CITY INTELLIGENCE.

CHURCH ITEMS.

Confirmation in the Redemptorist Churches.—Last Sunday, His Grace, the Archbishop, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation in the Churches of the Redemptorist Fathers to an aggregate of 401 recipients. In the Church of St. Alphonsus he confirmed 90 boys, 80 girls, 7 men and 16 women, there being in all 10 converts; St. Mary's (German) 63 boys, 85 girls, 19 men and 12 women, the converts numbering 5; in that of Notre Dame de Bon Secours, 4 boys, 22 girls and 4 adults.

Church of St. Peter and Paul, Third District.—To-day, at 10 o'clock, there will be a Grand High Mass at this Church, in honor of its patronal Saints, whose feast occurred yesterday. Rev. Richard Kane, whose reputation as a pulpit orator is only equalled by his fame as a journalist, will deliver the panegyric of the great Saints.

Annual Commencement of St. Mary's Dominican Convent, Greenville.—We have never attended any commencement of a young ladies' school with greater pleasure than we did that of this institution, which took place last Tuesday, at 4 o'clock p. m. The exercises were held in one of the spacious halls adjoining the building proper, which is located on St. Charles street, in the beautiful suburb of Greenville. The stage was most tastefully decorated with festoons, from which hung the memorable message of Caesar: "Veni, vidi, vici." (I came, I conquered), typical of the young ladies who came to the school, saw their difficulties, and vanquished them. The examinations in the several branches of the polite arts and the physical knowledge displayed the solid and versatile attainments of the young ladies being examined. The name of St. Dominic, with commendable taste and judgment, varied the entertainment with choice songs, sparkling declamations and excellent piano performances. A very amusing dialogue—"Monsieur and his English Master"—was spoken with such spirit and naturalness by Misses Gilmore and Drown as to elicit loud and repeated laughter from the audience. A little beauty of some four summers—Miss Marcella Farrelly—recited "My Mother" with a simplicity and grace that was quite charming. "The Little Philosopher" of Misses M. Capella and Carrher was worthy the strict attention paid during its delivery. The recitation by Miss Rose Molony of that ever-welcome "People will Talk" was received with unmistakable pleasure. The Misses Blanchard and Capella were undoubtedly superior to all others in their piano performances. The latter has brilliancy and facility of touch; the former, soul and energy. The music of Miss Capella pleases the mind by its fantastic warblings; that of Miss Blanchard affects the heart in its every mood, being now simple, then plaintive, sometimes grand and sonorous, at others, exact, yet always full of sentiment. But if we prefer the music of Miss Blanchard to that of Miss Capella, we cannot say the same of her elocution; for Miss Capella proved herself beyond all doubt to be the best elocutionist in the whole institution. Her rendition of "Les Adieux de Jeanne d'Arc" was equal to anything we have ever heard, in its line, from a young lady. We were enabled to better appreciate her delivery of this excellent piece, as we had previously heard it declaimed several times, and we have no hesitation in declaring each several previous effort was greatly inferior to her recitation. Her pathos was most touching; her bursts of patriotic feeling, most sublime; and her battle cries most exciting. Her countenance was lit up with a love of Fatherland, and her gestures spoke no less than her voice. To take it "all in all," one may say she "held the mirror up to nature," and succeeded in "smiting the action to the word, and the word to the action." But we were not so well pleased with the scene from "Mary Stuart," in which she enacted the part of Mary. It is true she delivered the pathetic passages with grace and soul, but her upper tones were somewhat shrill and the gradations in the pitches of her voice were a little too steep. Our criticism may appear too severe, as this is probably one of the hardest scenes for a female elocutionist in the whole range of the English drama; yet we are assured that Miss Capella, who is the possessor of great intellectual abilities, will be pleased with our paucity. After an excellent rendition by four hands (piano) of the overture from "Les Diamants de la Couronne," the Very Rev. Father Jeremiah Moynihan granted diplomas to Miss Capella, Miss Blanchard and Miss Molony, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of our esteemed citizen, Mr. P. Molony. Miss Capella, upon having received the gold medal for graduating with the highest honors, stepped forward and recited a very sensible valedictory. After paying a merited tribute to the Nuns of St. Dominic, and dwelling upon the time-honored associations connected with the institution, she continued with well-administered praise to the Very Rev. J. Moynihan for his sympathy and supervision which are so instrumental in the maintenance of St. Mary's Dominican Convent, and concluded with the customary farewell to her co-graduates, all of whom were laden with bouquets, the gifts of appreciative friends. Miss Rose Molony then delivered a neat farewell address, which was composed by Miss Drown. The premiums were distributed by the Very Rev. J. Moynihan, who concluded the evening's entertainment in his usual felicitous style, congratulating teachers, pupils and audience upon having such an institution in the finest suburb of our beautiful Louisiana.

Annual Celebration of the Young Men's Catholic Friends' Society of St. Alphonsus.—The 615 A. M. train of the New Orleans and Texas Railroad last Sunday morning bore from the city as light-hearted and merry a set of young men as could be found in a month's search. Being the twenty-second anniversary of the Young Men's Catholic Friends' Society of St. Alphonsus Parish, the members had determined to celebrate the day in fitting style, by an excursion to Biloxi, and a grand dinner at the Bessel House in that place. The officers of "our rising society" accompanied by the captain of the train at so inconvenient an hour, were visible in the appearance of the young men as they assembled at the depot, but their disposition was soon dissipated by the jests and merriness of the more sprightly members, and the gaily and good-fellowing thus assumed possessed the remainder of the day. After a ride of three and a half hours Biloxi was called out by the conductor, and the party, alighting, proceeded to the Bessel House, where a general dispersion took place; some, fond of salt water, indulging in a bath; others, calling on their friends and others, not fearing the heavy showers which fell at intervals, going on excursions through the town. We joined the latter class, and under the direction of experienced chaperons, first found ourselves in the very handsome church erected by that energetic missioner, Father Chevalier. The church is a very neat wooden structure, capable of holding some 300 persons. Father Chevalier has, considering his limited means, accomplished wonders during the three years he has been in Biloxi. Besides building the church above alluded to, he has built a handsome church fifteen miles up Biloxi river, and almost completed the large church which had been commenced at Handsboro, and he is now engaged in building a large school-house in the rear of his residence. With such priests as Father Chevalier, Mississippi will soon be dotted over with churches, to the joy of many pious souls who have long been without the consolations of religion. We next visited "Iriah Hill," which is at the western end of the town, and is so called because of having been selected by all the Hibernians of the town as the site of their residences. Here we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. M. O'Brien, the well-known nurseryman of the coast. From his extensive nursery he annually sells about 2000 trees of all kinds. In his orchard we noticed pear, peach and apple trees all bending to the ground with fruit. After enjoying the hospitalities of this whole-souled gentleman, his neighbor, Mr. Mark Gillan (a peasant, and we would state that the Gillan family is so numerous here that it forms nearly half the population of the hill,) we returned to the Bessel House, where a splendid dinner awaited us. The repeat having had full justice done it by the young men whose appetites had been sharpened by the morning's exercise, champagne and toasts followed. The toasts and responses were all very appropriate, and joy and merriment reigned till a late hour in the afternoon. Taking the 6:30 p. m. train the happy crowd, a little worn from so much unusual exercise, but all highly pleased with the excursion, were landed at the foot of Canal street at 11 o'clock. The following is a list of the officers of the Society: M. E. Halligan, President; D. J. Dunn, Vice President; Thos. A. Twomey, Secretary; J. F. Claverry, Assistant Secretary; James Kirkpatrick, Treasurer; John J. O'Brien, Marshal; J. C. M. Kavanagh, Librarian. To the excellent arrangements and tact of the committee, which consisted of Messrs James P. O'Brien, John J. O'Brien and W. H. Beamhan, the success of the celebration and the pleasure derived by all who participated are principally due.

Concert and Exhibition by the Pupils of St. Theresa's School.—The audience, which numbered some 800 persons, found, according to announcement, that the entertainment offered last Thursday evening by the pupils of this school, on Erato street, was no uninteresting examination in the various departments of science and art, but an exhibition of a sparkling nature suited for this season of the year. The declamations were of a high standard, demanding warmth of expression, gracefulness of gesture, and volume of voice. "The Conquered Banner" and "The Reply," were spoken by Masters J. Lecourt and J. Collins, in a manner that would have gladdened the hearts of their respective authors, had they been present. Master J. Killen, who very effectively delivered "The Battle of Clontibret," was followed by Master Thomas Toole, who recited that beautiful and touching speech of Robert Emmet. Though but a young boy, he spoke it now "trippingly on the tongue," then boldly and defiantly; and when interrupted by that egotist, Lord Norbury, (personated by James Collins,) the indignation of an honest and patriotic heart was well portrayed by this young boy, who is undoubtedly the best elocutionist in the school. He also sang a very affecting ballad, "Over There," which was encored twice. The solos (comic) "Johnny Sands" and "Whistling Boy" were imitatively sung by Masters J. Flemming and Francis Kent. The other exercises were gone through to the evident satisfaction of the audience. "The Smoked Miser," a side-splitting farce, was performed to the great divertissement of all; it consisted of humorous dialogue, ludicrous situations and mirth-provoking songs. "Spiderlimb," the principal character, as interpreted by Master John Ward, was the gem of the evening. The exhibition was a decided success, and reflected great credit upon Father Kenny, Brothers Tharian and William for the judgment, energy and courtesy displayed by them in originating and superintending it.

The Coming Algerine Fair.—The excitement with regard to this grand Fair is greatly on the increase both in Algiers and in this city. It will, beyond all doubt, be one of the best arranged, most interesting and successful Fairs ever held in this city. The new church, which is rapidly being fitted up for the purpose, is so large as to give ample room for the twenty-four tables on which will be displayed the many beautiful articles to be voted for and raffled off, and will afford a cool and commodious retreat in which to pass a couple of hours pleasantly. The Fair will be opened next Saturday night by the splendid brass band from St. Mary-Jefferson College. At 7 o'clock the students will entertain the visitors, and Mrs. Gray, of St. James, will delight the audience with the melodies of her sweet and highly-cultivated voice. The programme for the following nights we will give next week, being content here with giving simply that for the concert which will take place next Sunday:

Programme of the First Sacred Concert, to be given at the Bessel House, on Thursday, July 6, 1872. Grand Chorus—Pro Pace..... La Roche. Duet—Ave Maria Stella..... Campagna. Solo—Monsieur..... Curtis. Solo—O Gloria..... Curtis. Grand Chorus—By Mrs. T. P. Verd. Grand Solo and Chorus..... Campagna. Duet—The Mass..... Curtis. Solo—Ave Maria..... Campagna. Solo—Ave Maria..... Campagna. Grand Final Chorus..... Curtis.

The extraordinary voting contests which have been such features in our Fair, will here reach their climax. The Washington Hook and Ladder Company is pitted against the Brooklyn; Dr. Riley is contending for a cane with Dr. Dyer, and Mr. E. Manning with Mr. N. Tilton for some valuable prize. The contest between Fathers Sallé and Ganthorin is perhaps the most exciting, for Father Sallé, though only six months in the parish, gives his opponent odds of two to one. Let every one, then, prepare to visit the new church on these evenings, and whilst enjoying himself to his heart's content, help in the good work.

Annual Exhibition of the Academy of Holy Angels, Third District.—Though the exhibition of this institution was fixed at a very early hour—9 o'clock a. m.—and its location is in the western extremity of the Third District (corner Congress and Rampart), the hall was filled even to discomfort. The entertainment, besides some instrumental and vocal music, consisted of two dramas—"Athalie" (English) and "Le Martyre de Julia." The first is a tragedy, founded upon incidents in the Holy Scriptures, and was originally written in French, but translated into English for this occasion. The principal characters—Joad, the high priest; Athalie, widow of Jeram, and Josabeth, wife of the high priest—were respectively interpreted by the Misses L. Graywald, L. Fatjo and M. Gallagher, in a manner which defied criticism. The other dramatic persons enacted their parts with much spirit and naturalness. In the French drama—"Le Martyre de Julia"—Mme. E. Henry, E. Flanagan and L. Fatjo, distinguished themselves by their sweet and correct pronunciation, their pleasing attitudes and energetic delivery. The premiums were distributed by the Very Rev. Cornelius Moynihan, who made some apposite remarks by way of conclusion.

St. Vincent's School for Girls.—It was a matter of much comment and greater surprise to the audience, as this school is but of one year's growth, that the young girls were so proficient in music and elocution. But this may be accounted for by simply stating that the Sisters of Charity have charge of the establishment, and, as they are always recognized as teachers of the highest rank for young ladies, the result could not have been otherwise. The young girls affected no masculinity of style in the delivery of their pieces, but were pleasingly calm and natural. "The Green Mossy Bank" was touchingly recited by Miss K. Moran, whereupon Miss A. Rafter read "The Beauties of Nature," an essay of a metaphysical turn of thought, which was only equalled by one on "Time" composed by Miss A. Finley. A juvenile piece was delivered by little Miss Mena Steele with appropriate action and distinct articulation. The choruses: "The Wandering Refugee" and "Come, Come, Come," were sweetly and correctly sung by the small girls. Besides the exertions of the Sisters, the success of the exhibition was due to Miss Ellen McGuigan, Mistress of Ceremonies. The audience who had witnessed the remarkable progress made by the pupils in one short year, went away with the determination of securing the patronage of their friends for St. Vincent's school which is St. Theresa's parochial school for girls.

St. Joseph's Girl School.—A very large audience was assembled to witness the annual exhibition of this school, which took place in the schoolhouse, Common street, last Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. The exercises were of an interesting nature comprising songs, recitations, dialogues and the distribution of premiums. The opening address of Miss Mary Donovan and the song "Come sing to me Aglin," by Miss Mary Cloney were deserving the applause which attended their rendition. Miss Colina Wagatha, at intervals delighted the auditory with the performance of several operatic airs, the movements being for the most part audacious, and the songs sung in chorus, with the exception of a slight halt in the time, were very entertaining. In short, the programme was carried out to the utmost satisfaction of the many persons composing the assemblage.

St. John's Commercial Academy.—A very interesting exhibition was given by the students of this Academy in the old Church of St. John the Baptist, on the evening of the 26th inst. Besides much singing and occasional dialogues, there was a variety of amusing recitations. Master Jno. Kilbride delivered "The Modern Belle" with such comic tones and gestures as to elicit applause which never abated until he reappeared and spoke it over again. Master John Ryan had a very happy conception and a still better recitation of "The Young Orator." He had a peculiarity of pitching his voice to its utmost power and of drawing out the syllables so that none could help laughing. "Macaulay's Vindication of Catholicism" as delivered by Master J. D. Molony was undeniably one of the best efforts of the evening. Master L. Trinchard, with excellent voice and graceful gesture declaimed "The Fireman." The success of "A Lesson in Politeness" was owing to the mirth-provoking powers of Master James Brohan, who received great assistance from Master D. Philbin. The closing address was delivered by Master Louis Casey, who distinguished himself most creditably throughout the whole evening by his gentlemanly deportment, able speaking and his natural adaptation to the characters he interpreted in dialogue. The Very Rev. Father Moynihan read the Roll of Honor, and concluded the exercises with a few well-timed remarks.

Catholic Total Abstinence Union.

According to the announcement in last Sunday's Star, there will be a meeting this Sunday evening, at 5 o'clock, for the purpose of effecting the organization of a Union in this city. The meeting will be held in the hall of the Washington Hook and Ladder Company, at 7 A. M. to 8 P. M. and 1200 shops acceded at once to their demands. The Police Commissioners gave the delegation of 100 men permission to parade on the 19th of July. The delegation reports that the organization numbers 6000 in New York City. They are not to be armed. The trial of Stokes was commenced on the 27th. The convicts in the State prison at Albany revolted on the 27th, 300 were locked up, but 300 in the yard could not be secured and refused to obey orders. After much difficulty the revolt was put down the same evening.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY. UNITED STATES. NEW YORK.—The strikers and bosses seem to be gradually coming to terms, each making some concessions to the other. On the 24th barbers in 1700 shops struck for reduced hours from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M. and 1200 shops acceded at once to their demands. POLITICAL. The following Democratic State Conventions held during the week have declined for accepting the Cincinnati nominees; Nebraska, Mississippi, California, Ohio, Arkansas, and Illinois. The Georgia, Kentucky and Alabama Conventions sent delegates without instructions. In Illinois the Liberal and Democratic Conventions met at the same time and forming a coalition nominated a ticket as follows: Attorney-General, Secretary of State, Lieutenant-Governor, Democratic-Lieutenant Governor, Auditor, Treasurer and Clerk of the Supreme Court. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Mr. Davis, the nominee of the Labor Reformers has written a letter declining the nomination as it was not ratified by the Cincinnati convention. The Greenback party was defeated at New York by a few Republican Free Traders, against the action of the Baltimore Convention before deciding.

ENGLAND. Greenville, in the House of Lords, and Gladstone, in the Commons, gave statements of the progress of arbitrators on the Alabama Claims. The arbitration having decided that indirect claims do not constitute a good foundation for awards of damages and should be excluded from consideration, the treaty is now considered settled, and no further trouble is apprehended. England has thus gained her point. The Board continues in secret session in Geneva. Terrible storms passed over the country on the 24th, destroying buildings, trees and crops.

FRANCE. Negotiations with Germany for anticipating the time for the liberation of French territory are progressing satisfactorily. It is said that Thiers will on Monday announce the favorable result and demand authority to conclude a loan to meet the payments.

ITALY. The Pope, on the 26th, received the members of the German Literary Club of Rome, and in his reply he used the following language: "The persecution of Catholics has commenced in Germany, but they display courage under their afflictions and have notified the German Government that the persecution of the Church is folly. The Church," said the Holy Father, "remains triumphant. We have asked Princes and Bishops here, and the once contented German Bishops have, according to the expressed belief of the German Government, been suddenly transformed into dangerous conspirators. No reply has yet been received. Let us pray our Holy Father in Heaven that the stone may fall that will complete the overthrow of Colossus."

SPAIN. The Dr. Howard affair has at last been officially arranged by Minister Siches, and Senator Maron, Minister of Foreign Affairs. The American Government waives the question of the claims of Dr. Howard to American citizenship, and places its action upon the ground of friendly intercession in Dr. Howard's behalf for amnesty to be granted by the Spanish Government. Howard's return has been ordered. It is reported that the Spanish Minister has declared in favor of the separation of the Church and State in Spain. Duke de Montpensier has issued a manifesto, asserting the right of Isabella's son, Prince Asturias, to the throne.

BUSINESS NOTICES. Do Not Despair.—Hundred of cases of Scrofula in its worst stages, that have defied the skill of eminent Physicians, Rheumatism that have been suffering for years, and the victims of the injudicious use of Mercury, have been radically cured by Dr. J. C. Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful alterative and blood purifier known. It is prescribed by many Physicians in the practice.

Dr. TUTT'S HAIR DYE contains no Sulphur. CAUTION.—Every genuine box of Dr. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bears the signature of Fleming Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa., and their private trade-mark. Take no other; the market is full of imitations. It is the popular verdict that people who have been accustomed to the use of Bitter or Cordials, are obliged, eventually, to resort to McLANE'S LIVER PILLS for permanent relief.

MINERAL SPERM OIL. This Oil combines all the excellent illuminating qualities of Kerosene Oil together with perfect safety; an Oil that can be used in lamps or stoves, stored in warehouses, and used by any one, however carelessly. Highest lamp light, burned in kerosene over three in better and longer time, in fact used anywhere, and for purposes of illumination as safely as any other used while or before oil. Its lighting power without odor, Fahrenheit, its boiling point 500 Fahrenheit, and its specific gravity the same as whale sperm or lard oil. It will not ignite under 300 Fahrenheit, and consequently absolutely safe.

IT WILL NOT TAKE FIRE IN CASE OF BREAKAGE OF THE LAMP. THE OIL WILL EXTINGUISH THE FLAME. The Oil itself has no odor while burning. It gives a light of TEN-CANDLE POWER, at a cost and expense never known before, and for heating and lighting steamers, factories and dwelling houses it is invaluable, and cannot be too highly recommended. The Oil is patented, and made by a process which insures its purity. It burns with great brilliancy in the DUAL BURNER. It requires but little attention and no trimming. The Oil never runs in the lamp, as it absorbs no oxygen from the atmosphere. It does not deteriorate by age. This Burner fits all ordinary coal oil lamps.

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BURN THIS OIL. 1. Its absolute safety to life and property. 2. Its brilliancy of light. 3. Its economy, being about the same as Kerosene. 4. Its perfect freedom from odor. THE MINERAL SPERM OIL has been adopted by the Board of Supervising Inspectors for use on all Steam Vessels, and has been approved by the Presidents of Insurance Companies in New York, Boston and New Orleans. We invite all who are interested to call and examine. Send for circulars. GEORGE & SEYMOUR, Sole Agents, 67 and 69 Front street, and 46 and 48 Fulton at New Orleans.
