS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS FREE

Senator Ransdell writes us the following letter which is self-explanatory:

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9, 1913.

Lafayette Advertiser:

In the list of publications furnished me for free distribution by the Government, there are three books of special interest to farmers. The Agricultural Yearbook, Diseases of the Horse, and Diseases of Cattle. They are all nicely bound and handsomely illustrated. I have about a thousand copies each of the Yearbook for 1910, 1911, and 1912, but only a few hundred copies of the Horse and Cattle books. As long as the supply of these publications lasts I shall be glad to send a copy each to anyone interested in agriculture, who will request me.

Thanking you to publish this letter as a news item for the benefit of your farmer subscribers, believe me, Very sincerely yours,
 JOS. E. RANDELL.

The place will be fitted up and a competent lady put in charge as matron. The rest rooms are for the convenience and use of out of town lady visitors while in the city, and the matron will do all she can to make them comfortable.

The Chamber is considering also erecting hitching posts, feed racks, and shelters on the city lot on Vermilion if permission can be obtained from the Council.
