ALL HOPES OF FINDING MISSING MAN ABANDONED

Son of Robert Bellby Returns Home, But Searchers are Working Yet.

HUNTER BELIEVED TO BE DEAD

All hopes of ever finding the body of Robert Bellby, the Dowagiac hunter, who was lost in the woods near Sidway last week, have been abandoned and the son has returned to his home in the lower part of the state. A large searching party is still out scouring the woods to find the missing hunter and secure the large reward which is offered.

For miles around where Robert Bellby is supposed to have been hunted the searchers are exerting every possible effort in the hope of finding some trace of the missing man. Four lies in that he was overtaken by the severe storm the night he was lost, and that after traveling for miles he became exhausted and sank down in utter helplessness. There is no hope held out that he is still living because he must have been without food the next day, and if he met with other hunters some information would have been received ere this.

BIG BOND FOR TREASURER.

Will Have to Furnish One Amounting to $125,000 More.

A Lansing dispatch says: Auditor General Fuller is preparing today to notify most of the county treasurers of the state that they will have to give a larger bond before beginning the collection of the big state tax the first of the year. Under the law the auditor general requires treasurers to give a bond which will fully protect the state tax levy and the increased amount of the tax makes it necessary to revise the bonds given and all treasurers except those of Oscoda, Lake and Roscommon will have to furnish a new and larger bond. Auditor General Fuller is requiring a bond to the full amount of tax levy except in those counties which have the county board of auditors' system. Houghton's treasurer faces the largest raise, as his bond will have to be increased $125,000; Saginaw's treasurer will be directed to give a new bond $45,000 larger than the present one; Genesee increase $25,000; Jackson $25,000; Kent $100,000; Kalamazoo $25,000; Ingham $20,000; Muskegon $15,000, and Wayne $100,000.

TUG OTTAWA IS BURNED.

The Ottawa, of the Reid Wrecking company of Sarnia, Ont., one of the largest tugs on the great lakes, was burned to the water's edge early last night while moored beside the steamer Hoyt in Frog bay, about six miles north of Bayfield and two miles north of Red Cliff, opposite Oak Island—Duluth News-Tribune.

STEAMER HOYT IS RELEASED.

Craft Will be Temporarily Repaired and Brought to Duluth. The steamer James H. Hoyt has been released from the reef near Outer island, on which she has been stranded, and is in Frog bay, two miles north of Bayfield, where she was brought by the tug Reid and Ottawa. Captain Reid reports the vessel as being in fine condition, except her bottom, and it will be impossible to state whether that is seriously damaged until she is in drydock. The Hoyt was towed to Frog bay because of the shallowness of the water there, and temporary repairs will be made after which she will be brought to Duluth.

WHITE CITY PLANS ARE NOW WELL UNDER WAY

Plans and Specifications are Made For Changes in Excursion Steamer.

COTTAGES WILL BE ERECTED

Plans and specifications for changes in the arrangement of the excursion boat International have been prepared by Architect Paul MacNeil of Houghton. The plans were accepted by the White City management yesterday and steps will be taken immediately to make the various alterations. It will require several weeks' work and when completed the boat will have been transformed into one of the most comfortable excursion steamers on the upper lakes.

The plans call for a ladies' cabin on the promenade deck, and pilot on the hurricane deck. The boiler will be turned around, this work to be done at the Carrol Bros. foundry. The alterations will greatly change the appearance of the boat and increase its passenger capacity at least one hundred more.

The boat arrangement will be such that the craft may be housed in entirely in case of rough weather. In this way the comfort of the passengers will be such that none will be exposed to disagreeable conditions which they would ordinarily be subjected to. Sanitarium cribs will be placed on the promenade deck that children may be given every comfort possible. The latter arrangement will make it possible for mothers to take their children with them on trips to the White City with every accommodation necessary provided.

W. H. Labb, manager of the White City, yesterday purchased a large consignment of lumber for the cottages which are to be erected. The lumber will be hauled from Hubbell to White City on scows and will be delivered this week. The arrival of the material will give the carpenters a chance to commence work this week. A large force of men have been at work for several days in anticipation of the arrival of the building material and all is now in readiness to go ahead with the work. White City promises to be one of the business places in the copper country for some weeks to come.

SEEKS BROTHER'S BODY.

Adolph de Vries of Brooklyn Writes Chief of Police Voetsch. Chief of Police Voetsch yesterday received from Adolph de Vries of Brooklyn, N. Y., a letter of which the following is the text:

I like to inform you that on Nov. 16, at 6:40 p. m., my brother on duty on the steamer H. S. Holden of the Lake Carriers' association, Cleveland, O., was washed overboard and drowned about 8 miles east of Manitowish Island. As it may be possible his body may be washed ashore, I send you underneath some identifications and in case you find his body please notify at once the Lake Carriers' association, 292 Rockefeller building, Cleveland, O. As I am absolutely unknown in your part of the country, I would like to ask you if you would send these identifications to other places. If this is not under your jurisdiction, please notify me to whom to apply. I wish, in case of finding the body, you would please notify Charles J. Barr, undertaker, 1255 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Respectfully Yours, Adolph de Vries, 68 S. Elliott Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Here follows the description of the lost sailor: Adolph de Vries, aged 36; color, white; complexion, light; weight, about 170; height, about five feet nine inches; grey eyes; brown hair; no visible distinctive marks, Jewish. J. P. Jackson of Milwaukee, consulting engineer of the Wisconsin Bridge & Iron company, is in Houghton on one of his regular visits.

DIED AT CADOTTE, WIS.

Frank Pummerville of Houghton has returned from Cadotte, Wis., where he attended the funeral of his granddaughter Agnes Cadotte. The child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolter, formerly of Houghton, but now of the Wisconsin town. Agnes Wolter was born in Houghton Nov. 17, 1902. The sorrow caused by the death of the little girl is all the greater because a younger sister, Dorothy, died four months previous. The parents are well known here and sympathy is extended to them.

WIFE LEAVES HUSBAND.

Takes $100 Which Husband Gave Her to Pay Bills, He Says. Mrs. Arthur Roubillard of Point Mills is at present enjoying the shelter of some room unknown to her husband. At least this was in part a statement which he made this morning. His spouse left her home a few weeks ago, shortly after the departure of a boarder. Her husband does not particularly deplore her departure, but he would like to be satisfied in his own mind whether she intends returning to his abode. He says he will give her three weeks to make up her mind.

WILL CONTINUE SERVICE.

Ferry Contract Runs Out but Business Will be Continued. The ferry contract between the Houghton businessmen and Captain Tregoning of Ripley ran out this morning, but it does not mean that the ferry service will be discontinued. On the contrary the service will be continued indefinitely, Captain Tregoning carrying it on as a private enterprise. The ferry has been a success and it will be continued again next summer. Captain Tregoning was promised a bonus of $50 a month from the businessmen of Houghton to run the ferry and his decision to continue the business is evidence of the venture being a profitable one.

IN THE DAIRY BUSINESS.

Neil Burkman of Oskar Will Conduct Model Establishment. Neil Burkman of Oskar has decided to branch out in the dairy business and is making arrangements with this end in view. His farm at Oskar is probably one of the finest in this part of the upper peninsula. He owns thirty-four cows, all Jerseys, which will give to the public lacteal of an exceedingly rich quality.

JUBILEE BANQUET TONIGHT.

Interesting Program in Connection With Grace Church Anniversary. Public interest in the golden jubilee celebration of the Grace M. E. church continues to increase. At the sacred concert last evening every seat in the church was taken. The jubilee banquet will be given in the church parlors this evening and as only a certain number may take seats, the number has been limited to 100. Tomorrow evening, Rev. Ames A. Maywood, formerly pastor of the church, will give a lecture on "Sydney Carton" from "A Tale of Two Cities." The program for tonight follows:

Toastmaster, Prof. E. D. Grant—"May the Lamp of Friendship be Lighted With the Oil of Sincerity." "Historical sketch and Personal Reminiscences"—James Pryor. "The Fruit of Fifty Years, We Bequeath"—T. A. Trevathan. "Our Appreciation"—Prof. J. A. Doelle. Cornet solo, selected—Walter Collins, Mrs. Thos. Richards, accompanist. "What the Church of Today Can Do for the Men of Tomorrow"—Judge Geo. C. Bentley. Double Male Quartet—"Oft in the Still Night"—Messrs. Odgers, Whitford, Everts, A. Whitford, Richards, Bradburn, Gates, Wareington. "The Present Outlook"—R. T. Bentley. Long distance greetings from former pastors and friends. Double Male Quartet—"Good Night."

INSTALLING A TRACK SCALE.

A new Fairbanks track scale is now being constructed at the western end of the Copper Range coal dock, the scale to be used for weighing coal in cars as they come from the dock. The scale is a smaller one than the yard scales and will eliminate the trouble of uncoupling cars as has been necessary in the past.

MANY HUNTERS IN TOWN.

Many Nimrods Not So Successful as in Previous Seasons. As a result of the close of the deer season last night Houghton is today entertaining many visitors. The outgoing trains to points in the lower part of the state carried many belated hunters who had remained in the woods loyal to the last in an attempt to take home at least one deer. A hunter returning to the lower peninsula this morning minus a deer and with a long face said it was pretty tough luck to come so far and get so little. He said the number of deer killed has not been so satisfactory from

NEW KING OF THE WIRES.

Landonville, Va., Nov. 30.—The recent elevation of T. N. Vail to the head of the telegraph merger brings into public prominence again one of the brainiest capitalists of the day. Mr. Vail is an Ohioan by birth. He was educated at Morristown, N. J., academy and after graduation studied medicine for two years with an uncle. In 1878 he became assistant general superintendent of the mails and in 1875 became general superintendent. He entered the telephone business and his work was so arduous that his health failed and he traveled. He introduced the American electrical system of street railways in Buenos Ayres and installed telephone systems in the principal cities of the United States. He became president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company in 1907. He is director in scores of other corporations in New York and London.

Paris Bows to American Art

FLORENCE MARION NUTTING.

San Francisco, Dec. 1.—The announcement has just been made at the San Francisco Institute of Art that Miss Florence Marion Nutting has carried off the medal in the Paris competition as well as the Julian academy scholarship.

Thirty of the best life drawings of the student body of the institute were forwarded to Paris this year; these were returned three weeks ago and the twenty-two receiving the most favorable criticism from the Julian academy jury are now on public view at the institute in the small gallery, the larger one being reserved for the Walters' collection of paintings, not yet hung. There will be no regular fall exhibition this year, but the two galleries will be thrown open to the public at a large reception in the near future.

Miss Nutting, the winner of the much coveted Julian academy scholarship, is a San Francisco girl and has just completed her two year's course at the Art institute. Her first lessons were given at the Polytechnic high school, which she attended for four years. Her principal line of study, so far, has been in modeling and life drawing, and she has just now taken up a course in painting.

Miss Nutting is a very bright, pretty, wholesome girl, very young yet and most enthusiastic about her chosen career. "Will you leave for Paris soon?" she was asked. She shook her head. "The scholarship at the Julian," she explained, "and I can't go now, but maybe next year I can manage it. I shall continue for the present at the institute here, although I really received my teacher's certificate, and I suppose I shall formally get the medal tomorrow."

clock of the Palais de Justice, which is now undergoing restoration. Two papers assert that it was constructed between 1385 and 1685, while a third declares that it only dates from 1852, and that it is the replica of the work of Jean-Baptiste Leprieux and that the original was set up in the time of Henry III. Although the clock is famous, there are others, we learn, which are still more so; for instance, the clock at the Cathedral of Lyons.

The clock of Lyons Cathedral is a wonderful piece of mechanism, and the legend describing it is as follows: The clock crows, the bell sounds the hours, the little bells the Sancta Spiritus; the angel opens the gate to salute the Virgin Mary. The two heads of the lions move the eyes and the tongue. The astrologic shows the hours in its degree, and the movement of the moon. Moreover, the perpetual calendar shows all the days of the year, the feast days, and the bissextile. The hours at which the chimes are complete are five and six o'clock in the morning, midday and one and two o'clock in the afternoon. The chimes at the other hours are restricted so as not to interfere with the cathedral services.

Complicated indeed is the clock of Beauvais cathedral. It is said to be composed of 92,000 separate pieces, according to a French journal. One sees on the fifty-two dial plates the hour, the day, the week and the month; the rising and the setting of the sun, the phases of the moon, the tides, the time in the principal capitals of the world, together with a series of terrestrial and astronomical evolutions. The framework is of carved oak eight metres by five metres, or twenty-six feet by sixteen and one-quarter feet. When the clock strikes all the "dialles" seem in movement. The designer wished to depict the Last Judgement. This wonderful work recalls the clock of Strasbourg, and is of modern construction. It is the work of a Beauvaisian, M. Verite, who was in the engineering department of the Nord railway. He died in 1857.

The clock crows, angels sound the trumpet at the four cardinal points, initiation flames appear from the openings of little steeples right and left, God, the Father, by an inclination of the head announces that he has come to judge the world. A soul that of the impatient thief, appears before the Supreme Judge. It is condemned "a Fraenfer" and a demon armed with a pitchfork seizes it and casts it into the abyss. Next comes the soul of the just. The angels advance and conduct it to the realms of day, sacred strains being heard as the procession moves along.
