We Now Present the Overcoats of the Season The Klavicle and the Balmacaan

With the approach of the skirmish line of Winter, in self defense men's thoughts are turning overcoatward.

For Those Who Prefer a Loose, Draping Garment—a garment that is a distinction as well as a necessity—there can be but two answers this season to this overcoat question — THE KLAVICLE or THE BALMACAAN.

In all the years of our clothing experience it has never been our privilege to see anything that even approached it as a fashion achievement. In fact, we doubt whether there is another overcoat that can seriously dispute this Kuppenheimer production's title to absolute superiority—in point of style, comfort, and service.

Cut with all the drape and swing of a soldier's cape. Full military back and sleeves, all from one piece of cloth but without a seam. Padless shoulders, some with wide velvet collar. Full soft roll lapel. Genuine natural buffalo horn or leather buttons.

Within the impregnable defense of this sturdy-fabricked, brilliantly styled garment the wearer may face a long Winter's siege with an even and tranquil mind.

To-morrow and all next week we will make a special showing of the Klavicle and the Balmacaan coats in the Foreign, as well as in the most favored American weaves at

FIREMEN HONOR KUNKEL

Dozen Companies and Bands Pay Respects to Non-Partisan Candidate for Supreme Bench

Judge George Kunkel, whose candidacy for judge of the Supreme Court is being furthered by his many friends throughout the State, yesterday was honored with visits at his home, Front and Liberty streets, from at least a dozen companies of visiting firemen and as many bands.

The firemen, accompanied by the bands, filed up Front street immediately preceding the parade formation and as they approached the Judge's home, they extended a salute by baring their heads.

To each company the Judge made a short address, confining his remarks to the firemen and their work. He congratulated the laddies for the interest they have taken in their work as firemen and also for their hearty co-operation in bringing to Harrisburg a pageant which afterward proved to be the most brilliant the city has ever witnessed.

Before departing the fire laddies would send up cheers for the Judge, and many, despite the fact that he had made no reference to his candidacy, assured him that his election to the State Supreme bench is certain.

Among the fire companies that visited the Judge were the following: Marion, of Reading; Fame, of Lewisstown; Susquehanna, of Lewistown, and Dallastown company, of York county, all guests of the Paxton Steam Fire Engine Company; Wrightsville No. 1, of Wrightsville; Renovo, Treverton and Liberty No. 1, of Lebanon, guests of the Susquehanna Steam Fire Engine Company; William Penn and Darby Patrol, of Philadelphia, and Sinking Springs, of Sinking Springs, guests of the Washington Hose and Chemical Company.

Ray Love, of Mechanicsburg, Suffers Injury in Lock Haven That May Cost His Life

(Special to the Star-Independent.)
Lock Haven, Pa., Oct. 9.—Ray Love, 19 years old, a Mechanicsburg boy, was hurt so badly that he may not recover when he was thrown from a horse here at 1 o'clock this morning.

In the fall his head struck the street curb and he suffered a fracture of the skull. His condition is alarming and the hospital authorities hold out little hope for his recovery.

The young man is a son of Mrs. Mary Love, East Portland street, Mechanicsburg, who has been informed of his condition and urged to come to his bedside. For some time Love had been employed at a local brickyard.

The accident occurred while he was riding a horse belonging to a member of Troop K of cavalry. The hospital attendants were informed that Love and others were exercising several horses when the one the Mechanicsburg lad was riding reared and threw him to the ground.

WOMAN SEEKS A PARDON

Florence Wilson Says She is Innocent of Crime for Which She was Jailed

Florence Wilson, who at last January sessions of the Dauphin county court was convicted of keeping a bawdy house in Harrisburg and sentenced by the Court to serve a term of from three to five years in the Eastern penitentiary, wants a pardon, and she has applied to the Board of Pardons for a recommendation for executive clemency. The woman's attorney is William L. Looser.

In her petition she says that there was no direct testimony convicting her of the crime with which she was charged, and that her conviction was due entirely to hooking up her name with that of a crook who had served seventeen years in various prisons. She says that this man induced her to come to Harrisburg to engage in business and, believing him to be an honorable man, she came, but before she was here long he was arrested for pandering and his alleged victims were found in her house, although she was perfectly innocent of what he was doing.

At all events, the woman was held
