GUARD TO PREVENT SUICIDE

Man Who Confessed Killing of Boy Writes Mysterious Notes in His Cell

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—Not convinced that Victor E. Eshleman, a lodger at the Inasmuch Mission, was telling the truth when he confessed to the brutal murder of 8-year-old Albert Kraft, whose mutilated body was found Thursday morning in a culvert running under the Reading Railway tracks at Fifty-sixth street and Gibson avenue, Captain Cameron yesterday again took the man to the scene of the crime and requested him to repeat in actions his version of the affair. On Saturday afternoon before a group of detectives, Eshleman dramatically pantomimed the murder at the scene of the crime.

Although yesterday Eshleman varied in several particulars from the story he told and acted on Saturday, he corroborated the essential details of the crime and the detectives are now convinced that he is the murderer. After grilling the man for several hours yesterday they learned that the boy was murdered and then made the subject of a fiendish and brutal attack. Eshleman, they declared, said he murdered the boy in a clump of bushes and then dragged the body to the culvert where he hoped to dispose of it in a hole between the stone slabs.

This version of the affair disagrees with the statements made by Eshleman on Saturday when he declared that the murder was committed in the culvert. The police believe, however, that the confessed murderer is telling the truth when he says the murder was committed more than 100 yards from the stone culvert.

It was learned yesterday that Eshleman is addicted to the use of drugs and the theory is advanced that he was in a stupor when he killed young Kraft. The police spent the day investigating Eshleman's daily movements and hope to learn more concerning the man before he is arraigned for a hearing before Magistrate Renshaw next Monday.

Religious services were held in the cell room in Central Station yesterday and Eshleman's voice was heard joining in the singing of the hymns. After the men and women who had conducted the meeting had departed, the man called for a guard and handed him a note bearing the following:

"If I should die, notify L. J. Witmer, No. 1691 Summer street. Tell him I want to be buried beside my mother in the Church Cemetery."

The cemetery referred to in the note is believed to refer to a graveyard in Lancaster, Pa., where Eshleman was born and raised.

After reading the note the police feared that the man was planning to end his life and a guard was stationed at the cell door.

THE REV. G. N. LAUFFER TO SUCCEED REV. DR. HOCKER

Congregation of St. John's Lutheran Church Extended Unanimous Call to Newville Man at a Meeting Held Sunday Afternoon

The Rev. George N. Lauffer, of Newville, was unanimously elected pastor of St. John's Lutheran church at a meeting of the congregation held after the morning service. The call is accepted of the new pastor will assume charge of the local congregation January 1.

St. John's has been without a regular pastor since October 1 when the Rev. Dr. M. P. Hocker resigned to assume the superintendency of the Emmaus Orphan Home at Middletown. During this vacancy the pulpit has been occupied by a number of gifted ministers who delivered trial sermons, but the call was finally given to the pastor elected yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Lauffer has occupied the pulpit at Newville for four years and previous to that he served seven years as pastor of a Lutheran church at New Oxford. He was a classmate of the Rev. A. M. Stamets and the Rev. S. W. Herman, of Harrisburg, at the Gettysburg Seminary.

Comic Attraction

Hydrogen and oxygen gases separately may be compressed to the liquid form, and then the compression further is exceedingly difficult. But in the chemical union of two atoms of hydrogen with one of oxygen to form a water molecule the immense force of atomic attraction, or chemism, as one may prefer to name the force is one of the most powerful in nature. It reduces huge volumes of the gases down to a far less volume, and the force is far greater than can be secured in any machine of screws, levers or hydraulic presses. Atomic attraction is perhaps the most powerful in nature. At least it is strong enough to hold atoms of steel and platinum together and diamonds.—New York American.

DODGE BROS.' CAR MAKES ITS DEBUT IN AUTO WORLD

With an Immense Institution and Unlimited Capital the Firm Is Fully Prepared to Make Its Mark in Popular Industry

When Joan F. and Horace E. Dodge in the very zenith of a career of 28 years as machinists and manufacturers, closed out an automobile parts production enterprise, involving contracts worth a million and a half dollars a month, to embark as automobile manufacturers, the big public had a perfect right to sit up and take notice.

Believing that a genuine demand existed for a thoroughly well-built, good-appearing car in the popular priced field, Dodge Brothers felt that they were peculiarly well fitted to produce such a car. With an immense institution and unlimited capital behind them they were fully confident in starting out to build a second career upon their first.

With characteristic energy orders were issued for several immense buildings, 1,000 feet and 800 feet long respectively and four stories high, as an addition to their plant. Avoiding publicity as far as possible, a cool half million dollars was further expended in new machinery of the most advanced type obtainable.

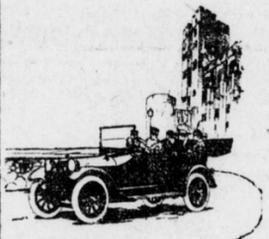

Wisely, if unusually, they determined not to court an advance appeal. No word of information would be divulged until Dodge Brothers' idea of a motor car stood complete in every detail. And so the work of designing has gone forward, unobscured, until to-day the car has been publicly announced and placed on exhibition.

Something of immense confidence reposed in Dodge Brothers, before any detail as to the car had escaped from the factory, is shown by the fact that over 13,000 dealers wrote in for the privilege of selling the car. "Place the price any place under $1,000 and ship us all the cars you can spare," wrote one enthusiastic dealer who captured the sales rights for his city. From all sections of the United States, Canada and even foreign countries, the impression seemed to prevail that "if Dodge Brothers can't place a new value on the market, no other American company possibly can."

Over 6,000 people stormed the Detroit salesrooms of Thomas J. Doyle, Wednesday, November 11, and in the most enthusiastic method possible congratulated Dodge Brothers in producing a car that has undeniably established a new standard of value in the automobile industry. In the first half hour after the salesrooms opened, 485 persons by actual count filed through the entrance to obtain a glimpse of the long awaited car. In the opinion of Mr. Doyle, who has probably sold more popular priced cars than any other man in the automobile industry, the occasion was unique in motor car history.—From Detroit Saturday Night, Nov. 14th.

The Harrisburg Polyclinic Dispensary will be open daily except Sunday at 3 p. m., at its new location, Front and Harris streets, for the free treatment of the worthy poor.

Quality

Quality is something that must be "built in" an automobile. The real quality of a car doesn't show on the surface. It's something that proves itself in constant service. The Chalmers slogan is "Quality first." Chalmers cars are built to last, to give satisfactory service for many seasons.

Chalmers quality means that every piece of material that goes into the making of an automobile bearing the Chalmers trademark must be of highest grade—first class throughout.

The only way we can be sure of getting quality material—the right material for the work required of each part—is to build all Chalmers parts in the Chalmers Shops. This is what we call "built in" quality, the kind you get in every Chalmers car.

Chalmers Cars are built in the Chalmers Shops by expert Chalmers trained mechanics, with the most modern tools and machinery. They are rigidly inspected by Chalmers inspectors. Thus we know that every part, even the smallest bolt, is made from quality material, made right and will give the utmost in satisfactory wear.

You can't get equal assurance of quality in any assembled car.

Take the Chalmers "Real Test" Ride. Prove Chalmers quality to your own satisfaction by a thorough demonstration.
