ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE BENEFIT OF ST. MARY ORPHAN BOYS' ASYLUM, THIRD DISTRICT.

Stay, lady, stay, for mercy's sake, And hear a helpless orphan's tale; Ah! sure my looks must pity wake, 'I's want thes makes my cheek so pale Who can resist the pathetic appeal of the orphan's cry? What ear can let it pass uneded 7

The child's mother is dead, its father lies under the stone! Is it naked; who will clothe it? Houseless; who will shelter it? Hongry; who will feed it?

The little heart is broken; who will repair it? The tiny temples ache; who will take out the pain 7 the child is weak; who will support it?

Strong; who will direct its steps?

To whom does the orphan belong? Everybody's child, it is nobody's child! It is a bur-den to each and to all, except unto you, O daughter of charity, Sister of Mercy, virtuous follower of Vincent de Paul.

The asylum is the orphan's home. Is it a cheery one? It is warm and pleasant, or cold and cheerless, just as we would have it—as the public heart is either shut or open to a pulse of feeling for the napiese chita.

There are three hundred little beings now heard begging for a taste of home comforts, home joys, from the St. Mary Orphan Boys' Asylum in the Third District. Will the cry be heard? It will. The people of New Orleans, proverbial for their charities, have never yet turned a deaf ear to the voice of such an appeal.

The Asylum, for supplies already consumed, is indebted to the baker, $1600; to the butcher $1500; the grocer, upwards of $1000!

Clothing and shoes, too, as well as fuel, and a fresh supply of provisions, are sadly needed for the coming winter.

On account of the universal depression in business, this appeal is reluctantly made; but it is felt that, under the circumstances, silence further protracted were criminal.

THEREFORE, to afford immediate relief, arrangements have been made for some of the orphans themselves to enact a play, specially prepared for them, on the night of Saturday, October 14; time, 7:30; place, Varieties Thea-tre. The regular orchestral band of the theatre has been engaged for the occasion. Tickets, 50 cents; chairs in the boxes, 75 cents. Reserved seats may be secured without additional charge at the office of the theatre the Thursday and Friday next preceding the day of perform ORDER OF EXERCISES.

A gentleman was suffering from an ulcerated sore throat, which floally became so awollen that his life was despaired of, when his household came to his bedside to bid him farewell. Each person grasped his hand for a moment, and then turoing went out weeping. A pet ape, which had moddestly waited till the last, then advanced and grasping his master's hand for a minute, also turned and went away with his hands to his eyes. This assumption of grief which is hardly possible the animal could have felt, since it could scarcely have comprehended the problem of mortality there so powerfully presented to the human mind, was so ludicrious in its perfection that the patient himself was seized with an uncontrollable fit of laughter, which broke the clear in his throat, whereby his life was saved.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Recueil de Lectures, a l'usage des Ecoles : Parune Sœur de St. Joseph. New York : D. & J. Sadlier & Co. Here is another new school book of over two hundred pages, printed in large clear type, on strong white paper, and solidly bound in handsome brown cloth covers. Although not voluminous the work seem quite complete as a course of French reading, the mastery of which will go far to perfect the scholarship of the student. It would not be amiss, in future editions, to indicate upon the title-page and in the pre-face, that the book is prepared especially for the benefit of English-speaking pupils, inas-much as all the instructions on pronunciation are given in that language. The opportune appearance of this valuable work at the opening of the scholastic year, is another verification of a late remark that "the agitation of the education question throughout the world, has given an unusual impetus to the activity of Catholic publishers everywhere"; and our hope is that this agitation may continue till the whole world be forced to admit that the Catholic system of education is the only one fit for human beings, since it alone educates the whole man-not only his brain and mind, but his heart and soul as well.

Retreat and Celebration by the Total Abstinence Societies.

In one of the advertising columns on our fifth page we publish the programme of the annual celebration of Father Mathew's birthday by our Total Abstinence Societies. There will be a Retreat of three days, commencing Wednesday next. Each evening, at 7:30 o'clock, there will be a sermon by Father Free, S.J., at the Jesuits' Church, to be followed by Benediction. public, particularly gentlemen, are invited to attend. Next Sunday morning, October 8th, the members of the Societies will receive Holy Communion at the 7 o'clock Mass at the Jesuite Church, and in the evening, at 7 o'clock, they and their friends will attend a lecture by Rev. H. Begly, S.J., one of the Spiritual Directors of the Society.

In consequence of the above mentioned arrangements, several societies, including the N. O. C. T. A. Association and St. Theresa's, whick usually meet on the second Sunday o the month, will hold their regular meetings for this month (October) to-day, Sunday, Oct. 1st. Members should pay particular attention to the official notices from the officers of their societies in another column of to day's STAR.

THE INTERNATIONALISTS -The Internation alists are busy in Italy. The second congress of the Internationalists of the Marches and Umbria, was held at lesi on the 20th of August. Representatives of twenty sections were present. It was resolved to continue the work of propagating and effecting revolutionary socialism." They voted unanimously the programme of the Federation, namely that the workman is essentially opposed to anthority and anarchical, that the actual organization of the State and of property is impos sible and must be destroyed, and that society must be remodelled upon the basis of an archy and collectivism," etc. The congress broke up with shouts of Viva la Revolucione Sociale. The organ of the Internationalists is the Martello, a paper which contained for its first official article a furious denunciation of the leva, or conscription for the army, which robs parents of their children One Andrew Costa of Imola, an Internationalist of Imola who had received warning from the police, was arrested at Iesi, on the 24th of August, for disobeying the police regulations respecting persons under warning. He was shortly after wards set at liberty.

During our last unsuccessful war for inde pendence, in 1863, we once met, on the streets of Mobile, a venerable gentleman who was pointed out to us as a survivor of one of the most noted Indian fights in the State of Alabama. While remembering perfectly well the meeting, a treacherous memory forbids our recalling the name of either the veteran himself, or the encounter which he survived : but the thrilling incident of Alabama bistory in another column, revives a wish to know more of both, and these lines are written in the hope that some good Stau reader in Alabama will furnish the desired information. Most particularly would we be glad to know if any of the Austill family are yet living, for we should like, if poss ble, to procure reliable data whereby to clear away some of the seeming discrepancies in the various accounts given by Claiborne and Pickett. Will some of our Mobile friends favor the STAR in this matter.

HEALTH OF PIUS IX - The Roman correspon dept of the Univers, referring to the various statements in the Euglish papers about the regulations of a future Conclave, quotes the words of a French physician addressed to himself immediately after an audience at the Vationn. "The Pope," he said, " is healthy and vigorous; he has no disease; all his or gans are in perfect harmony with each other, and his look, voice, and gesture are those of a man of sixty, and not of an old man of eightyfive. He may live, and even ought to live, barring unforcesen accidents, for ten years longer." This, observes the correspondent, did not surprise me, for it is only what all the other doctors say, and we may ourselves add that such is also the impression which the robust old age of the Supreme Pontiff makes upon those of our countrymen who have recently been admitted to his presence.

It is evident that Wagner, the musician of It is evident that Wagner, the musician of the future, does not care much for newspaper favor. A recent letter says: "Bayreuth is the most inaccessible spot on earth, and every attempt at attending the rehearsals—no matter who has made it—has failed at ouce. Wagner answers no letters, keeps you waiting an hour in his antercom before he can send you word that he will not see you, and, in brief, no pains are spared to make everybody connected with the press feel that the music of the future depends upon the future, and does not care a fig for the present."

THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LAWS THIRD ANNUAL CELEBRATION VERSUS GRANT AND HIS CABINET.

To the Editor of the Boston Post :

To the Editor of the Boston Post:

Neither the Attorney General nor the Secretary of War, nor the President of the United States, can autherize an act which the law makes punishable by fine and imprisonment at hard labor and disqualification from holding office.

"That in an cases, the military should be under strict subordination to and governed by the civil power," is a principle which cannot be disregarded by any Government which deserves to be called Republican; and in a constitutional government, whether called republican or monarchical, it is essential "that elections should be absolutely tree, therefore all undue influences upon electors are illegal, and strongly prohibited." Mr. Locker roke it "amorg those breaches of trust in the Executive magistrate, which, according to his notions, smount to a dissolution of the government, if he employs the force, treasure, and officers of the society to corrept the representatives, or openly to pre engage the electors and prescribe what manner of persons shall be chosen. For thus to regulate candidates and electors, and new-model the ways of election, what is it, but to cat up the Government by the public security t" roots, and posen the very foundation of public security ?"

To do these things, whether by means of the army or otherwise, is beyond the constitutional power of the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, or of the President of the United States, and consequently is not within the lawful power of any officer or person acting under either. Sir William Blackstone has said that, "as soon therefore as the time and place of election, either in counties or in boroughs are fixed, all soldiers quartered in the place are to remove, at least one day before the election, to the distance of two miles or more, and not to return until one day after the poll is ended."—I Bl. Com. 139. And the Revised Statutes of the United States passed by the Forty-third Congress (1873 4) provide as follows: To do these things, whether by means of

"Sect. 5529. Every officer or other person in the military or naval service, who by force, threat, intimidation, order, advice or otherwise, prevents or attempts to prevent, any qualified voter of any State from freely exercising the right of suffrage at any general or special election in such State, shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, and imprisoned at hard labor not more than five years."

"Sect. 5530. Every officer of the army or navy who prescribes or fixes, or attempts to prescribe or fix, whether by proclamation, order or otherwise, the qualifications of voters at any election in any State, shall be punished as provided in the preceding section."

How to Cure a Bab Memory.—Your memory is bad perhaps; but I can tell you two secrets that will care the worst memory. One is to read a subject when strongly interested. The other is, to not only read, but thick. When you read a paragraph or a case of a book given the book and try to tree. but think. When you read a paragraph or a page of a book, close the book, and try to re-member the ideas on that page, and not only page of a book, close the book, and try to remember the ideas on that page, and not only recall them vaguely in your mind but put them into words and speak them out. Faithfully follow these two rules, and you have the golden keys of knowledge. Besides inattentive reading, there are other things injurious to memory. One is the habit of skimming over newspapers, items of news, smart remarks, bits of information, pultical reflection, fashion notes, all in a confused jumble, never to be thought of again, thus diligently cut tivating a habit of careless reading hard to break. Another is the reading of trasty novels. Nothing is so latal to reading with profit as the habit of running through story after story and forgetting them as soon as read. I know a gray haired woman, a lifelong lover of books who sadly declares that her mind has been ruined by such reading.
