Personal.

Rev. F. D. HOSKINS is sick with pneumonia in Philadelphia.

JOHN BEAMAN of Sayre was visiting his friends in this place yesterday afternoon.

C. F. TAYLOR is able to ride out and hopes to be sufficiently recovered to return to Utica next week.

A friend has presented GEO. ENNIS, the affable clerk at the Ward House, with a very handsome fishing rod.

Hon J. G. PATTON has returned from a two weeks' visit in Maryland, where he had been looking after his large landed estate.

ED MOUILLESSEUX has got finally settled in his new quarters with SWARTS & GORDON where he will be pleased to see you.

The nuptials of Miss CORA BARTLETT and Mr. N. EICHELBERGER are announced to come off on Wednesday evening next.

Doctor HARRIS has again hied himself to the cool and invigorating atmosphere of Pottsville, and will rusticate there till his duties as Court Crier call him back.

W. J. GUERNSEY and wife, of Syracuse, N. Y., were in this place yesterday. They are spending their honeymoon, having just been married, and went from here to Rome to visit friends.

A. LOGAN GRIMM, has been reinstated a member of the Sullivan county bar. Now if he will steer clear of the hotel bar he'll be all right, as he is a gentleman of fine talents and superior legal attainments.

BENJAMIN THOMAS, a well remembered Towanda boy who left this place some thirty years ago, has just been appointed Assistant General Superintendent of the Erie railroad. He had been a division superintendent for a number of years. BEN has lots of friends here who will rejoice with him over his good fortune.

We are indebted to our young friend TOM C. WARD, for a copy of the Auburn Historical Review, a paper devoted to the manufacturing interests of Auburn. From it we learn that the firm with which Mr. WARD is employed, the E. D. Clapp Wagon Co., employ five hundred men and turn out five thousand wagons per annum.

On dit that two of the most successful lady teachers in the Towanda Graded School are to resign during the present season to embark in matrimony.

The Bradford County Medical Society met in this place on Wednesday. Dr. HORTON of Terrytown, read some very interesting notes of a case he treated in 1829—fifty-two years ago.

Rev. C. H. WRIGHT will deliver the bacalaurate sermon before the students of the Collegiate Institute, in the Presbyterian Church at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday evening. Services at all the other protestant Churches will be omitted.

Mrs JORDAN, a widow lady of North Towanda, came to town yesterday with butter and grain, which she sold. She tied the money in her handkerchief and started to walk home. Near the upper end of the village she sat down to rest, laying her money by her side. After proceeding some distance toward home she remembered leaving the money and hurried back for her treasure but it was gone. The finder will be rewarded by returning it to the owner.

On Tuesday Bishop HOWE visited the parish of St. Mathew's, Pike, held service and confirmed a class presented by the devoted, energetic and faithful rector, Rev. GEO. P. HOPKINS. This faithful minister has served in his sacred office upward of forty-two years, and still he is apparently in the possession of good physical health; neither is his "eye dimmed nor his natural force abated." This unusually long period of successful service in the Master's cause has been mostly spent in this county and the immediate vicinity. The church of which he is now rector is one of the oldest in this part of the state.

BURLINGTON.—Dr. E. A. Everts of Ithaca has been visiting friends here.

Miss McKeeby of Illinois who has been spending several weeks with her cousin, Mrs. W. H. D. Green, has gone to Montrose to visit friends there.

Mrs. Dr. Murdoch is visiting her parents in Ulster.

Mr. and Mrs. Trumbull, of Liberty Corners, are visiting their daughter, Miss Angie. They also paid the county house a short visit.

W. H. D. Green is in Elmira on business.

The store of R. Morley which has been closed for a few days has been sold to P. Peck of Sylvania, to which place he will remove the goods.

Rev. H. Armstrong of Monroeton preached for us a week ago last Sunday evening. We hope to hear from him again.

One more wedding in Burlington, Mr. B. Gyles and Miss Clara Phelps. "May happiness be ever thine."

Among the graduates of the Troy graded school were the Misses Clara and Helen Blackwell of West Burlington.

June 1. TOMMY.
