The Whist Tournament Won by Portage Lake Team

Eight Teams Participated

In the Tournament, Representing Eight Cities in the U. P.—Next Contest at Negaunee.

The victors of the Upper Peninsula whist tournament, the Portage Lake team, composed of Messrs. Dr. L. L. Hubbard and J. H. Hodgson and J. A. Close, Jr., and J. H. Hick, returned home on Friday's noon train. The tournament, which was held at Marquette the evening previous, was participated in by eight teams, representing eight cities and 136 players. The standing at the close of the tournament was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: City, Points. Rows: Portage Lake (8), Sault Ste. Marie (5), Marquette (3), Ironwood (3), Ishpeming (2), Negaunee (2), Calumet (2), Escanaba (2).

The Portage Lake team won without losing a single game, but bringing in two. Each game won counted one, while each tie game one half point for each club tieing.

The Portage Lake team won by the following gains: Negaunee 2, Marquette, 2; Calumet 5; Ironwood, 8; Escanaba, 3, and tied both Sault Ste. Marie and Ishpeming. In the case of tie games won, the gains were then divided between the Soo and Marquette, Soo had gained 12 points and Marquette 8, giving Soo second place.

Calumet though at the foot had the honor of beating the Soo team their only game by six points.

The trophy won by the Portage Lake team is being made at Grand Rapids at a cost of $50, and our local team will now have to defend it, and the Marquette team has already sent in a challenge.

This first tournament of the whist clubs proved a success in every particular and considerable enthusiasm was shown and the contests were exciting throughout. The next tournament will be held at Negaunee, probably in March month.

As predicted there was a warm time at the Germania Hall New Years Eve, the occasion being the annual entertainment of the Hancock Maennerchor Lyra. The several numbers on the concert program, which were in German, were enthusiastically received by the audience. Particularly were the rendition of the several numbers by the Atlantic Maennerchor and they responded time and again to uproarious applause. This was the Atlantic Maennerchor's first appearance before a public audience, and the success they made was pleasing indeed. The organization is under the leadership of Mr. John Surback, who has brought it to a high standard of excellence and the manner they rendered their selections showed much musical talent and study. After the concert the hall was cleared for dancing in which some 150 couples participated. Dancing was continued to the sweet strains of Weismiller's orchestra until a late hour. Supper was served in the dining room of the hall and during which time music was furnished. The entertainment of the Lyra for '97 was a success in every sense of the word and will long be remembered by those who attended.

Despite the numerous other attractions on New Years Eve, the annual ball gives by Ingot Tent K. O. T. M. at the St. Patrick Hall was attended by fully 125 couples. The hall was tastefully decorated with bunting in the colors of the order and presented a pretty appearance. The floor was in excellent condition for dancing the best of music was furnished by the Quincy Excelsior band. The Lady Macabees served the supper in the store room of the Pearce building, and it proved a sumptuous repast, the tables fairly creaking with the good things of the season. Both socially and financially the affair was a grand success.

The nickel-in-the-slot machine can be played no more in Hancock. The machines have all been packed up and were shipped this morning to new fields to conquer. The owners of the machines, who are Kalamazoo parties, had a good thing in them while doing business in Hancock and would no doubt like to keep them here, but the authorities at last woke up to the fact that they were gambling devices and have given orders to have them stopped. It is rumored that one Hancock saloonkeeper who had purchased one of the machines outright, cleared an even $100 in the operations for a single week.

At the Twin City ice rink New Year's evening there were 800 persons present to enjoy the excellent skating afforded. The ice was in fine shape and a special reserver on the ice for those desiring to dance. The music was furnished by the Houghton band and proved satisfactory in every particular. The rink will be open for three nights a week and has been fitted up with skate and check room and also a lunch counter.

The lunch counter will be run under the personal attention of Mr. Dan Washburn so the public can be assured that nothing but the best will be served there. The many conveniences to the comfort of the patrons of the rink will make this the favorite resort for the young people the balance of the season.

At the annual meeting of the Hancock Congregational church which was held on Friday evening the reports of the work done the past year in the several departments were read. The following officers were also elected to serve for the ensuing year:

- Chorister—Mrs. E. L. Wright.
- The officers of the Sunday school is as follows:
- Superintendent—E. L. Wright.

The snowshoe party, the first for the season, given by the Onigaming club was participated in on Friday evening by sixty couples. The tramp was not a long one, and the snowshoers soon found themselves at the comfortable quarters at the clubhouse where the evening was spent in dancing. A dainty lunch was served during the evening and those present are loud in their praise of the entertainment furnished.

The Rev. Mr. Dickerson, of Awhurst, Mass., filled the pulpit at the Congregational church both morning and evening yesterday and in the afternoon addressed the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. He is said to be a very interesting talker and his efforts were greatly appreciated by his audiences.

Mr. Frank James, who has been acting as superintendent and bookkeeper for the Fuel and Supply Co., has resigned his position and has accepted a position in the office of the Stringer, Fredericks & Harris insurance agency. Mr. James started in on his new duties this morning.

A fire in a clothes closet in one of the buildings owned by Mr. John Pinton on Hancock street, called out the department New Years evening at about 6 o'clock. On their arrival at the scene there was found to be more excitement than fire. Very little damage was done.

Mr. George Taylor, who is now connected as special agent for this district for the Mutual life insurance of New York, went to Calumet New Years and spent the day with his mother.

Mr. James Fisher spent New Years visiting friends at Calumet. On his return he was accompanied by Mrs. Fisher who has been visiting at that place during the holiday season.

CLERK AND CASH GONE.

American Estates Association is the Victim.

JOSEPH LOCKLEY'S DISHONESTY.

After Securing Thousands of Dollars by Means of Raised Checks on the Association He Disappears—Valuable Papers Also Taken—Had Been with the Association for Years and Was Looked Upon as a Model Young Man.

New York, Jan. 1.—James A. Reilly, manager of the American Estates association, has notified the police that his clerk, Joseph Lockley, has disappeared after securing thousands of dollars by means of raised checks on the association, besides stealing all the title deeds, books and papers belonging to the association from the office safe. Joseph Lockley is about 23 years old, tall, slender and smooth shaven, with dark hair and eyes. He has been in the employ of the association for over seven years. His reputation was excellent. Mr. Reilly looked upon him as a model young man. In all the seven years he had been in his office he had never once been under suspicion. He obtained about $3,000 from the bank in which the association kept its accounts.

Of Little Value to Lockley. The title deeds he took, although they represent hundreds of thousands of dollars, can be of little value to him, as the property is all recorded. It is believed by Mr. Reilly that he took the books, papers and deeds that he might have an opportunity to offer to restore them to the association if he were assured that he would not be followed. The American Estates association is composed of the heirs of James McHenry and Thomas W. Kennard, who over thirty years ago, built the Atlantic and Great Western railroad. This road is known as the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio and is a part of the Erie system. There are heirs of these men, both in this country and England. The association's property is valued at over $2,000,000, which is invested in Cleveland, O.; Buffalo and Jersey City, and in 125,000 acres of coal and iron lands in Pennsylvania.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Verdict in the Case of Ida E. Johnson, Who Shot Her Husband.

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 1.—Guilty of manslaughter was the verdict returned by the jury in the case of the people against Ida E. Johnson for the murder of her husband, Charles F. Johnson. After an all-night session a verdict was reached in the morning, and it was returned to the court at its opening. A motion was at once made for a new trial by the defense.

The murder for which Mrs. Johnson was convicted was committed Dec. 26, 1894, in the law office of J. E. Maley, where she and her husband had gone to reach some agreement, if possible, on the many matters of difference between them. Abuse, hard names and starting unfoldings of past misdeeds were bandied between the two until the lawyer grew weary of the controversy and left them to settle their troubles without his assistance. The door closed behind him. Suddenly a shot rang out from the little room and Johnson sprang out into the reception room crying: "I am shot!" He was helped into a doctor's office across the hallway, where it was found a bullet had plowed its way through his left side into his lungs. It could not be located. Johnson was taken to his home, where, after terrible suffering, he died Dec. 31.

Bad State of Affairs.

The wires are down and the wagon roads are flooded. The bridge over the Stillaguamish river at Arlington, on the Seattle and International, has been carried away. The track of the Great Northern and Monte Cristo at Lowell has been under water for three days and from Lowell to Snohomish are numerous breaks.

War on Quail Hunters.

Mount Vernon, Ill., Jan. 1.—Further investigation of the unlawful quail shooting in Jefferson county shows that the game laws have been violated in hundreds of instances, and evidence is in the hands of the officials which indicates positively that thousands of quails have been shipped from this county since the quail season closed, the first of the present month. State Game Warden H. W. Lovelady of Chicago arrived and is personally directing the war on the quail hunters.

The finding of the jury will be communicated to the governor, who will be asked to suspend the execution and send Hunt to an asylum for the insane.

Remains of the Howes Discovered.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 1.—While removing the debris from the burned Hotel Daetoh the remains of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Howe, who perished in the fire, were discovered. The crumpled bones of Mrs. Howe lay on top of those of her husband, which established the theory that she lost her life while endeavoring to rescue him. Mr. Howe was a cripple. The remains will be shipped to Michigan for interment.

TRAMPS KILL THE WATCHMAN.

Cold-Blooded Murder Committed by Thugs at Waterloo, Ind.

Waterloo, Ind., Jan. 1.—Charles E. Cox, night watchman of this city, was shot down in cold blood by unknown tramps at 1 o'clock in the morning. Two tramps asked Cox for lodging, which he refused them, and nothing more was heard of them until after the repeated firing of revolvers, which aroused the neighborhood. Shortly afterward the body of the dead man was found one square away.

Lawyer McDonald, who was in his room near the shooting, heard Cox say: "Come out of there." Then followed the shooting and the sound of men running. The murderers went to the barn of David Johns, stole horses and rode westward horseback. Four miles west of town they stole a buggy and harness, and from last reports it is believed they went direct to Garrett and caught the east-bound Baltimore and Ohio train. From remarks made by the murderers, which were overheard as they were running away, it is evident that one of them was wounded.

DIGS UP VALUABLE PAPERS.

Farmer Finds Deeds Stolen from the Bank of Shipshewana, Ind.

LaGrange, Ind., Jan. 1.—Deeds, mortgages and notes which were secured by the men who looted the Bank of Shipshewana were discovered by a farmer named Gidner Lehman on his farm, twelve miles west of Shipshewana. Buried about two feet deep, he found the tin box containing the papers. The lock had been broken off. The contents of the box were worthless to the men, but will save the bank officials a large amount of money.

The discovery casts a doubt on the confession recently made by Houchins to the Chicago police, as the farm where the discovery was made is a long distance from the road designated by him, along which, he said, the men traveled.

BOY HELD FOR MURDER.

Was Spurred on by His Mother to Kill His Uncle.

Huntsville, Ont., Jan. 1.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of James Rankin Dec. 21 brought in a verdict of murder against Walter Frankum, a nephew of the deceased, and held that the boy's mother was an accessory. Rankin's father testified that young Frankum and his mother attempted to drive over a private road owned by Rankin on the day of the murder. Rankin refused to let them pass. Frankum's mother urged the son to return to the house, get a gun and blow his uncle's heart out. The boy got the gun and, firing, hit Rankin in the leg. The wound proved fatal in a short time.

Abe Balm Still Alive.

Ottumwa, Ia., Jan. 1.—Further particulars from Pleasant Ridge township, Lee county, regarding the fatal ending of the attempt to lynch the Balm boys state that Abe Balm is still alive, but cannot recover. The seven men whom he identified were John Schantz, William Schantz, Joe Sanderson, William Van Syce, John Wellington, Tice Enslow and Frank Fonner, all prominent and wealthy farmers. They were arrested. All the men proclaim their innocence and it is doubtful if a jury could ever be secured in this county to try them.

Refunding Scheme Delayed.

West Superior, Wis., Jan. 1.—The plan adopted by the city council last week for refunding $1,000,000 of this city's indebtedness was temporarily thwarted by an injunction served on city officials by the Endion Improvement company, a local corporation and an unsuccessful bidder as refunding agent. The city has about $300,000 of bonds past due or coming due which cannot be met. The injunction will be heard Jan. 20. In the meantime the matter will be at a standstill.

His Sweetheart Was Too Late.
