HUBBELL COUNCIL DECIDES QUESTION OF WATER RATES

New Trident Meters are Ordered to Record Amount of Water Used by Larger Consumers—North Grover Residents Will Soon be Supplied With Good Supply of Water.

Last evening there was an adjourned meeting of the members of the village council of Hubbell to consider the water rates to be established. All the officers were in attendance at the session with the exception of trustee Samuel Maigret. After the matter was talked over for some time, it was decided to establish the following rates for those who have the water in their homes or places of business, both on the flat and private rates.

Flat rate private families, per month $8.50 Bath, additional . . . . .0.25 Toilets, additional . . . . .0.25 Meter rate, $25 per 1,000 gallons.

The council instructed the village clerk to order twenty additional Trident disc water meters and immediately upon their arrival they will be installed in the Chinese laundry, livery stables, saloons and stores. This will require several meters and the remaining ones will be placed in other parts of the village, where a large quantity of water is consumed.

MANY OF MANY LIMBS.

The old colonel was spinning off yarns of the civil war and in the heat of reminiscence patriotism, his memory became somewhat tangled. "Ah, gentlemen," he related seriously. "I shall never forget the charge at Chickamauga. It was there that I lost my leg." It was there that old colonel was relating an incident of Gettysburg.

"And when we climbed Little Round Top the bullets were whistling on all sides. It was there that I lost my leg." And thirty minutes later through a misty haze of smoke:

"Seven Pines, gentlemen. Seven Pines! Ah, that was the battle. One of my legs was shot from under me and—"

But just then a timid little boy looked up and asked shyly: "Grandpa, were—were you a centipede in those days?"—Chicago News.

veloped, the formation has taken a steeper dip and the ore has widened with some narrow streaks of chalcocite showing in the bottom. The west winze at a depth of 57 feet is 4 x 6 feet in size and at a depth of 15 feet averaged about 2 per cent copper in the bottom with a footwall paystreak of 7 per cent ore, which at greater depth has mineralized the entire width of the winze, and the bottom of the winze averages 5.5 per cent copper.

Three lots of samples received at the company's Houghton office, assayed by Prof. F. H. Wilson of the Michigan College of Mines, gave returns as follows: Sample No. 1, copper 12.7 per cent; gold .04 ozs., silver .37 ozs. per ton.

Sample No. 2, copper 12.29 per cent. Sample No. 3, copper 4.53 per cent.

CALUMET & ARIZONA—

The recent decline in Calumet & Arizona quotations bringing the price down to $100 is believed to be due to selling on the part of holders who have reinvested in Greene Cananea. There was also some selling on the report that the Courtland property being worked by the C. & A., is meeting with difficulty in handling the water problem. The company recently secured an extension on the payment for the Courtland property. If the metal market shows any strength between this writing and the time that the directors next meet for dividend action it is quite safe to say that Calumet & Arizona shareholders will receive an increase in the quarterly disbursement.

AHMEEK—

It is hardly likely that the new Ahmeek stamp mill will be treating rock before next spring. It was hoped to have the heads dropping before the close of the present year, but this is entirely out of the question. By the time that three heads of the new mill are installed the company will be in excellent position to keep all provided with rock. At the present time no selection whatever is being made, all rock mined going direct to the mill. The two new shafts being sunk at the north end of Ahmeek's property are now a little over 200 feet deep.

SUPERIOR—

The installation of several additional tables at the Atlantic stamp mill for the use of the Superior should bring up the mineral recovery considerably. Superior has lost much copper in the tailings at the Atlantic mill. It is shipping regularly an average of slightly better than 300 tons of rock per day and getting about 30 to 33 pounds of mineral per ton of rock stamped. As soon as both shafts are in shape to ship it will increase its output. It is likely that another head at the Atlantic mill will be remodeled to meet the needs of Superior. This will not come before next spring, though. The company is doing considerably better than pay its present operating expenses.

SUPERIOR & BOSTON—

Superior & Boston awaits only the blowing in of the Arizona Commercial smelter in order to once more enter the ranks of the producers. The delays attendant to getting the Arizona Commercial smelter in commission only have interfered with this plan of the Superior & Boston. The management hopes to be able to ship at the rate of 200 tons of ore per day before the close of the present year. With its low capitalization and high grade ore this will show the company a handsome profit.

Results at the Gardner shaft have not been of a positive nature as yet, although the lode has been cut. It looks as though the lateral would have to be extended further under the hill or additional depth attained in order to get to the ore. That ore will be found tributary to the Gardner shaft in a large and paying quantity is generally conceded. Several prominent mining men who have examined the Superior & Boston property have asserted that the Gardner will uncover a bigger deposit than has been opened at the Great Eastern. If such proves to be the case Superior & Boston without question will be the richest property in the Globe camp.

ARIZONA & MICHIGAN—

Supt. Nelson of the Arizona & Michigan this week advised the home office that the south drift at the Telfair shaft is getting into softer ground. More rapid progress can now be expected. The management is confident that the Telfair lode will be opened soon, and when this does come to a pass the stock will show a rapid advance.

CACTUS—

The reorganization of the Cactus will not be brought about for several months to come. The plans for this reorganization, though tentative, will provide ample funds to fully develop the property. Late reports from the mine have been gratifying. No announcement has been made as to the disposition of the option on the Pinto property, but it will undoubtedly be exercised.

BUTTE ISSUES—

There was considerable activity in a number of the lower priced Butte issues this week. Tuolumne was a leader, advancing up to $4.50. Butte Alex Scott going up a point and Butte & Superior with a like gain. Butte Ballaklava was another strong stock. These issues have been dull for some time past but the stocks were rapidly getting into better hands, and as a consequence the floating supply was found to be very light. The advance was easily brought about, and even now offerings are scanty.

Butte Ballaklava was in demand on favorable reports from the mine. Butte & Superior came as the result of the important deal pending between the company and the American Metal company for the construction of a mill and furnishing necessary working capital.

North Butte has also been well bought, though showed a loss for the week. This decline is due to the general weakness in copper securities in sympathy with the New York market as well as the expected unfavorable report on the metal situation. On both the 2,000 and 2,300 foot levels North Butte is getting into a better grade of ore. There is some talk of an increased dividend, but this we doubt very much. North Butte shareholders should be quite satisfied for the present with a disbursement of $1 per share every three months.

Butte Coalition is one of the strongest of the higher priced Butte stocks. Its handsome surplus stands over as a hope of substantial dividend disbursements being resumed. The company is producing close to 25,000,000 pounds of copper per annum and in late developments is getting richer ore than ever before. Butte Coalition looks attractive around present prices and in a good copper market will be found selling for much higher prices.

QUINCY HILL GRAND ENTERTAINMENT BY THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

The entertainment under the auspices of the Epworth league of the Methodist church at Powable to take place in the Quincy hall this evening, promises to be a musical event of unusual interest, as it is one of the most ambitious efforts in the way of amateur opera that has ever been attempted here. The members of the league and the choir of the Methodist church, assisted by splendid outside talent from Hancock, Houghton and Calumet, and with music furnished by the Quincy band, will present Verdi's famous opera, "Il Trovatore," upon which rehearsals have been in progress for many weeks past under the direction of E. H. Johnson, the leader of the Quincy band. The various parts have been assigned to those best able to handle them, and the immense chorus that will participate will make the event a notable one. Director Johnson believes that he has gotten together a company that will do full justice to the piece, the music of which is most beautiful and impressive. Mr. Johnson has had previous experience in training amateurs for participation in operatic productions and the present company contains better material, in his opinion, than any similar organization that he has yet handled.

The regular meeting of the Epworth League of the Pewabic M. E. church on Monday evening will have for the subject of discussion, "The Forgiven Unforgiving." Miss Mina Prynn will be the leader.

The Women's Home Missionary society of the Pewabic church met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Sam Williams, and those present spent the time pleasantly with business matters pertaining to the society and luncheon. Several musical selections and reading of papers formed part of the program of the session.

A large number of the Italian residents of the Hill are planning to attend the concert given at the Kerredge theater by D'Urbano's Italian band this evening and on Sunday. Many who have been unable to go during the earlier part of the week owing to their having to work nights will take the opportunity to enjoy the concert.

J. J. Hyers & Company are grading for a new track for the Houghton County Street railway from the Mesnard trestle to a point above No. 9 shaft house, work on which is soon to be started, and to avoid which the new track is to be laid. The new portion will be about 500 feet long and will run about 500 feet to the west of the old right of way. It will cost about $18,000 and is expected to be ready by November 1.

Gust Lindvall of the Quincy is confined to his home by serious illness.
