General Forrest has 530 acres of good land under cultivation in Kentucky. Some young men in Louisville have formed an "anti-life-young-bat-to-a-woman society."

The "Spelling Bee" buzzed for the first time in Dublin on Sept. 26th, in the new Temperance Hall. The citizens of Corpus Christi are making arrangements for the building of sea-walls along the bay front.

The brevity of human life is generally recognized in the abstract by all men; and yet rarely all of them act as if it would endure for ever.

Professor Tice, the weather prophet, is fanning up another little zephyr. This time it is to blow great guns on the 25th of December—Christmas.

A certain New York dry goods merchant, in want of a boy, lately displayed the following suggestive notice: "Boy wanted, that has fully read himself and is not too intellectual."

Ex-Senator Lyman Trumbull writes: "I consider administrative reform and the limiting of the Federal Government to its constitutional powers as the paramount issues of the day."

There has never yet been a good history of Prussia in English. The void is to be filled by Captain Wyatt, who is writing a Prussian history in eight volumes, the first instalment of which will appear this month.

When the Canadian Government made a grant in favor of the veterans of 1812, it had no idea that the number would be more than about 800 or 900, but the list has footed up over 2500, and consequently the gratuity will be correspondingly small.

G. W. Childs is writing for the Washington Republican now—at least we find this in that paper:

While smoking on the powder keg, He dropped a cinder down; Then he rose like a meteor, To wear the golden crown.

It is officially announced at Madrid that in the Province of Burgos alone the decree of confiscation against Carlists has been enforced against 2,255 persons, the greater part of whom, in addition to losing their property, have been banished.

The English police have discovered that several shop-keepers have cards indicating their business and location, and that when a man enters a tobacco shop or saloon he may return to the street with one of these cards pasted, as an advertisement, on his back.

The discovery of a subterranean forest, just below the surface of the bed of the Thames, near Cherry Garden pier, is of great interest. The oak, the alder, and the willow are the principal trees. These retain their vegetable character, but other evidences show that the forest belongs to the period of the elk and the fad deer in the south of England.

A New England fireman rose hastily at the first alarm. Heran along the streets bellowing "Fire." He was enthusiastically "jumping the old machine," and crying "Now jam her down for our side, Johnny," when by the light of the ascending flames, which were trying to toy with the pale-faced moon, he discovered that he had on his wife's velvet basque spangled with bugles and beads.

One of the provisions of the New Constitution proposed for North Carolina is the following: "No person who shall deny the being of God, or the truth of the Christian religion, or the divine authority of the Old or New Testament, or shall hold religious principles incompatible with the freedom or safety of the State, shall be capable of holding any office or place of trust or profit in the civil department within this State."

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Rosecrans said to St. Aloysius' Society, of Portsmouth, Ohio: "It is not your Catholicity which shuts you out from honor in this country. Honesty is a fatal bar to political aspiration. But your Catholicity, manfully avowed, and steadfastly adhered to, will wring respect from the American people in despite of prejudice and calumny."

The Giunta Liquidatrice has sold a piece of ground annexed to the Church of the Crociferi, Rome, for over 60,000 lire to the American-Italian Methodists, on which they intend to erect a new place of worship. The building will be completed in four or five months. A Liberal newspaper expresses a hope that soon in Rome will be erected mosques and temples to all the gods and goddesses.

His Excellency Iwakura Tomowio, Chief of the Japanese Embassy to the United States and England five years ago, has presented a book weighing over three tons, to the library of the India Office, London. The work is a set of the Chinese version of the Buddhist Scriptures, and fills a room by itself. How any mortal is to get time to convert himself to Buddhism by reading through this wilderness of theology, unless life is lengthened to the patriarchal span, puzzles conjecture.

A case has recently occurred at Goshes, Massachusetts, that seemed to confirm the popular belief that beech trees are never struck by lightning. A beech and maple standing near together with branches interlocking each other, received an electric bolt from a passing cloud which shattered the maple and passed into the earth through a prostrate hemlock tree lying near, which was stripped of its bark nearly the whole length. No trace of the lightning was left upon the beech.

In the New York sales of property seized for taxes, time is substituted for money, and the property is knocked down to the party offering to pay the arrears, cost, etc., for the least number of years use of the property, thus giving the delinquent as much time as the property may have been sold for, to redeem the same, paying interest and expenses to the party who bought. If six months after the expiration of the term of sale, the owner does not settle, the city grants an absolute title to the purchaser.

Order your winter's supply of wood and coal from Mrs. Fry's yard, 133 and 135 Calhoun street, Lawrence E. Nichols, manager. Mr. Nichols will sell all orders promptly, at lowest market rates, and guarantee full satisfaction.

Jubilee Processions.

Early in the summer several of the largest congregations visited the four Jubilee Churches in procession. During the last three months, however, the weather was so hot that the pastors of the other churches determined to postpone the processional visits of their congregations till the present month. The first of these processions, composed of the faithful of the Parishes of St. Theresa and St. Michael, took place last Sunday evening and made a most imposing display. With a strange fatality which seems to attach itself to notices of all Catholic celebrations in the secular press of this city, it would have been almost impossible for any non-Catholic to imagine, after reading the account in the Picayune, what the procession was, and for what purpose it was intended. The Bulletin, however, had a most excellent report, from which we take the following extract:

Of the deep piety and sincere devotion of the Catholics of our city to their Holy Mother, the Church, the scenes witnessed on our streets Sunday gave the highest evidence, when thousands of men, women and children, amongst whom were many of the most esteemed merchants and professional men, and members of the most beautiful and refined ladies of our city, joined in the jubilee services of ST. MICHAEL'S AND ST. THERESA'S PARISHES, making up a procession which filled the streets and lined the sidewalks for a distance of three or four squares.

The congregation of St. Michael's, under their esteemed pastor, Rev. Father Thomas Heslin, left their beautiful church, which faces Annunciation Square, at half-past 3 o'clock P. M., and proceeded to St. Theresa's Church, where the people of that parish, directed by their zealous and energetic pastor, Rev. Father Massardier, assisted by Rev. Father Jerry Mossnihan, the younger, awaited them. The two congregations now united, and was arranged in the following order: Cross-bearers, boys of both parochial schools, societies of boys of both parishes, ladies, gentlemen, St. Louis Literary Society, Total Abstinence Society and altar boys.

As usual, the ladies manifested their zeal by attending the devotion in great numbers and walking the entire route of the Jubilee, which embraced a visit to St. Patrick's, Immaculate Conception, Cathedral and the Bishop's (St. Mary's).

The weather was all that could have been desired. The warmth and brightness of a clear autumn day cheered the faithful. The banners were lovely as they shimmered in the light of the sinking rays of the sun, but far more beautiful to contemplate were the faith, devotion and self-sacrifice of the great throng of intelligent and refined people, who testified their belief in the doctrines of the Church of Ages, and their fealty to its spiritual head, the earthly successor to the keys and authority of Peter.

The second procession of these two parishes will take place on next Sunday, 24th inst., and the third and last on Sunday, 31st inst. In the meantime, during the two weeks, appropriate services will be held in both churches, at which sermons will be preached by learned and eloquent divines.

Owing to the immense number of persons in the procession, rendering it difficult for all to find accommodations in the Jubilee Churches at the same time, Fathers Massardier and Heslin have decided to take their respective parishioners separately in procession this evening and next Sunday. The procession of the people of St. Michael's will start at 3:30 o'clock, and that of St. Theresa's at 3 o'clock.

Mission in Brashear City.

Editor Morning Star: Before giving you a detailed account of the great good that has been wrought in this locality by Father de Ham, C. S. R., and his associate, Father Faivre, permit me to say one word of our town and its environs.

Brashear City, looking out on the broad expanse of Berwick's Bay, seems like a young giant conscious of its future strength. A few years ago its scattered houses contained a population of six or seven hundred souls; to-day its population numbers twenty-seven hundred persons. The dispersed children of Israel, with a keen eye to future trade, prosperity and material grandeur, have recently erected a spacious synagogue—meaning they intend to remain here, for here will be the seat of wealth.

One passenger train and several freight trains arrive from and leave for New Orleans daily. Steamboats plying on the classic stream of Evangeline arrive and depart from this port every day. Mr. Morgan's superb iron steamships, from every important seaport of the coast of Texas, come here to be relieved of their heavy burden of commercial riches. But what avail all this to a man if he loses his soul?

Our church here has been enlarged twice since it was first built. One effect of the mission will no doubt be the building of another church. Father de Ham preached his first sermon on Sunday, the 3d inst., and arranged the instructive and devotional exercises for the week ensuing at such hours as to catch every person who wanted to attend. In fact, whether rich or poor, laborer or not, it would have puzzled the ingenuity of an old reprobate to find an excuse for the church was open at all hours, and the ambassador of Christ, like a true sentinel, was ever at his post. At the end of the first week Father de Ham sent for Father Faivre to assist him, who continued the mission in French, for the benefit of those who could not understand English, in which language the mission has been preached during the first week.

Men whose shadows had not darkened the inside of a church for ten and twenty years were seen, after a few days, regularly attending the mission. Persons who were never suspected of belonging to any religion came in quietly, made the sign of the cross, and knelt. The scattered elements of Catholicity, heretofore unknown, in fragments and dissipated, by the mission have been brought together and crystallized. Three hundred and forty communicants attest the labor and piety of Father de Ham and his assistant, Father Faivre. Several persons were admitted into the Church during the mission, but in justice to our pastor Rev. Father Chapin, I must say these persons had been prepared before the devoted Redemptorists came here.

The missionaries read at first sight the wants and degree of intelligence of their audience. The photographic delineations of the recognize his own picture. Truth is inexorable and severe, but its justice is a compensation. There is but one voice here, and that is the voice of thanks to the missionaries for the mission. Accept this letter as a feeble echo of that voice.

Immigration for the past year has only brought us 227,000 new citizens, taking no account of the number who have gone home. This is less than half the annual arrival two years ago. The countries from which we receive rank in the following order: Germany 47,769, England 40,130, Ireland 37,957, Canada 25,000, China 16,487, France 8,331, Russia 7,922. Ireland is the only country which sends us more females than males. The comers from Russia are probably the Menonites, and 150 are credited to Iceland. Of those who have an occupation, 2,428 belong to the professions and 33,809 to the skilled occupations. There are 500 musicians, that being the most numerous profession; 90 Jesuits and 94 Sisters of Charity and Mercy.

If you live long enough, if you can put by money in small amounts and not touch it when in a pinch, and if your investments are sure always to be good, it may pay you as well to provide for the future of your family in some other way than by insuring your life. There are three to remember. But should you conclude that any one of these contingencies is too problematical to depend on, then go to the Louisiana Equitable Life Co., corner of Carondelet and Gravier streets, and take out a policy in favor of your wife, mother or children.

At the present time, when every one is fixing up his house with a view to comfort during the winter months it is of some importance to remember where to purchase many articles of necessity to advantage. For instance, though our friend, G. Pitard, Esq., is very well known to the general public, still some in need of paints, oils, varnish, window glass, wall paper, etc., might forget that he has these things in large quantities and at low prices at his store, 221 and 223 Canal street, between Rampart and Basin streets. Give him a call.

"The Boys in Grey."

We were wont to admire the boys who wore the grey, though it was not for the grey alone, but for the bold and daring spirit that shone under it. They commanded the admiration of the true and the brave in every land. But how few admire a fine head enveloped in grey hair and whiskers—very few. We all love admiration, and nothing in our appearance is more calculated to secure it than pretty hair. If of age, sickness or sorrow has robbed you of it, you can get it by the use of DR. CUTT'S HAIR DYE. Its popularity is so great that it can be found on the shelves of every druggist in the land.

A Man of a Thousand.

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected from CONSUMPTION, all remedies failed. The patient led to a discovery whereby Dr. H. James cured his only child with a preparation of Canada Indigo. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to any person. There is not a single symptom of Consumption that it does not dissipate—Night Sweats, Irritation of the Nerves, Difficult Expectoration, Sharp Pains in the Lungs, Nausea at the Stomach, Inaction of the Bowels, and Wasting of the Muscles. Address Craddock & Co., 1022 Race street, Philadelphia, Pa., giving name of this paper.
