

CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK CHILDREN NEED "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

A Coated Tongue Means Sluggish Liver and Bowels--Listen Mother!

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills. Give a tea-spoonful and in just a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food, clogged in the bowels, passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again.

Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

NEWS OF STEEL TON

MANY SANDWICHES TO FEED FIREMEN FRIDAY NIGHT

Fire Chief John E. Shupp Will Be Escorted Over Route in an Automobile

Twenty-two hundred real sandwiches will be prepared as a part of the menu which will be placed before the local firemen at the banquet Friday night at the close of the street demonstration to be held in honor of Fire Chief John E. Shupp, Jr.

An automobile has been secured and as a mark of honor the chief will be motored around the route near the van of the parade. Chief Marshal Gerdes and his aids held a meeting in the Paxtang hook and ladder house last evening and completed all plans for the prompt moving of the street demonstration. The fire siren at the blast furnace will give the signal as soon as the parade is ready to start.

Husband Quotes Entries From Diary Showing How Wife Treated Him

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29.—Quoting from a carefully-kept diary of his wife's alleged shortcomings covering a period of years, Charles D. Smith brought suit in court here yesterday for divorce from Clara D. Smith on grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. Some of the extracts from Smith's diary are as follows:

"My wife, Clara D. Smith, in the city of McKeesport, Allegheny county, and State of Pennsylvania, has addressed me in terms of opprobrium as follows, viz: Sassy, March 5, 1911; jakes, February 26, 1908; fool, March 21, 1908; December 30, 1908; May 7, 1910; hypocrite, May 31, 1908; June 7, 1908; January 11, 1911; mock modesty, July 20, 1908; black-eyed devil, October 18, 1908; contemptible liar, December 15, 1909; murderer, January 2, 1910; gay receiver, January 2, 1910.

"My wife says she does not believe in marriage, August 13, 1913. "Says only kind of men she likes are fat men.

"Found letter to phrenologist, in which she said she was willing to leave me if he suggested her to do so, February 28, 1908.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW ON

Exhibition at National Capital Gives Promise of Success

Washington, Oct. 29.—The annual chrysanthemum show of the Department of Agriculture opened to-day. On account of the large number of plants, 1,800, as well as the many new varieties displayed, the exhibition gave promise of being one of the best ever held.

In spite of the fact that the warm weather and foggy nights that have prevailed this fall are said to be injurious to the life of the hardy chrysanthemums, causing the bloom to fade quickly, some of them are handsomer than any shown at previous exhibitions. As a result of the warm weather many of the plants reached a height of ten feet, attracting much attention from visitors.

One of the finest chrysanthemums on view is the Christy Mathewson "incurve" variety, its petals curving up toward the center. Among other new kinds are the Flamingo, the Nakota, a large American variety, and the Mrs. R. H. Boggs, an English blossom about as large as any grown, being nearly thirteen inches in diameter.

FLAWS IN MASSES OF STEEL

Experiments to Detect Them Attended With Remarkable Success

Washington, Oct. 29.—Remarkable success has attended the experiments which have for a long time been in progress at the Naval Academy, the object being to detect concealed flaws in masses of steel and other metals used in ship construction and engines. By photomicrographic observations it is believed that it will be possible with certainty to detect any dangerous flaws and internal cracks in the great steel shafts and other parts of the engines upon which the safety and mobility of the ship depends.

If the experiments work out as expected they will result in revolutionizing the methods of specifications to be included in all contracts for naval structural steel and even more important, they may present a certain means of preventing acceptance of the defective steel rails which have caused disastrous railroad wrecks.

200,000 MINERS HONOR MITCHELL

Cease Labors in Anthracite Coal Regions to Pay Respects to Former Leader

ANNIVERSARY OF BIG 1900 STRIKE

Under Leadership of Mitchell the Miners Were Granted a Ten Per Cent. Increase in Wages That Year and Secured Other Concessions

Hazleton, Oct. 29.—Mitchell Day was observed throughout the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania to-day. Mining operations halted while the nearly 200,000 men and boys in and about the collieries celebrated the termination of the six weeks' strike of 1900 under the leadership of John Mitchell, then international president of the United Mine Workers.

This struggle, the first conducted by the mine workers in the hard coal belt, gained for the employes a ten per cent. wage increase and other concessions that paved the way for the longer and more bitter tie up of 1902, which was settled by the strike commission named by President Roosevelt. The agreement then entered into between the operators and the miners has been in effect ever since, with slight modifications.

Every year since 1900, October 29 is a holiday for the mine workers. Only such hands as are necessary for the running of the pumps and other work for the preservation and safety of property remain at their places.

Mass meetings are held, with noted leaders as the speakers, the general tenor of whose appeal is for continued loyalty to the union as a means of further enjoyment of the fruits of their first victory.

Parades are usually a feature of the day but none was held in the Lehigh district this year. Lattimer, the scene of the fatal clash between Sheriff's deputies and marching miners on September 10, 1897, was the point of interest in the Hazleton region. A demonstration was held under auspices of the miners' union of that place.

The principal celebrations were scheduled at Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, where parades were on the program. The chief speakers were John Mitchell and John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers.

WILD CHEERS FOR KUNKEL

Republican Crowd Shouts Approval of Non-partisan Candidate

At the Republican mass meeting held in the Chestnut street auditorium last evening the 2,500 men and women wildly cheered and clapped their hands when William I. Swope, former District Attorney of Clearfield county, mentioned the name of Judge George Kunkel, of Harrisburg, the non-partisan candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court.

Swope could not complete his sentence when he started to praise Kunkel, so enthusiastic became the crowd. The audience heard little or nothing more than the name "Kunkel" and something about the Supreme Court candidacy and then all went wild.

The speaker was left with a vivid impression that Dauphin county voters are for Judge Kunkel first, last and always, and that the mere mention of the local jurist's name is sufficient to bring on wild cheering.

Army Shares Increased Living Cost

Washington, Oct. 29.—Even the army ration with its simple components has shared in the general increase of cost of living. The annual report of Quartermaster General Albright, shows that the average cost of the ration for American troops this year was 24.40 cents as against 23.41 for 1913.

Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

BETTER THAN CONTRACT SYSTEM, SAYS WISCONSIN ENGINEER

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29.—"For the average road job, it is cheaper to do the work under the day labor system than under the contract system," said A. R. Hirst, chief engineer of the Wisconsin Highway Commission in addressing to-day a session of the Northwestern Road Congress on the subject of "Day Labor vs. the Contract System of Road Building."

"Better results are obtainable with less friction and much less chance of litigation," he continued. "The average county in Wisconsin is building its roads for less than they could be contracted and for less than the contract prices have been in other States for similar work under similar conditions."

The ordinary class of laborers under the day labor system are better workmen and deliver more for their money than do the men employed by contractors, he said.

ICE COMPANY SEEKS SITE

New Enterprise Wants a Plot 15,000 to 20,000 Square Feet

At a meeting of the directors of the Merchants' Ice Company of Harrisburg, held in the Hotel Metropolitan last evening, the treasurer, H. M. Hare, reported cash in hand and pledged sufficient to make application for a charter of incorporation. It was voted to do so at once. Committees were appointed on the preparation of by-laws and investigation of processes and equipment.

The company is now in the market for a site and the directors invite the submission of proposals for plots suitable for the business of the corporation. The company will require a site having an area of from 15,000 to 20,000 square feet.

The Bishop's Place

The bishop of London, speaking at the annual meeting of the bishop of London's fund at Grosvenor House, said that churches did not drop down from heaven any more than bishops, though a little girl in his congregation, evidently under that delusion, had recently said to her mother during a tiring sermon: "I am tired now, mother. Can't the bishop go back to heaven?"—London Standard.

FREES COLLEGE STUDENTS

Grand Jury Refuses to Indict Them for Slaying a Hazer at St. John's College

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 29.—By its refusal to present five students of St. John's College who were connected with the death of W. R. Bowls, one of a crowd of upper classmen who were trying to force the door of the youngsters' room, the Grand Jury of Anne Arundel county has established the rule that a student may defend himself to the extent of taking life against upper classmen who attempt to haze him.

The Grand Jury took the ground that there was not even a prima facie case against the young men, and refused to have them brought to trial. Four of the five young men who were in the room from which the shot was fired are still students at St. John's. No further action will be taken.

The students who were connected with the affair are George H. Weaver, Auburn, N. Y.; John M. Noble, Preston, Md.; R. A. Jones, Cambridge, Md.; Henry L. Valdes, Havana, Cuba; and William M. Marbury, Jr., Baltimore city. These five were all members of the freshman class at St. John's in May of last year. They had been severely hazed and were together in one of the dormitory rooms when they heard a crowd approaching the room.

The lads in the room warned the upper classmen not to try to enter, but they began to kick upon the door in order to force it.

It was then that one of the five fired a pistol through the door. The bullet lodged in the stomach of Bowls, and he died two days later. The young men were placed under bail to answer for their act at the present term of court. The action of the Grand Jury followed.

None of the five admitted doing the actual shooting or placed the blame on another. All admitted that they are equally guilty, and it is probable that the one that actually fired the shot will never be known to any but those in the room.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW Well-known Local Druggist Says Everybody is Using Old-time Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that it is body can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.
