ILLINOIS IN CABINET.

Charles Davies of Evanston May Be Given a Position.

PROMINENT IN PARTY COUNCILS.

New York Political Leaders seem to Think It is Practically Settled That Cornelius N. Bliss Will Be Secretary of the Treasury—The Result of the Factional Fight in Delaware May Cost One Republican Elector—Political Pointers.

Washington, Nov. 9.—It is authoritatively stated that Illinois is to have a place in McKinley's cabinet. The Illinoisan chosen to receive that honor is not positively known, but he will come from Chicago. It depends much on Editor Kohlsaat. If he will take it, he will be chosen. If he declines, Robert Lincoln will, it is asserted, be offered his old place in the war department. If Lincoln, too, on account of his profitable law practice, should decline the honor, several other prominent Chicagoans would be considered, and one of them selected. Charles Davies of Evanston, who handled the funds of the Republican national committee during the campaign, is believed to have a better chance than any other Illinoisan for a place in the cabinet. He was put forward during the campaign by Mr. Hanna and Mr. Kohlsaat, and is considered by the latter as greater than were assigned to any other Illinoisan.

Bliss for the Treasury. Republican local leaders in New York say that it seems to be practically settled that Cornelius N. Bliss will be President McKinley's secretary of the treasury. It is understood that the president-elect has expressed a desire that Mr. Bliss accept the treasury portfolio and is anxious that his selection should have the approval of the Republican party in New York city and state. The selection of Mr. Bliss for this place, it is said, will not be disappointing or even unsatisfactory to the local Republican organization. In his capacity as treasurer of the national committee, Mr. Bliss had frequent and friendly relations were established. So certain is one Republican of national prominence that Mr. Bliss is to be the next secretary of the treasury that he had positive information that the appointment had been tendered and accepted.

WINSTON LEADS IN KENTUCKY.

Silver Democrats, However, Are Still Claiming the State.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9.—With the official returns from 106 of the 119 counties of the state and unofficial returns from the balance, McKinley won leads by a margin of 537 votes, and the official returns from the thirteen counties are not expected to materially alter the total given. These figures must stand until the state canvassing board decides the various contests and investigates the numerous charges of fraud. The silver Democrats are still claiming the state, basing their claim on only 14,649 plurality for McKinley in the Eleventh congressional district. They give no table of the vote by counties but simply assert that the above figures are correct. On the other hand, the Republican figures show that the Democrats got 10,000 more votes than the Eleventh district, and estimate the total at 14,350.

A complication has arisen that will likely divide the electoral vote on the basis of 12 for McKinley and 1 for Bryan. This is due to the fact that a large number of the silver Democrats have taken the name of the first elector instead of under the party device, thus causing the head of each ticket to run ahead of their colleagues. In this way the foremost Democratic elector, W. E. Smith, gets more votes than the hindmost Republican elector.

DELAWARE VOTE DIVIDED.

Result of Factional Fight May Cost McKinley an Elector.

Wilmington, Nov. 9.—Although the Republicans carried Delaware by almost 4,000 for the head of the ticket, Major McKinley will receive but two of the three electoral votes unless the matter is taken into the courts. The result is due to a factional fight in the Republican ranks. On the regular Republican ticket the name of one of the electors appeared as James C. Shaw, Sr. In counting the ballots the "Shaw" and "Shaw, Sr." were canvassed separately. By this division John H. Rodney, the highest candidate for elector on the Democratic ticket, is thereby elected, the vote standing: Shaw, 10,182; Shaw, Sr., 10,268; Rodney, 16,281.

Buckner for a Foreign Mission.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 9.—It is stated on the authority of Republican leaders in this state that General Simon Bolivar Buckner, the former Union general, is being considered by President McKinley for one of the foreign missions, probably to Italy. The leading Republicans in this state say the sound money Democrats should be paid some sort of compliment, and that no better recognition could be paid their services than in the appointment of General Buckner.

South Dakota Election.

Yankton, S. D., Nov. 9.—With the state complete with the exception of Hamilton and McPherson counties and three unorganized counties on the Sioux reservation, Bryan has a plurality in South Dakota of 45. McKinley and McPherson will give the reservation counties, while the reservation counties are expected to go for Bryan. It will take the official canvass to settle South Dakota's electoral vote.

Failure in Lumber.

Houston, Nov. 9.—William H. Trevelyan, lumber dealer of this city, has filed a voluntary petition in insolvency, caused by the failure of the Keno Portland Cement Co., which he had advanced money to. His liabilities are scheduled at $204,422. His assets are not yet known, but consist of real estate, personal property, stock, etc., which he has transferred to trustees for the benefit of his creditors.

CAUGHT ON A BRIDGE.

Woman and Two Children Plunge into the Water and Are Drowned.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 9.—Three persons were drowned at Old Forge, near here. Mrs. William McCarthy of Scranton, who was visiting here, took her two grandchildren, Margaret, aged 2 years, and May, aged 4 years, out for a walk. The old lady wanted to cross the river and stroll through the woods with the children, and to do so she crossed the Erie and Wyoming Valley bridge. No train was in sight, and she thought she had plenty of time. They were about half way across when an unattached freight engine came dashing around the curve and over to the bridge.

Mrs. McCarthy was badly frightened, and never hesitated to reach a pier, tripped and fell off the bridge with both children in her arms. Engineer Decker and Fireman Young saw the accident, but were unable to render any assistance. The river, swollen by recent rains, ran very swiftly. For about a minute Mrs. McCarthy was able to keep up, and the men on the engine saw her holding the children out of the water. Then she sank. The trainmen hastily carried the news to Old Forge, and a number of men went out to find the bodies. The search was unsuccessful.

COST $100,000 TO ANCHOR.

Decision Reached in a Big Suit in Admiralty in New York.

New York, Nov. 9.—One of the largest libels ever filed in the United States court of this district was decided Saturday by Judge Addison Brown. It was brought by La Compagnie Generale Transatlantique for damages resulting by the collision between the steamship La Bourgogne of the French line and the Atlas, owned by the Atlas Steamship company. The collision occurred in this harbor on the 21st of February last, when during a dense fog all the outgoing or incoming big liners were either running around or bumping into each other.

The Atlas was at anchor at the time she collided with La Bourgogne, but the Atlas company is held to be responsible for the collision for having come to anchor in a navigable channel. The placing of the responsibility for the collision on the Atlas owners also makes them liable for the value of the cargo which was on board the steamship had on board when she sank off Fort Lafayette. The claim for damages amounts to $100,000.

To Start a Co-operative Colony.

Detroit, Nov. 9.—R. J. and William Hoffman, brothers, who were extremely active in preaching silver doctrines during the campaign to crowds which assembled in the squares in front of the city hall, have organized a company of five silver men, who propose to start a co-operative colony in western North Carolina.

Paid His Election Bet.

Canfield, Mich., Nov. 9.—George S. Cadillac, editor of The Democrat and a prominent silver leader, Friday afternoon cleaned the chimney on the residential money advocate. This was done in fulfillment of a wager, and an enormous crowd witnessed the editor do penance for his faith in Bryan. He first made a nice little speech, admitting defeat, but claiming a good big interest in the next president, and called for three cheers for William McKinley. He cleaned the chimneys in a workmanlike manner, and was given three rousing cheers.

Bryan to Eastern Bimetallists.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 9.—Mr. Bryan Saturday gave out the following telegram addressed to the eastern bimetallists: "At the hour of defeat I send you greeting. No words of praise can sufficiently commend you. When I remembered that the eastern states sent gold delegates to both the conventions and that nearly all the eastern papers were against me, your support, fight appears remarkably creditable. You have shown yourselves heroes and events will vindicate the position you have taken. Continue the fight."

Gold in Exchange for Currency.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Assistant Secretary Curtis went to New York Friday to consult with Assistant Treasurer Jordan on the subject of accepting the large amounts of gold now being offered in exchange for currency. It is probable that every effort will be made to accommodate persons desiring currency in exchange for gold, and to ship from sub-treasuries having a large surplus to others where the demand is greater.

Borrower Corbin Wedding.

New York, Nov. 9.—Miss Annie Corbin, daughter of the late Austin Corbin, was married Saturday to Hallett A. Barker, a prominent banker, at West Lake place in a quiet affair owing to the recent death of Mr. Corbin. The wedding party drove from North Babylon to the church, a distance of about three miles, in six carriages, returning after the ceremony to the Corbin residence, where a wedding breakfast was served.

Ratification Meetings in Michigan.

Detroit, Nov. 9.—Republican and gold standard ratification meetings were held Friday night at Bay City, Flint, Muskegon and a great many smaller cities in Michigan. At Flint there was much enthusiasm, the crowd being augmented by hundreds of people from the country adjoining.

Found Dead in a Chair.

Perry, O., Nov. 9.—David Dodge, a well-known western lawyer, who for many years practiced law at St. Joseph, Mo., was found dead in a chair here Saturday morning. He doubtless succumbed to heart disease. Dodge was reared in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Cleaver Forged Arrested.

Boston, Nov. 9.—Eugene H. Parker, alias Carter, alias Proctor, alias Allen, of Troy, N. Y., was arrested here Saturday. He is a clever check forger and is wanted in Pittsburg, Chicago and Albany for forgery and passing forged checks.

EIGHT YEARS IN PRISON

Arton, the Alleged Panama Swindler Is Sentenced.

WAS FOUND HIDING IN LONDON.

The Police Were Long Cognizant of His Whereabouts but Refrained from Arresting Him—The Prisoner's Real Name Is Not Arton, but Aaron—London Newspapers Advise the Release of Mrs. Castle, the Convicted Shoplifter.

Verona, France, Nov. 9.—The second trial of Emile Arton, on the charge of embezzlement and fraudulent bankruptcy, ended in a verdict of guilty of embezzlement. The prisoner was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment and to pay the Societe du Dynamite a sum of money to be fixed by the state. Arton is said to have been implicated with Dr. Cornelius Herz and the late Baron von Reineck in the Panama canal fraud. After a long search for him upon the part of the police, after he had been sentenced to a heavy fine, and to undergo a twenty-year's imprisonment, Arton was located in London in November, 1895, and was eventually extradited to France.

Was Sentenced Last June.

Last June Arton was tried and sentenced to six years' imprisonment at hard labor, but was granted a new trial on a technicality. He is all court by the prisoner's real name is Aaron. He was born in Strassburg in 1849, and after the Franco-Prussian war he chose a French nationality.

ADVISE MRS. CASTLE'S RELEASE.

London Papers Favor Clemency in Case of the Convicted Shoplifter.

London, Nov. 9.—The Westminster Gazette Saturday afternoon and others of the afternoon newspapers of this city urge the release, on medical grounds, of Mrs. Walter M. Castle of San Francisco, who was sentenced Friday at the Clerkenwell sessions to three months' imprisonment for shoplifting.

The Globe says it strongly believes in the man's defense and declares that the sentence constituted a medical terrible violation of common justice. "If," the article says, "it is certain that the judge only desired to do what was just."

The St. James Gazette, while agreeing that it is a case for clemency, in view of the prisoner's health, says: "Mrs. Castle is released it ought to be clearly understood that the evidence of kleptomania came to nothing. If her counsel relied on that defense she would not have advised her to plead guilty. The robberies were frequent, systematic and artful."

Prospective Heir, Not Happy.

London, Nov. 9.—Quite a sensation has been caused in certain circles by the announcement of the marriage of Miss Julia Emery, a pretty girl only 18 years old and until quite recently an assistant in a fancy dry goods store at Eastbourne, and a widower, who is over 72 years of age and a daughter of Earl Fitzwilliam. The baron had no children and his prospective heirs are not at all happy at this new departure upon the part of his lordship.

Declined the Honor.

London, Nov. 9.—The Chronicle's Paris correspondent telegraphs to that paper: "It is stated that the czar of Russia has declined the honor of being named to the late Prince Lobanoff to M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador to Constantinople, who declined it."

Settled Down as a Novelist.

London, Nov. 9.—Sir Robert Peel, it appears, has now settled down to a novelist's career. His second novel will appear shortly, and his third literary effort is now under way.

WORKED THE FLIM-FLAM GAME.

Betting Men of Monticello, Ills., Mourning the Loss of Their Money.

Monticello, Ills., Nov. 9.—The betting men of this city are mourning because the money which they thought they had won on the result of the election has turned out to be worthless paper. A man named Lucas worked a neat game of flim-flam. Early in the campaign Mr. Lucas began hunting bets and taking the Bryan end as fast as he found takers. The money was included in an envelope, and then Lucas would suggest that it be deposited in the bank with instructions to the banker to turn over the envelope to the winner. About $500 was put up in this way. On Wednesday Mr. Lucas disappeared. As soon as he was missed the men who had bet with him went to the bank to obtain their money. When the envelopes were opened they were found to contain nothing but paper. It is supposed that the envelopes were changed on the road to the bank by Lucas, who always carried them.

Prigitial Domestic Tragedy.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 9.—A bloody deed was committed in this city at an early hour Saturday morning. A man named Tom Lynch, a mechanic, who lived on Allison street, in the eastern suburb of Nashville, cut the throats of his wife and two children and of a hired woman who lived with the family, and then put an end to his own life.

Minister to Hang.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 9.—The state supreme court affirmed the conviction of Jacob Johnson, a colored minister, in Somerset county. The court granted a new trial in the case of Spine and Aragio, Italians, convicted of murder in the Middlesex county court.

Daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Paget.

New York, Nov. 9.—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Americo H. Paget at the residence of Colonel Oliver H. Payne, in this city Saturday. The mother, a daughter of ex-Secretary of the Navy W. C. Whitney, is reported by the family physician to be in a favorable condition.

CALLED VERY SUDDENLY.

Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt Dies at the Home of Her Daughter.

New York, Nov. 9.—The widow of William H. Vanderbilt died Friday of heart disease at the house of her daughter, Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, in Scarborough, West Chester county. Mrs. Vanderbilt had been visiting at the Shepard residence since the wedding of her grand-daughter, the daughter of Mrs. Shepard. In the morning Mrs. Vanderbilt was up and about the house. Shortly after 1 o'clock in the afternoon she was attacked with heart failure and died in a few minutes. Dr. R. B. Coutant of this place was summoned and was present when Mrs. Vanderbilt died. Mrs. Shepard and Mrs. Bromley, a sister of Mrs. Vanderbilt, were also present.

The death of Mrs. Vanderbilt was unexpected, as she was apparently in good health in the morning, and the attack came without warning. Mrs. Vanderbilt was Miss Louise Kissam, daughter of a Reformed church minister of Albany. She was married to William H. Vanderbilt in 1847. The children of the marriage were Cornelius, William Kissam, Frederick W., George W., Margaret Louise, who became the wife of the late Elliott F. Shepard; Emily Thorn, wife of William D. Sloane; Florence Adams, wife of H. McK. Twombly, and Eliza O., wife of W. Seward Webb.

At the Shepard residence the funeral details could not be learned, as they were as yet incomplete. Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt was 75 years old. She was a member of St. Bartholomew church, of which Dr. Greer is the pastor, and donated the St. Bartholomew mission to the church. She was very charitable, but her charities were devoid of ostentation.

LEE SEES THE PRESIDENT.

United States Consul Makes a Short Call at the White House.

Washington, Nov. 9.—All the members of the cabinet, except Secretary Francis, who has not yet returned to Washington, were present at Friday's cabinet meeting, and it is believed that the subjects to be treated in the president's message were touched upon.

United States Consul General Lee called at the state department shortly after 11 o'clock, and word of his arrival being carried to Secretary Olney at the White House, the latter left the cabinet meeting and came at once to the department. He received Consul General Lee in his office and a long interview followed.

At the conclusion of his conference with Secretary Olney General Lee went to luncheon with Assistant Secretary Rockhill, who is directly responsible for the conduct of the consular business and was much interested in what the consul had to say of the conditions in Cuba. In the afternoon the consul general went over to the White House and paid his respects to the president. His call there was not long, so it is supposed he will see the president before he returns to his department to discuss Cuban affairs more in detail. From what can be gleaned of the talk General Lee has had with his superior officer it appears he left matters in Cuba very quiet by comparison with what has gone before. Confined closely as he was to Havana, he was obliged to rely upon the same official reports as were telegraphed to the United States for news of what was going on in the field, so that his views of the military situation were rather narrow. Of course he was better prepared to discuss the economic aspect of the Cuban question, and after all this is likely to figure as largely as any other factor in the consideration of our future relations.

FUNERAL INTERRUPTED.

Tree Falls Upon a Hearse—Narrow Escape of the Dead.

New York, Nov. 9.—The relatives and mourners who followed the hearse at the funeral of Mrs. Friday Cummings at Camden, N. J., Friday afternoon, were shocked by seeing the coffin containing the body dashed from the hearse into the road on the way to the cemetery. Two men were cutting down a big tree by the road, and just as the hearse reached the spot the tree toppled over with a snap and fell directly upon it. The driver gave a leap just in time to escape being killed. The frightened horses kicked and plunged and, breaking away, left the coffin and hearse, which was broken out and broken, the body being hurled into the road. The greatest excitement prevailed among the mourners, the dead woman's daughter being seized with hysterics. The horses were caught some distance away, and after clearing up the spot the tree was returned to the coffin. It was placed in a wagon and the funeral proceeded.

Killed by a Bull.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 9.—H. R. Moon was killed Friday morning by a bull at Buena Park. About 7 o'clock he undertook, as was his daily custom, to lead the powerful beast out to pasture. He had had trouble with the brute before, but has always been able to master him. This time, however, the animal, which is hornless, suddenly knocked him down. Mr. Moon tried to rise, but the beast charged upon his half prostrate form and pawed him furiously. Mr. Moon screamed in his agony, but no help was at hand, and his life was soon stamped out.

Extra Session of the Iowa Legislature.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 9.—Governor Drake states that he will issue a call for an extra session of the legislature in a day or two. The date of convening will be Jan. 13, 1897. In addition to the new code, the legislature will be asked to provide a fund for placing insurance upon state buildings or repairing such buildings as may be injured by fire, as in the case of the damage done to the buildings at Glenwood by lightning the last summer.

Shot Himself by Accident.

Makanda, Ills., Nov. 9.—Rev. J. D. Crenshaw, pastor of the M. E. church, fatally shot himself Friday afternoon. He started rabbit hunting with his 4-year-old son and stopped at a well in his yard to get a drink. He either dropped his gun or fell. The hammer of the gun struck a rock, and the gun was discharged. The charge took effect in the brain. Mr. Crenshaw lies in his home unconscious, and cannot live.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT

Review of Business During the Past Week.

LITTLE INCREASE IN VOLUME.

Trade Was Practically Suspended Throughout the Country Early in the Week on Account of the Election—Manufacturers and Jobbers More Inclined to Purchase in Advance—Sales of Cotton Goods Freer and Some Mills Are Better Employed.

New York, Nov. 9.—Bradstreet's says: Business was practically suspended throughout the country early during the week, and there has been little increase in the volume since the election, compared with like periods in preceding weeks. But manufacturers and jobbers are more inclined to purchase in advance instead of for near-by wants only, and in a few lines, notably wool, cotton, iron and steel, a larger volume of purchases is reported. That merchants generally share the confidence in an early revival is indicated by hardening staple prices, and the increases in quotations in addition to those given in preceding weeks.

Sales of cotton goods have been freer and some mills are better employed. Woolen mills also report more orders, and a tendency to prefer higher cost goods. Numerous industrial establishments which have started up within two days report being offered large orders if they would sell for 187. Island manufacturers report preparations for a larger output than anticipated, and that orders received contingent on election results, notably in the lumber and jewelry lines, are now being filled. Owing to the lateness of the season few have regarded the outlook as promising much in the nature of a boom during the current year. At a few northwestern commercial centers large orders have been received from country merchants within a few days.

Looking Ahead Confidently.

Georgia farmers have met their obligations this autumn more promptly than for years past, and southern merchants and manufacturers are reported looking ahead confidently to a marked improvement in business in the near future. Total exports of wheat (flour included) from both coasts of the United States, and from Montreal, this week amount to 3,477,000 bushels, against 3,625,000 bushels last week, 2,466,000 bushels in the week one ago, 2,589,000 bushels in the week two ago, as compared with 3,885,000 bushels in the corresponding week in 1895.

Exports of Indian corn amount to 224,600 bushels this week, about 200,000 bushels less than last week, nearly twice as much as in the corresponding week one year ago, and much more than in like weeks in the three weeks preceding years. Exports of wheat quotations were from 2 to 7 points above the close on Monday. The disposition of the professional element to take profits on purchases made prior to the election was marked, and prices promptly receded from the opening. This selling was, however, met by purchases by interests which had kept out of the market over election, and by a fair volume of commission house purchases. On Thursday, however, the market seemed to be under a heavy and influential influence. The fact that some states were in alleged doubt, produced caution and hesitation, while rumors of possible intervention by our government in Cuba resulted in the further liquidation of long accounts, and induced more or less bear selling, the net result being a considerable reaction on the market. Friday, however, brought a renewal of bullish sentiment. The feature was the appearance of heavy outside buying orders and the covering of the short contracts made the day before aided in causing further marked advances.

Fire at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—At 5 o'clock Saturday morning fire broke out in the four-story building at 26 and 28 West Washington street, occupied by Robinson & Lawrie, dry goods. The entire building and stock, valued at about $200,000, were destroyed. The cigar store of Charles F. Meyer & Co., immediately west of Robinson & Lawrie, suffered by water to the extent of several thousand dollars. The Knox 5-cent store on the east, carrying a $100,000 stock, also suffered heavily by water. All the losses are covered by insurance.

Most Quilt Playing and Study.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 9.—A. S. Goodwin, who has played right half-back for Yale, and is being notified by the faculty that he will not be allowed to play any more this year, owing to his low scholarship standing.

Bitter Feeling at Crowd, Colo.

Creede, Colo., Nov. 3.—The result of the election has caused much bitterness in this camp. The English flag was hoisted above the Stars and Stripes. A crowd gathered around and in anger tore down the British flag and tore it to shreds.

Articles Ready for the Fighters.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Articles for the Fitzsimmons-Sharkey glove contest were formulated yesterday and only await the signature of the principals.
