MICHIGAN WANDERS AWAY FROM WESTERN CONFERENCE

Wolverine Board of Regents Repeal Students Fifty-cent Admission Rule and Provide Another Obstacle to a Resumption of Athletic Relations Between Michigan and West.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 2.—Action taken by the board of university regents this week makes Michigan's return to the western conference look further away than ever, as it makes an additional difference in rules between the Wolverine institutions and those governing the big eight. The conference ruling making the maximum charge to athletic events 50 cents to students was repealed by the regents today, a resolution passing that body authorizing the board in control of athletics to permit the athletic association to raise the maximum to a dollar for university students.

The rule making the limit fifty cents was adopted by the conference at the time of the reform session in the winter of 1905-06, after the 2 to 6 Michigan-Chicago game. It is thought to have been suggested by Professor Hattengill, the Michigan representative to the conference, although without the approval of Michigan's board of control. It has never been popular here, though, either with former Athletic Director Baird nor with his successor, Mr. Bartelme. Accordingly, Director Bartelme was pleased when he heard that the regents had passed the resolution offered by Regent Beal.

"Will the passage of the resolution by the regents allowing you to charge a dollar to students of the university, result in any change in the manner of handling students' tickets for the 'big games'?" he was asked.

"No. The method now in use was devised by Mr. Baird and is very satisfactory. It is improbable that we shall take advantage of the leeway given us by the regents in any instance this year except in the Syracuse game. The price for the other games will remain unchanged."

STOP JACK'S GAME.

Acting under instructions from the chief of police, detectives pounced on Jack Johnson's training quarters at Frisco and ordered the champion to stop giving boxing exhibitions with paid admission. The champion hurried to Chief Cook, saying that he thought he had been discriminated against, as Ketchel, Papke and others had been allowed to give similar exhibitions. The chief told the champion to file an application for a permit, with the board of supervisors.

M'GOORTY IS READY FOR LONG BOUT WITH KELLY

Eddie McGoorty, accompanied by his manager, P. L. Callahan, and sparring partner, Jimmy Clabby, is now en route to New Orleans, La., where McGoorty tomorrow afternoon will box Hugo Kelly twenty rounds.

Looking in perfect health and with confidence implied in every word and act, McGoorty faces the coming contest with little fear of the outcome. He realizes that the bout will be the hardest test he has ever had, and his knowledge makes him, if anything, more eager to get into action. If he beats Kelly, a match with Billy Papke for the championship at the Crescent City on Oct. 31 will follow.

McGoorty has been training at Waverly beach, near Neenah, Wis., for over three weeks. All of his time has been spent outdoors. His daily work has been decidedly strenuous. During the past week he has been sparring with Clabby and the feet-footed local welter has taught McGoorty several of the finer points of the game that he expects to use to advantage against the scientific Italian. In addition to Clabby, McGoorty has been working with Billy Morehead, Jack Bennett and Jimmy Conkey.

PIRATES STUDY TIGERS.

Manager Fred Clarke is losing no time preparing for the world's championship series. Another evidence of his crafty generalship was recognized Wednesday in the absence of Leach from the game. Leach and others of the Pirate regular crew will drop in at the American leaders accidentally, of course, but at the same time conveniently enough to size up the team they will play.

When Leach left the city he said the American champions play before he returns. Gibson will do likewise. Clarke will also watch the Tigers play in the closing games tomorrow and Monday.

BUGS IN ILL REPUTE.

Arthur Raymond, the Broadway Bug, arrived in Chicago this week, having closed his season with the New York Giants by mutual agreement. Both Bugs and the New York team claim the agreement was a bit more mutual on their part than on the other. Bugs admits that he was fined $1,700 during the season and suspended so often he lost count. Also he claims his salary was $4,500. Raymond says he may pitch a few semi-pro games around Chicago and avers as follows: "If McGraw wants me to pitch in the series against the Boston Red Sox, I'm willing, but he will have to make the first move." When informed of the ultimatum, McGraw said he would still still the rest of his life if Raymond was likely to return if he moved.

WILLE AFTER KUBIAK.

John Wille, the Chicago heavy-weight, writes from the Windy City that he will go to Philadelphia in a few weeks and take on all opponents. Wille adds that he would like to hook up with Al Kubiak.

TIM HURST'S DARING WUN MANY HARD FOUGHT GAMES

Ex-Umpire, Now Passing From Big Leagues, Terror of the Backstops but Never a Star Player in the Field—Particularly Noted for His Ability as a Sprinter.

The exit of Tim Hurst as an umpire from the American league, for a time at least, brings to mind that the pugilistically inclined arbiter is really one of the oldest men in point of continuous service who has been connected with either of the major leagues. Tim started as a ball player at least a quarter of a century ago, perhaps longer. He was not a particularly brilliant star at the ball tossing act, but he could run. In fact, he was a sprinter of no mean ability, being a professional runner, and therein lay his worth to the club of which he was a member.

Tim and Jack Stivetts, the once famous twirler of the Boston National team, were boys together at Ashland, Schuylkill county, Pennsylvania. They went to school together when they were not playing "hooky." History states that they, as youths, picked slats together in the coal breakers.

Our friend Tim was utilized in the field, where his sprinting abilities were useful in chasing down flies, while his team, Ashland, was on the defense. But it was while he and his fellow ballists were at the bat that Tim's timbleness of foot stood his club in good stead. In those days it was permissible for a batter to have a substitute runner or even cover the distance from the plate to first base. The captain of the team had the right to select the substitute runner at all times without even getting the approval of the captain of the opposing club. Thus Tim was constantly doing the dashing along the lines, and it is recorded in many of the old score books which are held as treasures in the coal region that the man who has since earned a wide reputation as an umpire pilfered bases with a daring that would make the present day fan sit up and take notice.

"MATTY" WANTS $10,000.

A rumor to the effect that Piter Mathewson intends to quit the Giants after this year has been denied emphatically by the great boxman. Matty says he will go back to the insurance business next winter, but there is no intention to leave the diamond just yet. He is naturally eager to earn as much money as possible and it will not be at all surprising if he demands a salary of $10,000 for next season. In view of the fact that Mathewson is the mainstay of the Giants, his friends say the New York club can well afford to pay him whatever salary he demands, for without his services the Giants would have a difficult time keeping pace with the leaders. It is thought, Mathewson is not unreasonable, neither is he a trouble maker. He has never attempted to hold up the New York club and has been satisfied with his past contracts. But he says himself that the time is not far distant when he will lose his effectiveness and that he is anxious, therefore, to make hay while the sun shines.

NORTHWESTERN PICKING MEN.

Five men have now been picked as sure players on the Northwestern team and will go into the initial game today against Illinois Wesleyan. The five fortunate ones are Captain August, left tackle; Manley, left half back; Ward, right guard or right tackle; Thompson, full back and Jacobson, right end or rightackle.

WAITING FOR SERIES.

Local Baseball Bugs Anxiously Awaiting Detroit-Pittsburg Games.

Interest in the closing games of the National and American leagues has diminished to an appreciable extent, and the fans are waiting with bated breath for the opening of the series of games between the Detroit and Pittsburg teams which is to determine the world's championship for another year. It is not expected that many of the local followers of the game will be able to see the world's series this year as the railroad rates to Pittsburg are almost prohibitive.

Large crowds of Calumet supporters of the Tigers have nightly awaited the reports from the American league games especially those in which Detroit and Philadelphia have had a part. For the past few days since Detroit has had the pennant practically clinched, the interest in the coming world's series has steadily increased. As in all parts of the United States, in Calumet, Pittsburg seems to be picked to win the series though the local fans would gladly have it otherwise.

This feeling is largely based on the fact that Detroit has made such a miserable showing against the Chicago Cubs the past two seasons. However, there are those who claim that the Cubs simply have it on the Tigers, and that Jennings' men will give a good account of themselves in the six games with the Pirates. That the White Sox easily defeated the Cubs in the world's series three years ago is cited as proof that the teams of the American league are in no wise inferior to those of the National organization. Both the Pirates and the Tigers have the reputation of heavy hitters, and the team that stacks up best against strange pitchers is likely to win. Though there is more Pittsburg than Detroit money in sight, there is no disposition locally to give odds on the Pirates.

In the last three years Pennsylvania has lost two and tied one game with the Carlisle Indians. One of the changes at Princeton this fall has been the placing of last year's fullback Dawson at quarterback.

BADGERS' TACKLING DUMMY LOST AND CAN'T BE FOUND

Madison, Wis., Oct. 2.—Much as the Wisconsin football needs practice in tackling, there will be no instruction in that department of the game until Athletic Director Hutchins returns to Madison. When the 1908 squad put away their football togs last fall and the coaches packed up the paraphernalia that goes to make a football team, the tackling dummy was misplaced and nobody has been able to locate it up to date. Coach Barry was anxious to get his men to work in the tackling department of the game but he has been loathe to run the risk of broken bones and bruised muscles that are sure to follow any attempt on the part of the men to pick up the art of stopping their fellow players before they have had a swing at dummy. Coach Barry would have bought a new dummy before this time but Director Hutchins is the only man at the university who has authority to make out requisitions and orders for athletic material, and the Badger squad must wait the return of the director from a business trip in the north before the return of the director from a business trip in the north before they can begin to master the intricacies of the all important branch of football learning—tackling.

Manager McGuire of the Cleveland team, is trying out a big bunch of youngsters.

The St. Louis Nationals will do their 1910 spring training at Little Rock, Arkansas.

French has been playing fine ball for the Boston Red Sox since he took Wagner's place.

The Montgomery team finished the Southern league season strong, winning 15 of the last 17 games.

Dick Carroll of the Akron, O., team and star pitcher of the O., and P. League, will wear a New York Highlander kill next season.

Washington fans will welcome Jimmy McAleer with open arms if he will only leave all his St. Louis players in their home town.

A total of 117,298 fans witnessed the last four games at Philadelphia between the Tigers and the Athletics. New Connie Mack can buy that far cap that he has been wanting so long.

Around the American association circuit they say that Strunk of the Milwaukee team is the fastest base runner in the world. He plays center field and is hooked to go to the Athletics next year.

Bert Barry, captain of the Syracuse eleven, is a brother of Tom Barry, Brown's old halfback and present coach at the Northwestern university.

TO RETAIN MOLL

Milwaukee Men Will Head the W. L. League Again.
The Wisconsin-Illinois league circuit will remain as heretofore, provided the various club owners' consent guarantees to fulfill their part in attendance receipts by Nov. 1. This agreement was reached at the annual meeting of the league directors this week.
Charles E. Moll will remain as league president. The rumors of a fight on this question resulted in a mere squabble. The bubble of rebellion was pricked at once when every owner but one decided in favor of Moll.
According to reports the last season has been a fairly successful one. A few slight changes will be made in the constitution, and a committee of three will be appointed to draft the proposed revisions.

A disappointment early in the season, Jack McKerron, whom many tipped for top honors in the M. and M. at Detroit in opening the grand circuit, seems to be just rounding into shape in the tail end of the campaigning season.
