reasonably low prices. L. ROSENFIELD.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE GRAY JACKETS.

And How they Lived, Fought and Died for Dixie.

—WITH—

Incidents and Sketches of Life in the Confederacy.

Comprising Narratives of Personal Adventure,

Army Life, Naval Adventure, Home Life,

Partisan Daring, Life in the Camp, Field and Hospital, together with Songs,

Ballads, Anecdotes and Humorous Incidents of the War for Southern

Independence.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embodied in romance or poetry, which is a very real part of it, and will if preserved convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than any dry reports or careful narrative of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war. This illustrates the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pack of our heroes, the romance and hardship of the service.

The Valiant and Brave Hearted the Pictureque and Dramatic, the witty and "arvelous," the Tender and Pathetic and the whole Panorama of the War are here thrillingly portrayed in a masterly manner, at once historical and romantic, rendering it the most ample, unique, brilliant and readable book that the war has called forth.

Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit, and authentic history, are skillfully interwoven in this work of literary art.

description of the work. Address,
