WILL ERECT NEW FRAT HOUSE

College Society Granted Permission to Construct Substantial Quarters on the School Campus

Gettysburg, Dec. 31.—Permission to erect another substantial fraternity house on the campus, the establishment of another group in the curriculum, and a change in the closing work of the school year were among the activities of the Board of Trustees of Gettysburg College which met in Harrisburg on Tuesday in its annual mid-winter session.

The local chapter of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was granted permission to erect a chapter house north of Glatfelter Hall equipped with kitchen, dining room, pool room, gymnasium, swimming pool and bowling alley privileges. This part of the campus will be established as a sort of "fraternity avenue," Sigma Chi already having a lodge there and Theta Phi some time ago being granted permission similar to that now given Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

To Lift Quarantine
Gettysburg, Dec. 31.—Dr. C. J. Marshall, State veterinarian, has announced that on next Monday the quarantine for hoof and mouth disease would be removed from every township in Adams county except the following: Berwick, Conowingo, Germany, Hamilton, Mt. Pleasant, Oxford, Reading and Union. It will be noticed that these are the districts in the southern and eastern sections of the county where the disease has appeared. The northern and western ends have not been affected and will be released entirely.

Patent Hid Beneath Bed
Carlisle, Dec. 31.—After he had been missing for about three hours, and police officers had been called out to assist in the search, Frank Myers, who on Christmas evening tried to commit suicide in the county jail by cutting his throat with a razor was found beneath a bed in a room at the county home.

Myers was discharged from the local hospital on Tuesday and taken to the county home and placed in the infirmary.

Cumberland Valley Boost Fares
Carlisle, Dec. 31.—Making a straight two-and-one-half cent fare and eliminating the special excursion privileges that heretofore have been in vogue, the Cumberland Valley Railroad Company has given notice of joining the other railroads of the country and making an increase in passenger travel rates, beginning with January 20.

The changes will effect principally the present two-day excursion tickets which are offered at about the old mileage rate on a limited time schedule.

Preached Farewell Sermon
Waynesboro, Dec. 31.—The Rev. J. N. MacKensie, who will go to Dakota to engage in ministerial work there, preached his farewell sermon to his Blue Ridge Summit congregation, Sunday.

A large number of people gathered in the parish house chapel to hear his concluding message as rector. The Rev. Mr. MacKensie for a time was like Mary's Episcopal mission rector and has many friends in Waynesboro. He will leave for the West next week.

Peddler Dies in Jail
Chambersburg, Dec. 31.—Thomas Burk, a vagrant, died yesterday morning at 3.30 o'clock in the County jail. Burk had traveled widely and for a number of years he was a frequent visitor in Lancaster county and made periodical visits to Franklin county. He was born in Virginia and has no known relatives. For years he peddled, selling shoes and other nicknacks. In 1875 he lost an arm and in 1892 his right leg. Coronor Maclay ordered that the remains be held for identification.

Dance Guest Assaulted
Waynesboro, Dec. 31.—While attending the dance at Nidenoth's Academy, Tuesday evening, J. Monroe Hess, Mauch Chunk, a guest in the home of J. A. Midlower, West Main street, received a blow on the back of his head from a blunt instrument at the hands of some unknown person that caused him much pain and gave his friends much concern. His assailant is not known.

FATHER WINS IN CORNMEAL FIGHT

employ of his father, Solomon C. Brinser has been engaged in the manufacture of cornmeal in Round Top, this county, and in Middletown, since 1879, and disposing of his product under the name of "Brinser's Best Standard Corn Meal."

The elder Brinser contends that his son, after associating himself with the Milling company, disclosed the secret process by which the father had been manufacturing the meal. The plaintiff also charged that the company patterned after his design packages in which he sold the meal and by using the name "Brinser" in large type in the advertisement on the outside of the package of St. patrons to believe it to be the same brand of corn meal the plaintiff has been manufacturing.

The new concern branded their product as "Brinser's Golden Leader Corn Meal." The court holds that the sole question in the suit was whether or not the similarity in the packages was sufficient to deceive the trade.

Judge Kunkel says:

"The plaintiff's advertisement on the corn meal package contains some doggerel setting forth that the standard corn meal is the best and praising its peculiar qualities. The defendants' contains some phrasing line to like effect.

Called Unfair Competition

"The general rule," the court continues, "is that anything done by a rival in some business by imitation or otherwise designed or calculated to mislead the public in the belief that in buying the product offered by him for sale they were buying the product of another manufacturer, is in fraud of that other's rights and will afford just grounds for equitable interference.

"We are of the opinion that the advertisement adopted by the defendants for placing their product upon the market is misleading and calculated to cause it to be mistaken for the product of the plaintiff. The method they have adopted amounts to unfair competition and the plaintiff is entitled to an injunction."

Until six months ago the plaintiff, Solomon C. Brinser, who now is well known in years, operated his corn meal factory in Round Top. Twice within the last two years the factory was destroyed by fire and he decided, following the second loss, to move to Middletown. He now is doing business in a five-story mill, owned by the Middletown & Swatara Consolidated Water Company, which is less than a square away from the factory of which his son is a part owner.
