

TO PASS FIRST ON SMITH'S SANITY

Jury Will Determine That Point Before Trial on Murder Charge Is Started

CASE WILL BE CALLED MONDAY

Alienists Will Testify As to Mental Condition of the Man Accused of Slaying His Grandfather in Inglenook

With the case of Edward G. Smith, charged with having murdered his grandfather, John E. Bush, in Inglenook, on June 3, last, listed for trial on Monday, the opening day of the special term of criminal court, it is entirely likely, so county officials said today, that a jury of twelve men will be asked to say whether the accused now is mentally able to comprehend the crime with which he stands charged and to make a proper defense.

Smith is found to be mentally unbalanced, he will be sent to an institution for the criminal insane. Should the jury find that he "has a sufficient intellect to comprehend the course of the proceedings on the trial so as to be able to make a proper defense," he then will be required to answer to the charge of slaying his grandfather.

CAPITOL HILL LIFTING QUARANTINE ON ROOF AND MOUTH DISEASE

State Live Stock Sanitary Board and Governor Tenter Discuss Advisability of Lifting Embargo in Certain Sections of State

The State Live Stock Sanitary Board met with Governor Tenter in his office this afternoon to discuss the advisability of lifting the quarantine against the foot and mouth disease in some sections where it does not prevail, and to hear protests against the too strict enforcement of the law. It was agreed that there should be no laxity in the enforcement of the quarantine where the disease prevails, and that the officers of the Board should use their discretion in lifting the quarantine, being convinced before doing so that there was no danger of the disease spreading.

The department has unofficially learned of the arrest in Berks county of a farmer named Balthiser, who is charged with threatening to shoot two agents of the Board who were about to inspect the cattle on his farm. The matter will be disposed of by the local authorities.

RICH HATS FOR INAUGURAL

Harrisburg and West End Republican Clubs Planning to March in Honor of Brumbaugh

The Harrisburg Republican Club has begun preparations for the inauguration of Governor Brumbaugh, and will participate in the parade. A committee consisting of City Commissioner William H. Lynch, William Pavord, Charles E. Pass, City Chairman Harry F. Oves and William D. Block has been appointed to make all arrangements, and they are now buying uniforms and hats for the marching club. The uniforms will be dark overcoats, high hats and brown gloves, and canes will be carried.

The West End Republican Club last night arranged for the appointment of a committee to plan for the inaugural, and a working body of the members will be appointed by President Douglas. It is intended to have a marching club, fully uniformed in black, with high hats, gloves and canes, and a fine band will be engaged.

The Philadelphia "Public Ledger" of today says: "The Republican workers north of Market street, comprising 40 wards, will participate in the Brumbaugh inaugural parade under the name of 'The Philadelphia Club.' It is expected that fully 600 men will march in this club, which will be marshaled by David H. Lane, chairman of the Republican City Committee.

Reports received from the different wards yesterday indicate that there will be an enthusiastic outpouring. Senator McNichol announced that the name had been selected upon agreement with the Vars, who will call their club 'South Philadelphia.' The latter club will be led by Representative W. S. Vane and the marchers will wear high hats, while the North Philadelphia wards will be clad in derbies."

HOLIDAY BASKETBALL

Garnet Five, of Philadelphia, Will Be Attraction at Armory

The Garnet five, of Philadelphia, will be the treat which the Harrisburg Basketball Association will provide basketball followers to-morrow evening at the Armory. Manager Taggart has been endeavoring to secure this five for several weeks, but was unable to break in on the schedule which they had arranged with the strongest teams in the State.

Last year on Thanksgiving evening this same team defeated the local five by a score of 36 to 16. Harrisburg has won all of the games played so far this year and, with one of the strongest teams in their history, will endeavor to make the series even in this game. Their lineup will be practically the same as that of last Saturday, when they easily downed the Parkersburg five.

On the Garnet five are Haire and Dienes, forwards; Kerr, at center, and Barker and Ehlers, at the two guards. Ehlers last year played guard on the varsity team of the University of Pennsylvania and was one of the candidates for the all-star basketball team. Following the game the usual dance program will be held.

TO HEAR RATE PROTESTS IN PHILADELPHIA ON FRIDAY

Service Commission Sets Time For Listening to Commuters Protests—Reading Man Says Commercial Travelers in Danger of Extinction

City Hall, Philadelphia, will be the scene on Friday morning of this week of the meeting of the Public Service Commission and the patrons of the railroads who have entered complaint concerning the proposed increase of passenger rates to take effect on December 15. This meeting was agreed upon last night, and later the following letter was sent to the complaining patrons:

"In order that there may be as little delay as possible in the final determination of the reasonableness of the proposed increases in passenger fares, the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will hold an informal meeting on Friday, November 27, 1914, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the finance committee room of Councils in the City Hall, Philadelphia, where it is above indicated."

It is not determined as to the manner in which the Public Service Commission will handle the complaints affecting the proposed increase. The advocates who contend that the commission may issue an order that the rate be not permitted to go into effect until the commission determines its validity hold that if it is found to be illegal to issue such an order, the act creating the commission ought to be amended so as to make provision for such cases.

W. B. Brown, of Reading, who is a traveling man, protests against the increased rates and predicts that the commercial traveler will soon become extinct for, he says, the expenses are higher than the average firm can afford to pay.

KNIT SOCKS AS THEY WAIT

Women Receiving Gifts at Hospital Put in Part of Time Making Stockings for European Soldiers

Mixing of charity with charity is a feat performed to-day by a committee of the Women's Aid Society of the Harrisburg Hospital. The golden rule is being carried out in its broadest sense. During the lull of receiving Thanksgiving gifts at the hospital the members of the reception committee are knitting socks for the soldiers now at war in Europe.

The knitting needles fly until a wagon pulls up to the door laden with gifts of foodstuffs for the hospital. The goods are carefully placed in the appointed places in the storeroom whereupon the women resume knitting until interrupted by the arrival of another load.

By noon the hospital had received seven turkeys short of the number sought. The turkey budget was placed at twelve and but five have been received at that time. Delicacies and staples are being received in gratifying quantities. Small towns in this vicinity are contributing generously, but the turkey donors this year are not coming to the front as fast as desired.

Among those on the committee are Mrs. Henry McCormick, Miss Anne McCormick and Miss Letitia Braly. Mrs. McCormick has always taken a great interest in the hospital and is personally superintending the donation day activities.

Game Commission Will Receive Reports as to the Number Killed

Few reports of the number of deer killed in Pennsylvania have come to the State Game Commission, but as the season ends to-day, Secretary Kalbfus will soon be receiving information from the game warden and hunting clubs throughout the State, all of which have been requested to keep count as far as possible of the number of deer and every other kind of game killed.

Deer hunters will begin to leave the woods to-morrow, and many of them the deer by they must get a permit to ship from the State Veterinary Board to Dr. Marshall, the head of the Board, said to-day that he already had issued a number of such permits. SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS TO OPEN HERE DECEMBER 7

Harrisburg will begin the 1914 Red Cross Christmas seal campaign Monday, December 7, following the observance in this city of Tuberculosis Sunday, the day prior.

Details for the distribution of the 300,000 or more seals have not yet been worked out but John Fox Weiss, chairman of the general committee, has announced the plans in a general way.

Harrisburg and the surrounding towns established an unusual record for sales of the Christmas stickers last year but it is hoped to better the number in 1914. Of course the varied lines of the crusade adopted in 1913 will be carried out again this year but the particular methods to which special attention will be paid will include the public schools, the Boy Scouts, the city merchants and the secret societies and lodges.

Dr. C. R. Phillips will handle the distribution of seals among the school children again and Dr. J. M. J. Baanick will have charge of the secret and fraternal society work. A feature of this will be another big drill and concert by the Patrol and Band of Zumbo Temple or the Mystic Shrine in Chestnut street auditorium Tuesday, December 15. During the concert members of Zumbo will go through the great audience and dispose of the seals.

The big feature will be the "Merchants' Day." This plan was followed last year and even though the scheme was unusually successful, special attention will be given to Merchants' Day, however, a special day being set aside from time to time for each variety of merchant for the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals.

The Boy Scouts will assist materially in this part of the campaign as they will be employed to carry around the seals and arrange for orders.

Devenport, Eng., Nov. 25, via London, 12.25 P. M.—The steamer Jason, laden with toys for children in the belligerent countries from children in the United States, arrived here to-day. The Jason left New York November 14.

A flotilla of British torpedo boat destroyers flying the American ensign met the Christmas ship and escorted her into the harbor. The docking was delayed for some time on account of the dense fog.
