ASSOCIATED CHARITIES COMMITTEE REPORTED

Not Much Relief Was Asked for by Poor of Borough During September—Cases Relieved by Securing Applicants Employment

The committee in charge of the work of the local Associated Charities reported last night that it has received but few requests for help from the poor of the borough during the last month. Requests for help so far have been mostly from families whose provider has been incapacitated through sickness. Several families in this circumstance are being helped through the Associated Charities. There have been several applications for work and some cases have been relieved through obtaining employment.

As he leaves the room he lights a cigarette and carelessly throws the match away. It lights in some straw and sets the house on fire. Hicks starts to put the fire out, but gets an idea and walks out, leaving Pauline to her fate. The continuation of this interesting narrative is beautifully told in motion pictures at the Standard Theatre to-night.

"EVERYWOMAN" IS PLAYED WITH EXCEPTIONAL SKILL

Rare Acting, Rich Scenery, Costly Equipment and Clever Structure of Allegorical Play Make It Appeal Strongly to Audiences

There ought to be more plays of the calibre of "Everywoman," presented with rare art at the Majestic yesterday afternoon and evening before audiences the sizes of which must have been gratifying to the managers. "Everywoman, Her Pilgrimage in the Quest of Love," is an allegorical play with a moral. It differs in a thousand and one ways from many plays now on the stage which are crude or low exaggerations of the worst things in life, put on under the excuse that they teach a lesson, but which, as a fact, are intended to appeal to the baser instincts of the people to swell box office receipts.

"Everywoman" preaches a sermon, but it is not the kind of a sermon that tempts you to doze off after the first five minutes. The moral lesson that it teaches is weaved into a fabric in which other ingredients are humor, opportunities for strong but not overdrawn dramatic acting, gaiety and good music. The scenery and scenic effects are beautiful and wonderfully rich in every detail. Typical of the complete equipment of the show is the fact that in its own orchestra which the company carries there is an organ.

The company is the most capable one that has played in the Majestic this season, without a doubt. Miss Edna Porter, who took the part of "Everywoman" at the night performance, is excellently qualified for the role and the transformation of her facial appearance during the action of the play, as she successively is forsaken by "Modesty," "Beauty" and "Youth," constitutes a remarkable display of the actress' art. Miss Norma Hark, as "Conscience," the handmaiden to "Everywoman," has a wonderfully sweet voice and her singing adds much to the charm of the play. The best acting, aside from that of Miss Porter, is done by Elmer Grandin, as "Nobody." The two most striking scenes are a reproduction of Broadway during a New Year's Eve celebration and a gay dinner scene after the theatre in "Everywoman's" apartment.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers—Meat Forms Uric Acid

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Adv.

NUTSHELL ENGLISH COURSES

Instruction Is Provided in One Enlightening Book—A Dictionary for Home Study

Home study has been discussed and advertised extensively during the past few years. Various methods and means have been introduced, but the Star-Independent believes that the best self-secured education obtainable in the English language and general information upon a most economical basis is offered in the New Modern English Illustrated Dictionary. The Star-Independent offers you in one volume, bound between handsome leather covers, a complete education in the English language, an abundant opportunity of increasing your vocabulary, studying simplified spelling, and much other useful information, for one certificate clipped from this paper and a small bonus.

Commercially speaking, the purchase of this leather-bound volume means that you are getting $4 for 98 cents, but generally speaking, it is impossible to estimate the value of such a course of at-your-elbow education may be to you. Not hundreds but thousands of stenographers and clerks have determined to get out of the poorly paid class in which they have been placed by their ignorance and are using the dictionary route. Those who are climbing high each day are using the New Modern English Dictionaries as the stepping stones of their progress.

The Big Little Book is always at the elbow of those anxious and willing to learn. There can be but one result of the awakening of those who by sloth and misunderstanding had lost the approval of their employers. If you doubt the truth of the inter-posed awakened in the dictionary come to the Dictionary Department and be convinced. Get a Dictionary. Adv.

ONE DIES IN FIRE; MANY TAKES LEAP

The grandfather occupied another bed in the same room, which was on the top floor of a two-story house close to an open window. Speaking of his efforts to arouse his grandfather, Unger said:

"When I got awake the smoke was almost suffocating and everybody was yelling outside the house. I tried to dress and then I thought of grandfather. Calling to Joe to help me, we went to his bed and, while I shook him, Joe punched him with his little fists, but we could not get him to answer. In a short time the flames were reaching in the open window and almost licked our faces, so I told Joe to go out on the front porch while I went downstairs to get my shoes. 'Hardly had I got into the room at the foot of the stairs when the smoke got so thick that I could not see and had to feel my way to the front door, which I reached safely and got out.' Young Schram escaped the flames by jumping from the porch roof to the street.

General Alarm Is Sounded

The first alarm was sounded at 1:39 o'clock and six minutes later a general alarm followed. When the firemen reached the scene the rear of the four dwellings were blazing fiercely, the flames ascending to a height of 50 feet, while the strong breeze carried large sparks two squares away to Front street.

By using six streams for two hours and a careful disposition of his men, Fire Chief Shupp confined the flames to the building which were on fire when the apparatus arrived. By 2:50 o'clock this morning the blaze was under control, but firemen were detailed to remain on the spot and kept the debris drenched with water to prevent a second outbreak. This squad was on duty at 10 o'clock this morning.

Frank Tormasi occupied 338 Mohr street as a residence and stored 600 baskets of grapes in the cellar. He also had three barrels of wine in the same place. The grapes were totally lost and two of the three barrels of wine were destroyed. His entire stock of groceries, household goods, five hogs and a large number of chickens and pigeons were lost.

Frank Huvick occupied 338 Mohr street, while Henry Unger and Adam Wagner lived in 330 and 332 respectively. It was at the Unger home where Henry Arnt resided, he being the father of Mrs. Unger.

Body Dropped Into Cellar

The body of Arnt was not recovered until the morning, about 6 o'clock, when the flames had been subdued sufficiently to permit a search of the cellar to be made. When found the body was lying on the springs of the bed which Arnt had occupied in the second floor and which, with mattress, formed his funeral pyre. The body was burned almost beyond recognition, the lower limbs being missing.

Firemen carried the body into a front room and laid it gently on a couch, the only piece of furniture left in the dwelling, from which place the body subsequently was removed to Wilt's undertaking establishment where it was prepared for burial. Funeral services for the unfortunate man will be held at Wilt's chapel, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. C. E. Tiemann, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, will officiate and interment will be made in Baldwin cemetery.

A boarder at the Unger home, when awakened by the fire, jumped out of bed and reached for his trousers, which he had left on a chair, but the smoke was so blinding that he could not locate the chair. He then slipped on a pair of shoes and tumbled into his underwear, hastily made his exit by way of the front porch room. In one of his trouser pockets he had $125 which was consumed.

The exact amount of insurance on the properties and contents could not be ascertained to-day but it is known that about $5,000 was carried of which Wagner had $2,800 and Unger had $1,500. The rest was carried by the other owners.

Coroner Charges Negligence

Coroner Estinger made an investigation this morning of the causes leading to the death of Arnt, and after hearing a number of witnesses, made the following statement:

"I consider the death of the aged man as gross negligence on the part of the other inmates of the Unger home, there being five men in the place when the fire broke out."

Fire Chief Shupp, earlier in the morning, stated that the fire spread with great rapidity and that when the firemen reached the scene flames had already eaten into the rear of the second house, which was occupied by the aged man and the Unger family.

FRANK A. SMITH WEILDS BRUSH AT FOOD EXHIBIT

Manufacturers Have Beautiful Display So Business Office Had to Be Paupered and He Went to Work—2,000 Saw Show on Opening Night

The thousands of visitors who will attend the second annual pure food exhibition this evening are cautioned not to go to near the rail about the private office on the floor of the exhibit, behind which Frank A. Smith, of the Harrisburg Brokerage Company, holds forth as manager of the show. This morning Frank donned a pair of overalls and wielded a paintbrush and made bright the immediate office surroundings.

Frank was not exactly jealous of the exhibitors but he is not going to be outdone by the manufacturers. He probably will not look like a working man this evening but take it from the early morning visitors he is some painter even if he did have the janitor clean a bit of it off the floor after the job was completed.

The show is going to be some success, for after last night when the crowd approximated 2,000, two more exhibitors engaged space in the show for next year. Two policemen and a fireman patrolled the exhibit space, but they did not push the crowd out into the night as soon as they were through getting samples, being tolerant they allowed them to take a seat and listen to the music by the Upegrove orchestra.

The crowd saw biscuits baking in an electric oven at the Occident booth, candy being dipped in chocolate at the "Fork Dipped" booth, breakfast foods being made into tasty dishes, fancy desserts being concocted, a bevy of beautiful girls dressed as "Red Wing" distributing grape juice and many other interesting things.
