

DR. BRUMBAUGH FAVORS CHANGES SAYS REPUBLICAN PARTY WILL GIVE "EVERY WISE LEGISLATURE PROVISION" NEEDED OUTLINES HIS REFORM PLANS

Candidate for Governor Gives Pledge to Reorganize Departments That Are Shown to Require It—Palmer Again Hammers Penrose

(Special to the Star-Independent.) Bradford, Pa., Oct. 19.—Backing up his earlier declarations in favor of child and women's labor laws, a workmen's compensation and an employer's liability act, Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, nominee for Governor of the Republican party, at a mass meeting here Saturday night specified in detail the kind of measures he will demand if elected Governor, and more fervently than he has done in the past urged election of a Legislature that will help him "make good" on his platform promises.

"The Republican party," he declared, "chastened for its conservatism, must turn, and now does turn, to the serious and honorable obligation of giving to the people of this Commonwealth every wise and beneficent legislative provision for safeguarding and protecting the welfare of the people. In a broad way this is a large social program of legislative reform."

Dr. Brumbaugh's program Speaking in detail of his legislative program, Dr. Brumbaugh said:

"This program includes a workmen's compensation act, which the last Legislature should have passed and which the incoming Legislature, if I am elected Governor, will be called upon to pass.

"The present employers' liability act I wish to see so amended and advanced as to make it equal to the best upon the statute books of any State.

"The present law to care for our women who labor is not a satisfactory one, and I stand unequivocally not only for a just but a chivalrous law. "I favor an advanced child labor law as will secure the highest efficiency by retaining our children in school as long as possible, by reducing the hours and improving the conditions under which they shall work, and by providing a gradual and not sudden transition from school to industry, and I shall insist that no child holding an employment certificate shall be permitted when not actually employed to loaf upon the streets."

Besides a pledge to reorganize, systematize and make efficient the State charities, State highways and other departments, Dr. Brumbaugh, reiterating his pledge on local option, said:

"I cannot too strongly emphasize that in my primary declaration I reiterated a lifelong belief in the local option movement. I believe it is the duty of the Legislature and the Executive to give to the people of each county the right to decide for themselves whether licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be issued. I have said this frequently and so definitely that I trust the people will not be misled by those who for the sake of winning votes willfully and deliberately misrepresent others, for I will not make a promise to obtain a vote which I will not fulfill after the vote is given."

The meeting, held in the Lyceum theatre and attracting an audience filling every seat, closed for the present the campaign in the western counties. Dr. Brumbaugh left late Saturday night for Philadelphia.

County Chairman E. J. Jones presided and the speakers were, besides Dr. Brumbaugh, Frank B. McClain, nominee for Lieutenant Governor; Henry Houck, nominee for Secretary of Internal Affairs, and local candidates.

Dr. Brumbaugh spoke at a Harvest Home service in the John B. Stetson Mission Sunday school, Stetson auditorium, in Philadelphia, yesterday.

Palmer Speaks in Altoona Altoona, Pa., Oct. 19.—After an hour's rest at the home of Arthur B. Clark, Democratic nominee for Congressman at large, the Democratic nominee launched one of the most enthusiastic meetings of their fall campaign on Saturday night. The Mischler theatre, where the meeting was held, was crowded.

When A. Mitchell Palmer, the candidate for United States Senator, was introduced the audience gave him a prolonged reception and the women, of whom there were a number, gave him a Chautauqua salute. Mr. Palmer launched into his speech immediately, reiterating his previous statements that the issue of the campaign was Penrose and Penroseism.

Eric, Pa., Oct. 19.—Following one of the most strenuous days of the campaign, Vance C. McCormick, Democratic candidate for Governor, and William Draper Lewis, withdrawn Washington party candidate, arrived in Erie Saturday evening in time for the reception arranged for them at the Hotel Lawrence, and afterward were the principal speakers at a big mass meeting.

McCormick hit hard at the Republican regime for the condition of the State roads. "After over a hundred miles of mud, I am glad to be present," he said. "Penroseism is the main issue," he continued. "He challenges Brumbaugh to tell where he stands on that issue. You listen in vain for an answer. I stand for local option."

Mr. Lewis prefaced his address with the words, "I come to ask the voters of this section to cast their votes for the best man ever nominated for Governor of any State." He said Pennsylvania was paying more for road-building than any other State in the Union, with worse results.

Colonel at Odds With Flinn? Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—In a statement issued by the Republican State Committee yesterday it was declared that Colonel Roosevelt's heart was not in the Bull Moose fight in this State, and it was broadly intimated that "inside information" had been received that the former President would continue to hand out only love taps to Penrose during his tour of the State. The statement, which also predicted a prospective open break between Flinn and the Colonel in the near future, stated in part:

A few weeks ago Colonel Roosevelt spoke in Philadelphia, and his address from a Washington party standpoint, was very disappointing. Now he is billed to make a few days' tour of the State in compliance with a promise he made some time ago, but those close to him admit that his heart is not in the campaign in Pennsylvania. Flinn's insistence that Colonel Roosevelt came here for the purpose of reciprocating what Flinn did for the Progressives in a financial way in 1912 has not made the Pittsburgh contractor-boss any too popular in the social circles of Oyster Bay. An open break between Flinn and Roosevelt would not surprise those on the inside.

In the same statement it was charged that the Bull Moose leaders had arranged to make Roosevelt buy a million post cards containing a plate of Colonel Roosevelt's signature, without his knowledge of this move.
