HACK GOES OVER AN EMBANKMENT

While carrying eighteen passengers to Rupert Camp Meeting. By the upsetting of a hack at Grovania Sunday morning about 10 o'clock eighteen persons from Danville narrowly escaped serious injury and as it was several hours before the hack was righted.

The hack, driven by Ellis Rank, was carrying its occupants to the camp meeting at Rupert and J. M. Staver, of Bloomsburg, with his automobile was coming in the direction of this city. Between the Hagenbuch residence and the Grovania hotel the vehicles met. Mr. Staver stopped the "auto" to allow the hack to pass.

Along the highway at this point is an embankment between three and four feet high. Mr. Rank drove just a trifle too far to the right and two wheels ran over the edge of the bank and the hack, its occupants and the horses followed.

Dr. Paulus chanced to be near Grovania and hurried to the scene. An examination showed that Edward Love, one of the passengers, had a badly bruised right arm and that Driver Rank was painfully cut and bruised about the face. Several of other occupants received body bruises and scratches about the head and face.

Had it not been for the fact that the horses remained perfectly quiet after the overturning of the hack, every member of the party would likely have been injured.

Garfield, the oldest of the brothers, is 10 years of age and John is 8. After taking off their shoes and stockings and leaving them in the yard of their home they left and when they failed to return at dinner time their parents became worried and a search was started.

After searching the city thoroughly and as a last resort, Mr. Cook started about 9 o'clock Monday night for the home of his brother, Benjamin, who lives on the Jerseytown road about 4 miles from Danville. THE NEW SILK MILL A SURE GO

Will be in Operation Before the First of January. Several weeks ago this paper stated that there were prospects of another silk mill being started in this city. We are now in a position to state that the mill is a sure go and a principal projector last night stated that the new mill would be in full operation by the first of January, 1901. Active preparations are now being made.

The site for the new mill has been chosen and is said to be a very convenient one. A two story brick building will be erected. Nearly all of the $25,000 capital stock has been raised and a large part of this amount is Danville money. The Tynan system of machinery will be used in the new mill.

With the new wagon spindle manufactory in sight, the improvements being made at the Danville Rolling mill and the opening of the Skelp mill at the Reading Iron works, which will occur shortly, the prospects for a lively winter for Danville are exceedingly bright.

"The Great Lynch." Perhaps the most wonderful and astonishing high wire act in America today is that of John Lynch, professionally known as "The Great Lynch," who will appear here during the engagement of The Gus Sun American Minstrels at the opera house, this city, on Saturday evening, Aug. 11. Mr. Lynch performs on a thread-like wire with such ease and safety as most people would walk a 12-inch plank. He walks the ladder with his hands, uses the wire as a hammock, swinging eight to ten feet, and, most astonishing of all, turns a complete summersault on a high wire no larger than a small lead pencil. The act is truly nothing short of marvelous.

Burning Kindling Causes Excitement. About 9:30 o'clock Tuesday evening I. Gross put two sticks of kindling wood in his kitchen stove, at the rear of his tobacco store, on Mill street. The burning wood caused considerable smoke to ascend from the chimney and a neighbor who was about to retire, seeing it, ran out into the street, clothed in his night robe, and gave the alarm.

The origin of the alarm, however, became known before any of the hose companies responded. The affair caused considerable excitement on Mill street for a short time. Slight Wreck on the Reading. A slight wreck occurred on the P. & R. railway, at the Welsh Hill crossing, about 9 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The drawhead of a coal car in a south bound freight train pulled out and the train was obliged to come to a stand still. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beyer, of Danville, drove through here yesterday. Soldiers Dread the Grand Review. Members of Company F, as well as all the other National Guardsmen, now in camp at Mt. Gettysburg, are looking forward with dread to the grand review today.

While it is impossible to induce others to allow the use of their names in fathering a complaint, there is a universal sentiment among them that the review should be omitted, even though the Governor, Secretary Root and Adjutant General Corbin should be disappointed. The reasons why the officers think this way are manifold. They think the bodily welfare of the men should be considered. A grand review forces the men to remain standing upon the sun-baked hillsides for more than two hours and then to march fully six miles while carrying their heavy rifles and keeping up a quick step.

It is said that forty men were overcome by the heat during yesterday's inspection. Vestibuled Trains to the Seashore. The Philadelphia & Reading are running between Philadelphia and Atlantic City the finest and fastest trains ever placed in service by any railroad. New coaches have been built especially for this line, and are pronounced by all to be the best so far produced. They are wide-platform, vestibuled, eighty feet in length, and seat ninety persons. The Pullman parlor cars on these trains are also vestibuled, and make the service as near absolutely perfect as can be arrived at. Philadelphia & Reading engines burn hard coal, no smoke.
