SCHOOL TROUBLE NOW ADJUSTED

Township Board to Pay $115 to Have Roads Kept Open

A meeting of the board for Portage township was held yesterday in the office of the township clerk for the purpose of passing on the other lake road trouble. The farmers in that district have been complaining for some time that the roads in that district were impassable in winter, and accordingly they were unable to send their children to school. Four of these farmers were arrested last week and brought before Justice Little, but were released when they showed the conditions with which they had to contend.

These farmers, however, agreed to keep the road in question open all winter for $15, and the board agreed to pay for this sum at the meeting yesterday. Two other sums, one of $30 and another of $40, are paid for this purpose, making a total of $115 the township has to pay for this service. Justice Little is of the opinion that it is money well spent as it frees the township officers from the trouble of making other roads in person and it allows the children in this neighborhood to reach their schools.

BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS

Houghton High Start Practice—College Teams Play Saturday.

The Houghton high school basketball season has started their regular winter practice in the gymnasium hall. The team that will represent the school this year will be the strongest aggregation that has ever been turned out of the Houghton school.

Houghton has always had the hockey team to fall back on in case the basketball team failed to play up to standard, but this winter, the hockey team having been discontinued, the basketball team will be the only sport that the Houghton players will take part in.

Coopers, Wimmer, Atz and Hollister of last year's team are back in school this year and will be in the game. The most of last season's five is missing and will be the only regular who will be out of the team this year. Hollister will likely play forward as he is an expert shot and a skillful combiner. The player, Rogers and Wimmer will have to fight it out for the other forward position and as both men are stars it looks like the Houghton team would be well fixed for forward men. Atz will be in center again although if he fails to show up better than he has for the past season or so it would not be surprising to see him benched in favor of some other man. One guard position will have to be filled and that will give Wimmer a first team that can be depended on to put a good deal of a figure in this year's race.

The College of Mines team will open their home season Saturday, when they meet the Calumet Independents. The college team is trying to arrange games with the Marquette Normal, the Mar-

MISSIONARY SPEAKS HERE.

Dr. Moses Breeze, D. D., will be at Presbyterian church Friday.

Rev. Frank Knowles, pastor of the Houghton Presbyterian church, announced yesterday that Dr. Moses Breeze, a missionary of the church, would be at the Houghton church next Friday evening at 7:30.

Dr. Breeze is said to be a "Western Cyclone." He did splendid work among the Minnesota church in arousing interest in the work of the church and when the general missionary board's attention was brought to this field, Dr. Breeze was appointed head of the country life field. He is said to be a splendid talker, and to be a most convincing man. His address Friday will doubtless be well worth hearing.

WORCESTER MILL RESUMES.

The mill of the Worcester Lumber company at Chassel, which was shut down for repairs six weeks ago resumed operations yesterday. A slight accident occurred Sunday when the engine of the Worcester Lumber company coming down the hill between Worham and Camp two passed out of the control of the engineer, owing to the failure of the brakes to work. The engine left the tracks when it reached the foot of the hill, but was only slightly damaged.

MOVIES A BIG SUCCESS.

The military moving pictures shown last evening at the Star theater proved a big success in every way. Members of the Houghton and Calumet companies were shown and various scenes from camp life, and from the annual maneuvers were also shown. The members of Co. G acted as hosts to last evening's performance, but this evening the pictures will be shown for the benefit of the general public.

WARNINGS DOWN SATURDAY.

H. B. Cowdrick, head of the Houghton office of the weather bureau has been notified from Washington to stop displaying the storm warnings after Saturday. Navigation through Portage Lake closed Sunday to all intents and purposes, and the life saving station at the canal will be closed the last of the week, marking the official close of the marine season through Houghton.

HIGH SCHOOL DANCE FRIDAY.

The senior class of the Houghton high school will give a dance next Friday evening in the Masonic hall. This will be the first high school dance of the year to be given by a high school class. The music will be provided by the Klinghammer's orchestra.

HOUGHTON BREVITIES.

C. V. Seeber has returned from Rochester, Minn., where he went to receive treatment at the Mayo Bros. hospital.

Leslie Dea has returned from the east, where he has been attending school.

Mrs. Agnes Hobbs has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Charles Humberston, Superior, Wis.

Mrs. H. F. Henderson left yesterday for Wayne, Neb., to join her husband, and they will then go to California to spend the winter.

R. A. Weir has moved his plumbing shop from his old stand to the Monette building, where he will fit up a modern salesroom for plumbing and heating supplies.

Dr. Andrew Wessells has arrived in Houghton, where he will practice medicine as a specialist in ear, eye, nose and throat troubles. Dr. Wessells is a brother of Daniel Wessells of Winona.

Harry Flores, the Portage Lake golf club professional, left yesterday for Indianapolis, where he will spend the winter.

Col. J. N. Cox, county agent for the state board of corrections and charities, left yesterday for Jackson on official business.

NO SENSE OF HUMOR.

A Scientist's Criticism of a Comic Book For Children.

Charles Monselet, a Frenchman of letters, published a comic "scientific dictionary" for the benefit of children, who found no little amusement in his odd accounts of things in the animal world which were perfectly familiar to them, but which were described in a rather fantastic way in M. Monselet's book.

The editor of a certain scientific journal, however, was much surprised and shocked at M. Monselet's ignorance when he took up the book, and he wrote an article about it in his paper, which ran as follows:

"A certain M. Monselet has published a dictionary for the use of children, which contains definitions showing the most extraordinary ignorance, such as the following:

"Sardine—A little fish without any head which lives in oil."

"As if a fish could live without a head and in oil!"

"Another definition:

"Parrot—A bird somewhat resembling the pigeon, generally green when it is not red or yellow or blue. Cockatoo sometimes live to be a hundred years old, except when they are stuffed, and then there is no limit to the length of their life."

"Now, it happens that the parrot is not a pigeon at all and never has the colors that M. Monselet gives to him, and, in short, this M. Monselet knows no more of natural history than he has grains of common sense."

HOW HE TOOK THE PICKLE.

The physician had been treating a man for dyspepsia for a long time, and finally, wishing to know how his patient was coming on, he told him to take a pickle just before going to bed and see if he could hold it on his stomach overnight. The next day the man called, and the physician asked him the result.

"Oh, it was all right, doctor," he said, "as long as I was awake, but when I went to sleep it rolled off."

THE DUCHESS OF CONAUGHT'S STORY.

THE USAGES OF ROYALTY.

A patriotic Scotsman was present at a meeting of a certain society at which an eminent Shakespearean scholar dwelt on the virtues of his favorite author. At the close of the meeting the Scot approached the lecturer, and the following dialogue took place:

"Ye think a fine lot o' Shakespeare, doctor?"

"I do, sir," was the emphatic reply.

"An' ye think he was nae mair clever than Rabble Burns?"

"Why, there is no comparison between them."

"Maybe no, but ye tell us tonicht it was Shakespeare who wrote 'Uncle' lies the head that wears a crown.' Now, Rabble would never have written six nonsense as that."

"Nonsense, sir!" cried the indignant doctor.

"Aye, just nonsense. Rabble would have kent that a king, or a queen either, disna gang to bed wi' the crown on his head. He wad hang it over th' back o' a chair."

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHING SCALP?—25 CENT DANDERINE

SAVE YOUR HAIR! DANDERINE DESTROYS DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR AT ONCE—GROWS HAIR, WE PROVE IT.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of the Knawton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness, and itching of the scalp; the hair roots, furnish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too stiffly, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Knawton's Danderine and apply it as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—just use Knawton's Danderine. It eventually will truly amaze you.

COULDN'T FOOL THE JUDGE.

He Knew an Actor or a Burglar When He Saw One.

De Wolf Hopper's idea of a nice, reasonable speed for a motor is with the clutch nudged into the highest notch, the chauffeur reclining on his back and sighting through the holes in the steering wheel and a merry party betting they won't be thrown out of the tonneau when the wagon hits a thank-you-marrn. Therefore he happens upon occasional trouble with the rural constabulary.

The other day he was halted before a backwoods judge. Hopper says he knew he'd have trouble as soon as he glimpsed the jurist's poison ivy whiskers. So he justly abandoned his first intention of assuming a peculiar air and became dignified and repellent in manner. "My name," he said, "is De Wolf Hopper."

"Hopper, hey?" asked the judge. "Hopper, hey? I got you, Hop. We got a description somewhere of Wolf, the Hopper. He's a second story man."

"But I'm a singer and an actor," protested the agonized comedian.

"You are, huh?" said the judge. "Well, let's hear you sing a little."

Mr. Hopper jumped up. Pretty soon the judge rapped for silence. "Lots of folks," he remarked judiciously, "causing that well. Let's see you act."

Mr. Hopper hurried himself into an impassioned rendition of "Horatio at the Bridge," which he picked at the spur of the moment as affording plenty of color and action. The judge listened coldly. By and by he frowned Mr. Hopper down.

"I don't call that actin'," said he. "That's a school piece. If you was an actor you could dance."

Mr. Hopper danced for the gentleman. The audience in the courtroom watched him critically. By and by the presiding actor quit work.

"I gotta fine you," said the judge, "and then I'll let you go. You ain't persuaded me that you're a singer or an actor, but you ain't Wolf, the Hopper. No first rate second story man would ever carry on like that."—Chicago Post.

HOBBLES 5,000 YEARS OLD.

Dr. Edith N. Hall, who has charge of the excavations in Crete for the University of Pennsylvania, and who is in Philadelphia to deliver a course of lectures on the work before university classes, declares that the excavations 5,000 years ago wore hobbit skirts, tight corsets and mannish collars.

Dr. Hall also declares that ancient Crete has reached a very high plane of civilization. The city had a drainage system which compared favorably with any present day drainage system.

"Excavations on the island," said Dr. Hall, "will be materially assisted by the Italian war, since under the Turkish regime the excavating is hampered by a great deal of red tape."

NEW NAME SUGGESTED.

Chicago Nationals May Be Known as Cubs in 1913.

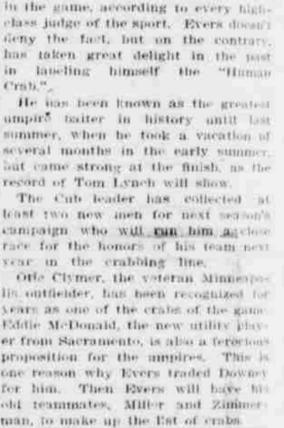

The name of the Chicago Nationals should be changed from Cubs to Grays next year. The Cub fans are worrying about the safety of umpires assigned to work in games on the Windy City grounds next season because there will be so many mean tempered players on the Chicago team.

In Johnny Evers, the new manager, Murphy has selected the biggest crab in the game, according to every high-class judge of the sport. Evers doesn't deny the fact, but on the contrary, has taken great delight in the past in labeling himself the "Himrod Crab."

He has been known as the greatest umpire's buster in history until last summer, when he took a vacation of several months in the early summer, but came strong at the finish, as the record of Tom Lynch will show.

The Cub leader has collected at least two new men for next season's campaign who will run him close for the honors of his team next year in the crabbing line.

Old Cymer, the veteran Minneapolis outfielder, has been recognized for years as one of the crabs of the game. Eddie McDonald, the new utility player from Sacramento, is also a terrible proposition for the umpires. This is one reason why Evers traded Downey for him. Then Evers will have his old teammates, Miller and Zimmerman, to make up the list of crabs.
