His friends here wish him good luck.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Monday, Jan. 26, at the High School. Everybody is cordially invited to come and enjoy the musical program arranged for the occasion.

Miss Lizzie Durio, chief operator of the Cumberland Telephone Co., returned to Lafayette Monday after an absence of several days, spent in Opelousas, where she went on account of the serious illness of her father, Mr. Armas Durio, who died Thursday, Jan. 15, at the age of 46 years. Mr. Durio was buried Friday at 3:30 p. m. He was married twice. He leaves nine children, four by his first wife, and five by his second, who was Miss May Phillips of this city, who survives him. Miss Bessie Durio returned with her sister and expects to move here shortly with the family.

Mrs. A. M. Liscomb and children will leave Sunday for Jennings, where they will spend a day with friends and then go on to Oil City, above Shreveport, to join Mr. Liscomb, who has opened a restaurant there and is doing well. Mr. Liscomb and family made quite a number of friends during the short time they have lived here who wish them much success in their new home.

Deserves the Title.

I feel impelled to make a pleasing criticism and I take this means of expressing it, voicing the sentiments of many. There is one who lately has come among us to reside, Mrs. Anna G. Miller, whose work we are noticing with pride and pleasure. Some of her pupils we have heard whose singing does her great credit.

Mrs. Miller's singing needs hardly a comment from me. Many of us have heard her beautiful, perfectly controlled voice, which has justly won for her the title of "The Nightingale of the Teche," and those of us who heard her exquisite rendition of "Sing, Smile, Slumber," on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 11, at the Forum, know she deserves the title.

Mrs. Miller is very successful in voice building and training and we note her work here is growing and bearing fruit under her able cultivation.

We wish for her continued success. CHAS. O. MOUTON.

Society.

Woman's Club.

The Woman's Club met on the 17th with Mrs. Middlemas as hostess. In the business meeting it was decided that in the future the annual election of officers will be held in May instead of in March, as it has been heretofore.

The ways and means committee reported that over fifteen dollars had been raised at the benefit given at the "Royal" for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund.

The literary program consisted in most interesting talks by Mrs. Davis and Miss Dupre. The subjects of the first talk were Geographical and Historical. Those of the second were Biographical and Political.

The literary program completed, the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. Richardson, served delicious refreshments which added much to the pleasure of the afternoon in her home.

A Surprise Party.

On Jan. 16, a surprise party was given at Mr. F. V. Landry's in honor of his son, Ledia's birthday. Many interesting games were played and then refreshments and delicious cakes were served to the following: Misses Edith and Emiret Broussard, Cora Beadle, Rosa, Lorna and Ada Landry, Avola, Louisa Gallat, Messrs. Edie Broussard, Ronual and Ledia Landry, Laodise Bourque and Felix Gallat.

A Picnic.

Saturday, Jan. 17 a most delightful picnic was given in Mr. Picard's woods in Vermilion parish. A beautiful place on the banks of Vermilion bayou was selected where the crowd would play games and eat a very fine dinner. After dinner delicious cakes and fruits were served, after which games were enjoyed by the following: Misses Agnes Duplantis, Cora and Aline Comeaux, Rose Lorna and Ada Landry, Cora and Beulah Beadle Edith and Emiret Broussard, Messrs. Romual and Ledia Landry, Eddie Broussard, Rilluis and Julius Duplantis, Ambrose Comeaux, Eddie Picard.

The Stage

The many friends and admirers of W. B. Patton will be interested to learn that the Peculiar Comedian will visit the Jefferson next Sunday, Jan. 25 in his play "Lazy Bill", which is conceded by dramatic critics to be his masterpiece.

As is the case with most artists, Mr. Patton started at the bottom rung and has played a wide range of parts.

He is gifted with a personality that few comedians possess and his delightful portrayal of Dr. Hale in "Lazy Bill" is the crowning event of his starring career. To his charms of person and quaintness of manner, and a voice which no one has ever heard could forget, it is impossible to fittingly describe the peculiar effect that lies in his acting. There is a magnetism about him, refreshing in its cleanliness and simplicity. The part of Dr. Hale in "Lazy Bill" is a quaint and peculiar type which becomes alive with wit and humor, with an occasional touch of pathos, and no one need be ashamed of the tears that will force themselves at times during the action of the play. Great care has been taken in selecting the members for the cast. Some of the old members of Mr. Patton's company who have been with him for many seasons will also be seen again to advantage.

Needless to say the entire production of "Lazy Bill" will bear the stamp of excellence which has given W. B. Patton an enviable following over the territory he has annually played during the past ten years.

Nature's Adjustment.

In the case of all fish which take care of their young, a curious adaptation of natural law to circumstances is found. Those which take the greatest pains and care in sheltering their offspring have the fewest eggs, perhaps less than one hundred at a lay, while on the other hand, species of fish which pay not the slightest attention to their young produce hundreds of thousands, and even millions of eggs, at a single lay.

Heredity and Insanity.

Heredity accounts for about fifty per cent. of the cases of insanity. This is encouraging. It shows that the shocks and conditions of modern life do not make people insane; the strenuous life merely brings out the insanity that is latent in some persons as a result of heredity. A normal person cannot be driven insane by any of the conditions of modern life.

Guard the Lips and Pen.

Speech is the chief revelation of the mind, the first visible form that it takes. As the thought, so the speech. To better one's life in the way of simplicity, one must set a watch on his lips and his pen. Let the word be as genuine as the thought, as artless, as valid; think justly, speak frankly.—Charles Wagner.

Not Required to Kiss Bible.

The president of the United States is not required to kiss the Bible on taking the oath of office. The custom grew out of the fact that an early law of Maryland made that ceremony part of a legal oath, and the custom was continued in the District of Columbia, but it is not essential, nor is any particular form of oath. Jews are sworn on the Pentateuch, keep on their hats and conclude their oath with "so help me Jehovah," and if a Jew were elected president he would be permitted to take the oath of office in that form.

Famous Authors Once Sailors.

Perhaps the most celebrated authors who started life as sailors are Fenimore Cooper, the famous author of the "Last of the Mohicans," Clark Russell, the author of "Alone on the Wide, Wide Sea," and Frank Bullen, the author of "The Cruise of the Cachalot." This trio has made excellent use of the seafaring lore which only experience can give in the long list of works for which they are responsible.

Queer Refuge for Hunted Stag.

Pursued by hounds a stag bounded in through the open French windows of the Y. M. C. A. buildings at Ashbourne House, Epsom, England, and took refuge in the larder, which measures eight feet by six. The huntsman and whips quickly came up and, securing the stag with ropes, placed it in some stables, from which it was removed shortly afterwards.

Book Windows.

Books are the windows through which the soul looks out. A home without books is like a room without windows. No man has a right to bring up his children without surrounding them with books, if he has the means to buy them. It is a wrong to his family. He cheats them! The love of knowledge comes with reading, and grows upon it. And the love of knowledge, in a young mind, is almost a warrant against the inferior excitement of passions and vices.—Henry Ward Beecher.
