

Recital Last Evening.

Given By the Pupils of Professor J. P.
Pearson.

Every Number Was a Treat

The Younger Pupils Doing Surprisingly Well in Their Selections—
Terse Metropolitan Tales.

The auditorium of the First Congregational church was comfortably filled last evening with the music-loving people of Calumet to attend the piano and organ recital by pupils of Mr. J. B. Pearson, assisted by Mr. Charles B. Gale. The entertainment was thoroughly enjoyable from beginning to end and every number on the program was a treat, and reflected credit alike upon the performers and their able instructor. The organ numbers were good, while the playing of the pupils on the piano showed the result of much hard work and practice by the pupils.

The numbers by the younger pupils were surprisingly well rendered. The program is entirely too long to give individual mention, but suffice it to say that all showed marked ability. Mr. Gale's numbers showed his clear voice to good advantage and he was required to respond to an enthusiastic encore.

After the entertainment those present repaired to the rooms below, where an hour or so was spent in pleasant social enjoyment.

A number of Lake Linden people attended the entertainment, a few pupils from that city taking part in the program.

Improvements on Portage Lake Canal.

Major Sears has lately sent in his report to the government officials at Washington from which it appears that contracts have been let for the construction of a breakwater at the Keweenaw Bay end of the canal 2,800 feet long which is to be completed by November, 1900, plans have been prepared for two large breakwater piers at the Lake Superior end of the canal, each about 2,700 feet long; the cost of which is estimated at $450,000. The work will be advertised next month so that it may commence next season. It is very probable that contracts will be let during the winter for more dredging so as to give a sixteen foot channel seventy feet wide through the whole canal.

Major Sears has also reported as to the necessity of removing the central pier of the bridge across Portage Lake.

The above improvements should cause the people of the twin cities to rejoice as they will throw considerable business into those towns.

No Cause For Action.

There was an interesting jury trial in Justice Curtiss' court yesterday. G. Prociak & Company brought suit against Martia Drazich to recover $135 which the latter owed the firm for building a stone foundation. When the work was completed Prociak presented his bill and was informed that Drazich held his note for $145, which had been given for an old debt, and that Drazich would give him credit for the amount of the contract for the foundation on the old note.

This did not suit Prociak, who claimed that the contract was taken under the firm name of Prociak & Company and that his personal notes could not apply to the firm's business. The firm, therefore, brought suit to recover the contract price of $135.

Attorney A. W. Kerr appeared for Prociak & Co., and Attorney W. J. McDonald for the defendant. The jury brought in a verdict of no cause for action.

A Great Game Tomorrow.

There will be a game of base ball played in the Athletic park tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon between the medical staff and the clerical force of the Calumet and Hecla. These gentlemen have met before on the diamond and proved their prowess and no doubt they will put up a good game tomorrow afternoon which, without saying a word about the music, will be well worth the price of admission, which will be 25 cents. The celebrated Fifth Infantry band will be in attendance; the game to be called at 3 o'clock.

The special feature of the performance at the Opera House Saturday night will be the Royal Fire Dance, a very sensational spectacle. The stage has the appearance of being wrapped in flames in the midst of which Mlle. Azil performs her serpentine evolutions, but it is only an illusion and there is not the least particle of danger. It is a very exciting and beautiful effect in stagecraft and should be witnessed by every body.

The Firemen's Tournament.

Tickets will be for sale for the night train August 2 and also the noon train of same day, good for return until Sunday, August 5. Fare to Ironwood and return from Red Jacket and Lake Linden, $4, from Houghton, $3 50. To Bessemer and return from Red Jacket and Lake Linden, $3 50, and from Houghton, $3. Further particulars tomorrow.

Dog Taxes in Township.

In order that the dogs upon which the owners wish to pay taxes should not be impounded should they stray into the limits of Red Jacket village, I am prepared to furnish tags to all those who pay up. Tags can also be procured on Mr. Harris, at the Tamarack Junior, and Mr. Charles Noetzel, at the Wolverine mine office. WILLIAM WALLS, Treasurer of Calumet Township, Laurium, Mich.

Adjutant and Mrs. Galley, with their little girls' singing battalion, will arrive on the 2:40 train Saturday afternoon, and will be met at the depot by the Army band. In the evening they will render an interesting service in the hall known as the "Life Boat service." Everybody is invited.

To Sons of St. George.

Members desiring to be provided with caps and sashes will be kind enough to hand in their order to the secretary next Monday evening so that they may arrive in time for the reunion at Lake Linden.

Little Francis Hart, aged 5, a pupil of Prof. L. A. Hepburn will make her debut at the Opera House Saturday afternoon in a fancy dancing act, and repeat it again Saturday night. It is said that Little Francis is a very promising dancer.

The German Aid Picnic.

All persons having bills against the committee for the above will please send them in to Mr. Joseph Hermann at once.

THE SULTAN'S HEIR.

He is His Eldest Brother, Who is Rarely Seen in Public.

The sultan's heir is not his eldest son, but his eldest brother, according to the London Echo. The eldest male succeeds. Such is the law of Islam and the fruitful source of dynastic murders in almost every reign since the Turks became a power. The sultan has four brothers—not one only, as was lately alleged. This eldest brother is Rehad Effendi—that is to say, he is eldest after the ex-sultan, Murad V, who, being insane, is not counted. The third brother is Waredin, and the fourth Sulliman. The sultan's eldest son, Prince Selim, has no earthly chance of succeeding his father. He has too many uncles and uncle's sons for that. But Prince Selim is lucky, if he knows it, for he is not "dangerous." He lives a life of freedom, whereas the heir is, by the custom of the Ottomans, a kind of life prisoner.

Rehad Effendi is rarely seen. Every time he drives out he is escorted by a troop, less by way of an escort than as a guard. The few who do know him like him, for he is said to be a courteous, humane, well informed man, acquainted with current politics and keenly interested in them. He is a good farmer. The pretty palace known as the Teheragan is his residence. Of course Rehad's visitors are searched before they are admitted and when they are leaving by the sultan's officials. During times of trouble in Armenia, Constantinople and Crete Rehad is more narrowly watched than ever, for the sultan and his clique know that Rehad is popular. Unlike the sultan, Rehad is one of the most handsome men in Constantinople.

An Extraordinary Migration.

One of the greatest mysteries to scientists, one for which there seems to be no reasonable explanation, is that concerning the migration of the lemming, or Norway rat. Instead of taking place once a year these migrations occur only once in every 11 years. When the time comes for the exodus, the little animals journey westward from Scandinavia, allowing nothing to stop their movements, which virtually amount to a headlong flight. They swim the lakes and rivers and climb the highest mountains in incalculable numbers, devastating the whole country through which they travel. Naturalists attribute the movement to some inherited memory of a flight to escape an expected cataclysm, but this seems somewhat farfetched.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Influence.

No human being can come into the world without increasing or diminishing the sum total of human happiness, not only of the present, but of every subsequent age of humanity. No one can detach himself from this connection. There is no sequestered spot in the universe, no dark niche along the disk of nonexistence to which he can retreat from his relations to others, where he can withdraw the influence of his existence upon the moral destiny of the world. Everywhere he will have companions who will be better or worse for his influence.—New York Ledger.

Genteel.

The Nation says that in England at the present day the expression genteel is mainly a peculiarity of the underbred—of those with whom wives are ladies and of those who in their own sphere are known as gents and the like.

More than 10,000 persons are engaged in the manufacture of explosives in England. Last year 40 persons in the business were killed and 167 injured by accidents.

Was Tired of Life.

C. Weitzke of Detroit
Hangs Himself to a Beam

After Sending His Family

To a Circus Parade—Came Home and Found Him Dead—Was a Laborer and Evidently Deranged.

Charles Weitzke, a laborer, aged 58, sent his family, consisting of a wife and five children, to look at the circus parade this morning, and then took advantage of their absence and ended his life. They live at 80 Waterloostreet, in a story and a half frame house, and Weitzke committed suicide by hanging himself to a cross-beam in the garret.

After attaching a rope to the beam, he climbed on the baby's low chair, tied the other end of the rope around his neck, and kicked the chair from under his feet. When the family returned they found him dead.

On the floor was a piece of wrapping paper, upon which he had jotted down in the poorest kind of German a few parting words. The note plainly indicated that the man was out of his mind. He mentioned a neighbor, whom he accused of winding the rope around his neck, because he had betrayed him. "He" (meaning the neighbor)—"is the black dog who is to blame for my death," Weitzke wrote.

Mrs. Rapp, who lives in a house adjoining that of Weitzke, says that she spoke to him this morning, but failed to notice anything peculiar about him. Coroner forth took charge of the remains and will hold an inquest.

Temporary insanity was the verdict of the jury which was empaneled to sit upon the case; temporary insanity which carries so much death with it; temporary insanity which is caused nine cases out of ten by early indiscretions; latter excesses cause you to become nervous, weak and morose, you are bashful, have pimples on the face. You've led an indiscreet life or indulged in the follies of youth. Nature never excuses, no matter how young, thoughtless or ignorant a youth may be—the punishment and suffering correspond with the cause; you realize this when you awaken to the enormity of your acts; then you commence to brood and worry over it. As you feel the symptoms stealing over you, you cannot sleep at night, then your appetite becomes poor, dark spots appear before the eyes, you imagine everyone notices the dark rings under the eyes; gradually the various symptoms make their appearance until the entire nervous system becomes shattered and temporary insanity sets in.

Will you heed the word of warning before it is too late? Come and see us; we will advise and reason with you free of charge. We will tell you how to take care of yourself, and if you are curable we will treat you free until you are. Do not be backward in calling on us, as every word, every phrase told to us is held sacredly confidential. Remember we treat and cure all chronic, nervous, private, delicate, blood, skin, kidney, bladder, liver, stomach, rectum and female diseases. Our hours daily are from 9 a. m. till 8 p. m., Sundays, 9 a. m. till 4 p. m. Dr. Goldberg & Co., Pinton block, 450 Pine street, Calumet; branch of 291 Woodward avenue, Detroit.

On Monday's we are at the Douglas House, Houghton, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Dr. McOmber, who has been at New Jewell House all this week, will leave for Hancock Sunday, the 6th, to remain a week; he will return to New Jewell House Sunday, August 8, to remain another week. See advertisement.
