

Late News From Camp

Extreme Heat Tires The Upper Peninsula Boys.

Boys Have Little Spare Time

They Have To Drill Most Of The Time—Health of Co. D Boys Is In Excellent Condition.

CAMP ALGER, June 12, 1898. It keeps the Northern Michigan boys busy keeping cool about Camp Alger, as the weather has been extremely hot ever since our arrival. Yesterday it was 112 in the shade. The heat is worse early in the afternoon, as the sun's rays come down almost direct. In the evening it gets cooler and the nights are reasonably cool, so that there is not much difficulty in sleeping, particularly as the boys are pretty well tired out when taps are sounded.

There is plenty of drilling and all kinds of hard work and the boys have very little spare time. The three regiments which are camped near each other, the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Michigan and Ninth Massachusetts, use the same drill and parade grounds. At parades and guard mounting each regiment vies with the other in making a good showing, and the Thirty-fourth holds its own with the others in good style. The regimental band has made a good impression here and the boys of the Thirty-third are more than surprised at the progress that has been made.

Guard duty is very strict about camp. Each regiment has a guard of its own, and there are outposts on all sides of camp for several miles out. The springs and wells are carefully guarded, as the water is precious.

The boys of Company D are all in excellent health and take to the hot weather and hard work a good deal better than many of the Lower Peninsula boys. The arrival of the mail is always anxiously looked for and letters from home are always gladly received. For the past few days the usual batch of "News" did not arrive, probably through some fault of the mails, and the boys were disappointed, as the papers are always read with interest.

[A communication from "Ganssard" dated Camp Alger has been received, but under the present circumstances its publication could do no possible good, but might do harm. A soldier's life is not generally spent in drawing rooms and a man entering the service must naturally expect to have a different and harder life than when at home. The papers have been sent as usual.—Ep]

Templars of Honor Attention

The annual reunion of Temple of Honor, No. 48, will be held at Hancock next Saturday, June 18. A special rate of 50 cents has been secured on the trains; Junior Templars, Hope of Calumet Section, 25 cents, good for return by all trains on Sunday and the special Saturday night at 11 o'clock.

The members of Union Temple and Hope of Calumet Section, Junior Templars, are requested to meet at their hall at 1:30 to take the regular train that leaves at 2:30 p. m.

The Calumet cornet band will accompany the order. They will please be at hall at 2 o'clock. Columbia Temple of Hancock are making great preparations, sparing no expense to make it a grand gala day. Do not fail to go. You will also get a chance to see the Christopher Columbus whaleback. Each for All and All for Each is our motto. Tickets will be sold for the excursion at Osceola.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; coughed in and terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. Ding's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at D. T. Macdonald's drug store, Calumet, and Belhumeur's, Lake Linden.

Mr. John Rowett, the wrestler, commenced training yesterday. In the morning he will ride a wheel and take a long walk, while in the afternoon he will wrestle with Bert Williams, of the Centennial. Both Rowett and Dwyer expect a hard match and the public can rest assured that it will be a wrestling match worth coming a distance to see, as it will decide who is the champion Cornish wrestler of America. Seats are selling fast and those desiring a good seat had better procure one early.

Mr. Peter Reuther, of Brillion, Wis., and Mrs. August Griep, of Sheboygan, are visiting their brother, Mr. Jacob Reuther. Mr. Griep and Mrs. Peter Reuther are also here.

The committee collecting for the Fourth of July celebration are meeting with great success and the indications are that it will be the largest sum of money collected in this city for a celebration. Everybody who is approached donates without hesitating and this certainly means that Calumet will have a monster celebration, and one long to be remembered.

The funeral of Mrs. Gustave Frisk, of Pine street, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock and was a very large one. The temperance society and the Finnish church choir, of which the deceased was a member, turned out to pay their last sad respects. The interment was at Lake View cemetery.

Willard Temple, No. 5, L. G. E., will have an ice cream and strawberry social in the Temple of Honor Hall on Saturday June 18 at 6:30 p. m., to which the public is cordially invited to attend. Ice cream and strawberries or cake and ice cream, 15 cents; ice cream alone 10 cents.

Mr. Ben Wieder, of Hancock, was at the Tamarack mine this afternoon putting up two of Kasper's self-acting oil cleaners in the company's new barn. They purchased one a year ago and found it answered so well that they have now ordered two more.

Great preparations are being made by the Knights of the Golden Eagle of Calumet for their annual reunion to be held in July. Posters will soon be out announcing the date and the events that are to take place.

Lost.

On Saturday last, a pocket handkerchief with a sum of money tied in the corner. Owner please return to News office and receive reward.

The 3-year-old child of John Faulson of Laurium, died last evening. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock, services at the St. Marie church.

Isidore Brosetta had his hearing before Judge Fisher last evening for being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $5 and costs.
