IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Out Your Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority.
The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflammation, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can control urination.
While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble. Adv.

RATHER CRUDE DISROBING ACT IN 'MADAM PRESIDENT'

Fannie Ward, as "Gobette," in a Decidedly French Comedy, Has Difficulty in Freeing Herself of Ger-ment, as Plot of the Play Demands Fannie Ward and her company in the three-act farce comedy, "Madam President," undeniably provided sprightly entertainment for a fairly large audience in the Majestic last night. The players were clever and some strikingly funny situations were well carried out, so that the audience warmed up in its applause probably more enthusiastically than at any previous performance in the Majestic this season. The action of the piece, however, brought out some rather bold situations in a way that was not entirely devoid of crudities.

The play is described on the program as an adaptation from the French of Maurice Hennequin and Pierre Ve-ber by Jose G. Levy, and certain it is that Mr. Levy did not eliminate any of the situations that, at least in the popular mind, are commonly associated with French theatrical productions.
Perhaps "Madam President," as played here last night, would have given the gay French capital no more than a passing thrill of sensationalism and perhaps cosmopolitan Broadway could have witnessed the show without a feeling that it was any more daring than many other performances familiar to the Great White Thoroughfare, but for staid Harrisburg there were some parts of the piece that produced at least a mild shock.

If we are to admit that it was absolutely essential to the success of the plot that the dress of the actress, "Go-bette," played by Miss Ward, should fall off of her at mid-stage in the middle of the second act, this might have been accomplished with a little less premeditated design than was really the case, for "Gobette" had actually to struggle valiantly to free herself of the garment so that she might be revealed in all the glory of her low-cut lingerie that extended barely to her knees. While the loss of her gown was supposed to be an accident, it really required an apparent effort for her to get rid of it.

There was something a bit crude about this part of the performance, and it might be added that the bold love-making scene between "Gobette" and "Cyprien Gaudet, the Minister of Justice," played cleverly by John W.
Dean, also was a bit indelicate.

There is no denying that last night's audience thoroughly enjoyed much of the original humor of the piece and showed its enjoyment with liberal handclapping. There are parts of the play that leave the impression that it was a bit hurriedly constructed, notably the closing act, which brings about a windup of the plot in a way that everybody had figured it out long before the curtain fell.

For histrionic ability it can be said of Miss Ward that she possesses plenty of real art and that she made a very

BOY DIES TO SAVE HIS SISTER

Brooklyn Student at Cornell Drowned
in Beebe Lake

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Paul S.
Schwarzbach, 19 years old, a sophomore in the College of Agriculture at Cornell, was drowned here yesterday afternoon while trying to save his sister, Miss O. P. Schwarzbach, both of Brooklyn, who had fallen from a cliff into the inlet to Beebe lake.

The two were taking part in a picnic on the south bank of the gorge when Miss Schwarzbach accidentally stepped over the edge of the ravine and fell thirty feet into the water. Her brother immediately dived after her, but as he could not swim a stroke went to the bottom, and it was an hour and a half before fellow students could recover his body.

The sister, who could swim, kept afloat until G. P. Nagel, a graduate student, was lowered by means of a rope from the bank above and rescued her.

This is the third fatal accident of this kind on the south bank of the Beebe lake gorge.

WHY SUFFER ANY STOMACH DISTRESS

When Mi-o-na Is a Quick and Effective Remedy

If your stomach is continually kicking up a disturbance, causing distress after eating, heartburn, coated tongue, gas, sour taste of food, and you feel bile, irritable and nervous, you are suffering from indigestion and dyspepsia.
It's needless for you to suffer, and now is the time to quickly stop the distress and regulate your upset stomach.

Simply get from H. C. Kennedy, or any drug store, some Mi-o-na tablets—a simple prescription that does more than give quick and lasting relief. Mi-o-na soothes the irritated lining of the stomach and stimulates the flow of the digestive juices so that what you eat is quickly converted into healthful nourishment, then you are well and strong, and no longer worry about trifles or have restless nights.

Do not allow indigestion to wreck your health and happiness but get some Mi-o-na tablets at once—they are cheap and harmless. Adv.

in Beebe Lake

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Paul S.
Schwarzbach, 19 years old, a sophomore
in the College of Agriculture at Cor-
noon while trying to save his sister,
inlet to Beebe lake.

The two were taking part in a picnic
on the south bank of the gorge when
his body.

afloat until G. P. Nagel, a graduate stu-
from the bank above and rescued her.

lake gorge.
