EXTREME DULLNESS AT OPENING OF BOND MARKET

Business During Morning Session Lighter Than Yesterday—Trend of Market Again Downward With More Losses Than Gains

By Associated Press.
New York, Dec. 2.—Extreme dullness characterized the opening of the bond market on the Stock Exchange today. Trading in the first ten minutes embraced less than ten issues and transactions were in small lots. Only a few changes were noted, Central Leather 5s advancing 1/4 of a point.

Business during the morning session was lighter than on the previous day. The greater part of the transactions recorded were for five to ten bonds less. The trend was again downward with losses of 2 to 5 points in Atlantic Coast Line collateral 4s, St. Louis and San Francisco Refunding 4s, Brooklyn Gas 5s and New York Gas and Electric 4s. Gains were recorded in Chicago, Dock Island and Pacific Railway 5s which rose 1/2 a point; Lorillard 5s 1/2, and New York railways adjustment 5s, 1 point.

OLD TIME HARVARD LAWS
When Students Had to Get the President's Permission to Smoke
Imagine a twentieth century Harvard undergraduate asking the president of the university for permission to smoke or buy a drink. Yet permission was necessary in the eighteenth century, according to the history of Harvard before 1760. One college rule read:

"No scholar shall take tobacco unless permitted by ye president, with ye consent of his parents or guardian and on good reason first given by a physician and then in a sober and private manner."

Further, "No scholar shall unnecessarily frequent any tavern or victualing house in Cambridge to eat or drink there without leave from ye president or one of ye tutors."

Another regulation read: "If any scholar be guilty of drunkenness he shall be fined 5 shillings and make a public confession. No unlicensed graduate shall keep by him distilled spirituous liquors, nor shall he use any such drinks as punch or flip."

Saturday evenings all students were required to retire to their chambers at sunset and not unnecessarily leave them.—New York World.

At the Photoplay
Coming Saturday at the Photoplay theatre, Miss Alice Joyce, will appear in a two-act drama, "The Theft of the Crown Jewels." Miss Joyce wears a $3,000 Lady-Duff Gordon "Loulie" gown and $1,000,000 in real jewels, which were loaned by a Fifth avenue jeweler for that purpose. Monday we present the first of a new gypsy series produced by the Edison Company. Miss Mabel Trunnelle plays the part of Olive, the Gypsy. The first series, "The Gypsy Madcap" will be shown Monday and every Monday a succeeding series.

Firemen to Get Present
A special meeting of the Citizen Fire Company will be held to-morrow evening at which time the Lincoln Fire Company, of Perth Amboy, N. J., will present the local firemen with a gift. The Perth Amboy company was a guest of the Citizen Company during the State Firemen's Convention here in October.
