STEELTON NOTES

A committee composed of M. J. Kane, Louis Lehman, Ralph Eckels and Harry Jones are making arrangements for the annual outing of the local Merchants' Association, to be held in July. The day and date of this outing has not yet been announced.

The local Croatian Sokol will leave for Reading Monday morning, where with the Philadelphia Sokol, it will assist in the first annual athletic exhibition to be given by the Reading Sokol. A local furniture merchant yesterday attracted many people to his show window by exhibiting a live rattlesnake. The reptile is four feet long and was captured in Clinton county by Horace Critchley, of the State Forestry Department.

Sanitary Inspector Lewis, Chief of Police Longaker and Highway Commissioner Meshey yesterday completed their inspection of borough sidewalks and conditions at vacant lots ordered by council at its last meeting.

The Steelton A. C. played a practice game last evening with the Baker A. A. on Cottage Hill. Manager White is rounding his nine into form for its first appearance of the season at Hershey to-morrow.

Work has been started on a number of improvements at the postoffice building. The improvements include repairs to the exterior and interior of the building.

Standard Theatre's Offerings

Patrons of the Standard Theatre may rest assured that the program for this evening, announced elsewhere, will be the equal of anything to be seen anywhere for the price and that it must be seen to be appreciated.—Adv.

Not All Graduates Educated

An educated man, according to the definition given by Dr. F. W. Hinnitt, president of Washington and Jefferson College, in his address before the Presbyterian Association at Market Square church last night, is one who is at home in the world. No education, said the speaker, is complete without religion and every graduate with a diploma is not educated. The college president's subject was "Religion and Education."

Cool Weather Departs

A low pressure area moved with unexpected swiftness eastward last night and the temperature was ten degrees higher than the previous night, a minimum temperature of 59 degrees being recorded. With the coming of the low area will be unsettled weather to-night and Saturday, probably marked by showers. There will not be much temperature change to-night.

To Speak in Open Air School

The Rev. Dr. Ellis N. Kremer, pastor of Reformed Salem church, talked to the pupils in the open air school in the Susquehanna building at Fifth and Seneca streets this morning. Miss Margaret Rathfon sang several solos.

When Low Price Is No Advantage

A low price is no inducement if the merchandise be undesirable or unadaptable to your requirements. Cheap goods at cheap prices are the rankest extravagance.

You don't imagine, do you, that any store can sell you a $20 suit for $15? If you do you are possessed of a mighty vivid imagination. We give the average man credit for the possession of judgment and good sense and we will not make such ridiculous claims in our advertising only to "fall down" on them when the prospective customer inspects the clothes.

In this store $20 Suits are $20 and they wouldn't be $20 if they were worth $30. Likewise they wouldn't be $20 if they were worth only $15. We get what our clothes are HONESTLY WORTH—no more and no less.

NEWS OF STEELTON

CIGARMAKERS PRESENTED GOLD TO MRS. C. E. HILLIS

A Large Delegation of Young Women Occupied a Reserved Section in the Hillis Tabernacle Last Evening. Also Singing a Selection.

Although the High school commencement attracted many people to the High school auditorium last evening, the crowd at the Hillis tabernacle was larger than it had been any other evening this week. A large delegation of young women from the Steelton cigar factory occupied a reserved space and during the course of the services sang a selection. This delegation of cigar makers presented, through a spokeswoman, Mrs. Hillis with a five-dollar gold piece.

Mrs. Hillis delivered the sermon last evening, selecting her theme, "The Three Days," from Heb. 3-7; Prov. 27-1, and II Corinthians, 6-2. It was a forceful appeal for instant decision. She furnished nine reasons why all should become Christians to-day. At the end of the sermon four persons moved down the aisle to the front. Mrs. Hillis will address a meeting to be held in the Central Baptist church to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The Rev. C. E. Hillis will address a meeting in the tabernacle at the same hour to-morrow.

Prof. L. A. Stahl will deliver an address to women in the tabernacle to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 on the subject, "Amusement."

The Boosters will sing at the Saturday night service in the tabernacle and also at the Sunday afternoon service at 2.30.

At to-night's meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association in the Calder school building an illustrated talk on "Life in the Orient," will be given by Amelia Durbin. An address on the work of the S. P. C. A. will be given by J. T. Olmsted, president, and will be illustrated with slides.

FINE PROGRAM FEATURED ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Prof. Charles H. Albert, of Bloomsburg, Delivered an Entertaining Talk and Each of the Honor Students Acquitted Themselves Well.

A program of exceptional merit, with a rendition that scored perfection, was the feature of the thirty-first annual commencement of the Steelton High school, held last evening. The opening march was played by the Steelton band orchestra and this musical organization assisted greatly in the entertainment with the fine quality of music rendered. All of the honor students acquitted themselves in first-class style. The greatest merriment of the evening was furnished by the class history, which was ably presented by James Tolbert, who told of the failings of the boy members, and Miss Mildred Griffie, who reminded her fellow girl students of many embarrassing incidents which occurred during the past four years of school life.

The class orator, William Gus Jefferson, made his debut by a fine presentation of the oration, "One of Nature's Noblemen." A recitation, "The Night Rain," by Miss Margaretta Kelley Gault, was a splendid interpretation of a difficult reading. The only musical number on the program to be furnished by one of the scholars was a vocal solo by Miss Rebecca Marie Miller. In this she was accompanied by the band orchestra and the solo was pleasingly rendered.

The address to the students was delivered by Professor Charles H. Albert, of Bloomsburg, who presented many original and useful thoughts and urged the graduates to strive for a higher education.

W. F. Darby, president of the School Board, presented the diplomas and the Rev. G. N. Lauffer, of St. John's Lutheran church, offered prayer at the opening of the exercises. The graduates who took part in the program were: William Jefferson, Paul Kirby, Bryce Newbaker, Miss Margaretta Gault, Miss Rebecca Miller, James Smith, Miss Mildred Griffie, Miss Marie Alleman, James Tolbert and Miss Lucretia McElheny.

The graduates will be guests of the High School Alumni Association at a reception and entertainment in their honor.

HANLY HERE TO-MORROW

Ex-Governor of Indiana, Will Be One of Speakers at Flying Squadron's Closing Meeting

In his address at last evening's meeting held by the Flying Squadron at Grace Methodist church, Daniel A. Poling said in part:

"The money spent by the people of the United States in cooking their insides with alcohol would increase the wages of the laborer from two to three times what he already receives and with the money 1,300,000 more men could be employed. "The liquor business does not help the survival of the fittest in mankind. It does not select out of society the strongest and brainiest of men. The meanest man that I ever saw never touched a drop, but one of the finest young men that I knew in boyhood, and who was one of the best college athletes, is now a drunken bum on the streets and will find his final resting place in the Potter's field."

The speakers scheduled for to-day are Dr. Ira Landrith this afternoon and Dr. Carolyn Geisel this evening. At the closing sessions to-morrow the lecturers will be J. Frank Hanly, former Governor of Indiana, and Oliver Wayne Stewart, former member of the Illinois Legislature and noted temperance orator of the Middle West. The soloist will be Miss Vera K. Mullin.

The plan of the Flying Squadron is unique in the history of the United States. It is headed by former Governor or J. Frank Hanly, of Indiana, one of the most powerful temperance speakers in the United States. It is organized in three groups, each group complete within itself. The first group conducts the meeting of the first day, and passes on to the next city, its place being taken by the second and third groups in succession. In addition to speakers of national reputation, each group has with it musicians of ability.

SHADYLANE

New Building Plot at Enola Ready for Inspection

Under the supervision of Mr. Wm. J. Sohlund, the old Livingstone farm, in Enola, now owned by Geo. A. Houck, of Penbrook, has been plotted into small city-farms and bungalow sites.

A 90-foot main avenue, 50-foot streets and 15-foot alleys have been opened up, and Shadylane certainly looks attractive both for investments as well as for future homes. Shadylane will be sold Saturday, May 29th, at 1.30 p. m., and from what has been learned the prices are right. Numerous inquiries have been made and Mr. Sohlund expects a very good sale.

Monday, May 31, at 5 p. m. the sale closes at these present prices and an advance of 10 per cent. in prices will be added for the balance of unsold lots.

FIRE ESCAPES FOR HORSES

S. P. C. A. Discusses Dangers in Stables and Plans for Humane Sunday

Recommendations that fire escapes be put in stables for the safety of horses were discussed at yesterday's meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. No definite action was taken. A committee was appointed to arrange for the observance in this city of Humane Sunday. The occasion will probably be in several weeks. Efforts will be made to have pastors plead in the cause of dumb animals.

Miss Amelia Durbin, in the report of the education committee, suggested that bird day be combined with Arbor day as recommended by Governor Brumbaugh, and that school children be encouraged to build bird houses. Professor H. A. Surface declared that English sparrows must be exterminated if other useful birds are to be encouraged.
