French Idea of Lusitania Memorial

A unique monument, the creation of the French sculptor, Georges Du Bois, to be erected in mid-ocean on the site of the sinking of the Lusitania, is France's suggestion for a permanent memorial to commemorate the most inglorious act her child adrift on a raft, is to be placed over the exact spot where the great passenger vessel was torpedoed and sunk by the Germans. The sea at this point off the Irish coast is 120 feet deep and it is planned to support the monument on a raft secured by cables to the bottom. Wires connected with the shore would enable its illumination at night, making it a beacon for mariners.

BODY OF POPE LAID TO REST

Burial at St. Peters. Ceremony Was Most Impressive.

Rome.-Beneath the flagstones of St. Peters, where thousands of pilgrims come each year, lies the mortal remains of Benedict XV, whose benignant efforts through all the years of the war were directed toward peace and after the war to the pacification of Europe and the world.

The burial ceremony took place at 3 o'clock Thursday, and in the light of the perpetually burning tapers the body was lovered into its tomb. Those cardinals who had gathered in Rome for the conclave which is to elect a new pope assembled in the basilica of St. Peters, together with the diplomatic representatives of the foreign nations accredited to the holy see. Outside the edifice great crowds knelt in prayer and waited for the end of the solemn ceremonial.

The notes of the "Miserere" swelling through the vast basilica, the martial step and clang of swords of the pontifical armed forces, the flowing robes of prelates, rich violet blending with the striking costumes of the Swiss Guards, the gendarmerie and the Noble Guards, and contrasting with the simple black of the diplomatic corps, combined to give a picturesque impressiveness to the high pontifical rite of burial.

The choir proceeded from Julian Chapel on the south side of St. Peters, across the transept to the chapel of the Holy Sacrament, where the body of the late pope lay in state. Bishop Viriti, celebrant of the ceremony, followed the choir and at the end of the procession came Cardinal Merry Del Val, archpriest of St. Peters.

Two lines of guards were drawn up from the chapel of the Holy Sacrament to the high pontifical altar. Swiss Guards in full dress uniform, with quaint medieval helmets and flowing plumes, guarded the entrance to the chapel of the choir. Gendarmes six feet tall, with lace and silver epaulets, stood watch at the entrance of the basilica while the long lines between the two chapels were taken up by the Palatine Guards in blue and cerise.

The cardinals entered the basilica through the Julian door and took their places in the chapel choir seated in the high stalls on the left, while the diplomats occupied the right. As Cardinal Gasparri entered, escorted by Swiss Guards and acolytes, he was honored as sovereign because of his accession as camerlengo. He appeared to be deeply moved.

SPASMODIC CROUP UNDER CONTROL

Remedy Is Very Simple. Relief Is Positive.

Croup has lost its terrors in thousands of homes. No more frantic calls to hurry the doctor, who is coming as fast as the law allows. No more tense moments of anxious waiting. No more gasping and strangling little children, whose sufferings seemed almost beyond belief.

When the choking sob wakens father and mother, they may phone the doctor, but they are also telling him that they are using Nash's Croup-Paeumonia Salve and he knows things are going to turn out nicely.

First apply a little of the salve up each nostril with finger. This clears the nasal passages, at once. Next place hot wet cloths on the little fellow's chest and back. After three minutes remove and quickly rub salve on thickly.

A miraculous change will come; he will breathe easier and easier. Now cover chest and back with warm white flannels; a quiet, comforting sleep will come. Form beddothes around chin so that vapors will be inhaled and all's well. The doctor will be pleased; doctors know Nash's Salve.
