PROVISION TO BE MADE FOR MANY EXPRESS EMPLOYEES

MAJORITY OF EXPERIENCED MEN TO BE TAKEN BY THE OTHER COMPANIES.

Although no official notice has been received at the Hancock office that the United States Express company will go out of business, C. T. Hawk, route agent for the Wells Fargo & Co. express, who was in Hancock yesterday, stated that it is a well known fact that the company will soon liquidate.

When asked what provision would be made for the 15,000 men employed by the company, Mr. Hawk stated he was assured from a reliable source that something would be done for them by other express companies. "This one company going out of business means that the other companies will have more to do," said Mr. Hawk. "Of course all of the old employees will not find employment in the same line of work, but a majority will. It looks as though the express companies still in business will not have to worry for efficient help for a few years to come. Naturally the men with experience will be given the preference over the younger fellows and the young men wishing to break into the business will have more obstacles in his way than formerly."

While in business, the States company was a valuable company and at the present time holds many valuable franchises. Just what company will buy these up is unknown right now, but it stands to reason that the company that secures the franchises will have more valuable stock and their business is bound to increase. I do not know whether the Fargo company is figuring on buying up these franchises or not.

Ancient New Rates.

The state railroad commission some time ago asked the express companies doing business in Michigan to submit a tentative revision of rates to be used as a basis for working out a new schedule of rates. The commission expects to get this tentative revision before the end of the month and then the task of correcting what are declared to be by inequalities in interstate rates will be commenced.

"THE QUAKER GIRL" TO BE STAGED AT KERREDGE SOON

MANAGER KERREDGE ARRANGES MARCH 31 AS DATE FOR COMMENCING PRODUCTION.

Manager Ray Kerredge of the Kerredge theater of this city has completed all arrangements for the production of "The Quaker Girl," which will be staged at the local play house the evening of March 31.

The story of "The Quaker Girl" is built around the experience of a Quaker girl in Paris, where she goes after being cast off by her own people. An exiled Bonapartist Princess is attracted by the girl's beauty and helps her to secure a position as a model in Madame Blum's dressmaking salon in Paris. There she learns the art of sewing beautiful gowns that increase one's natural loveliness and when she meets Tony Shute, (Victor Morley) he establishes himself as her instructor in the arts of dancing and love-making.

During the riotous merriment of a grand ball two English sisters give one of the dances for which they are famous in London and which are seen in this country for the first time in this production. They are the younger sisters of the Florence Wilson who recently married an English nobleman and they are every bit as dainty and charming as their older and now titled sister. The music of the piece is simple and melodic and the lyrics are of the catchy sort that sets the whole town whistling and humming after the first performance. There are twenty new songs in the piece and each one is a valuable and necessary part of the whole.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION.

Will Be Held For L. O. T. M. M. April 9—District Convention April 14.

Mrs. Ida Scott of Manistiquic, district deputy of the Ladies of the Modern Macabees, has sent word to Hancock hives that she will be here April 9 to conduct a school of instruction for the officers and in general floor work. Mrs. Scott has been coming to the copper country in this capacity for several years and her succeeding visits are always looked forward to with animated pleasure for the enthusiasm which she instills in members of the order.

One hundred members at least, possibly more, by the time Mrs. Scott comes here, is the goal the three Hancock hives have set out to attain.

The annual district convention of the Ladies of the Modern Macabees, embracing Houghton and Baraga counties, will take place in Hancock April 14 in conjunction with the Knights of the Modern Macabees' convention. The business of the convention will take place in the morning and afternoon in the Kaith hall. In the evening the center of activities will be transferred to Germania hall where floor work will be put on. This will be followed with a concert program and dancing. The Hancock City orchestra will furnish musical numbers featuring the entertainment, and also play for the dance.

Nine hives will be represented at the convention, as follows: L'Anse—Meadow Brook hives, Houghton—Waverly and Sutter hives.

Calumet—Lady Willard, Finnish and Red Jacket hives.

Hancock—Isnot, Finnish and Hancock hives.

At this convention delegates will be chosen to represent the district in the state convention, which takes place in Bay City next June. Each of the mentioned hives is entitled to one representative in the district convention, with the exception of Lady Willard hives of Calumet, which will send two delegates.

STENCILED PATTERNS ARE USED TO DECORATE SPRING GARMENTS

BLUE AND WHITE BLOUSE.

STENCILING is used for decorating clothing this season. For evening wraps, gowns or waists it offers many possibilities. Odd futuristic designs are most often used, and the patterns are put on in simple colors. On loosely woven fabrics the colors come out very satisfactorily. The novel blouse illustrated here is in one of the new ribbed fabrics and adorned with stenciled patterns in blue. The arrangement of the large loose sleeve is new and novel.

No. 1 Shaft—West Lode. Good copper rock was opened on the 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th levels south of the shaft, but development north has failed to show anything of value except on the 20th level near the shaft. Openings at various points on several levels at an distance of from 1,000 to 1,700 feet north show the lode to be badly broken up. On the 17th level a stope about 100 feet long is being worked at a point about 1,000 feet south of the shaft. This stope is showing fair ground and is the farthest point south at which paying copper has been found. The 18th level is 1,200 feet south of the shaft, and it is intended to connect this level with No. 2 shaft.

Superior Lode. No copper was developed south of the shaft. About 400 feet of copper ground was opened on the 16th and 17th levels between 700 and 1,100 feet north of the shaft, but the grade is below average. New stopes were started on the 13th and 14th levels north of the shaft, and these are producing copper of fair grade.

No. 2 Shaft. The shaft had nearly reached the depth required to connect with the 18th level of No. 1 shaft when the strike stopped operations, and work was not resumed until January 1914.

Surface. The 18-inch by 24-inch Lidgerwood hoist formerly in use at No. 1 shaft was erected during the summer of No. 2 shaft, replacing the 14-inch by 18-inch Lidgerwood used previously.

Assets. Cash, accounts receivable at Boston and copper and silver un sold $341,519.25 Cash and accounts receivable at mine 7,522.76 Supplies on hand at mine 6,219.74 $355,261.75

Liabilities. Draft in transit $50,000.00 Accounts payable at Boston $6,258.59 Accounts payable at mine 15,227.59 161,586.19 Balance of assets December 31 1913 $193,697.91

South Lake. South Lake watered the shaft in less than a week's time and began to sink again Wednesday, March 11. It had been carried down as rapidly as possible through the 75 feet retaining to the sixth and 600-foot level where work then began, the cross-cut of 1.92 feet southeast of the 400-foot level, disclosed about 100 years ago to seven diamond drill holes. After the cross-cut has been driven far enough so that the men will be out of danger the cross-cutting of the three suspected Evergreen lodes out of the middle of the shaft, on the 10th level will be recommenced. These lodes were met 219 feet, No. 1 having the width of 40, and all having a remarkably good and very evenly distributed mineralization. When the work was discontinued, this cross-cut had been in the hole for 40 feet and had not reached the hanging wall. The copper values disclosed were good. Plats had also been cut at the fourth, fifth and another will of course be cut at the sixth and cross-cuts extended from all of them as soon as possible. A crushing plant has been installed and the rock coming from the openings on the lodes will go direct to the mill which will enable a thorough test to be made of them as work progresses. There was on hand Dec. 31, 1913, $35,495 cash with $8,740 unpaid on account of assessment No. 2, due June 3, 1913.

Here are Girls That are Girls

The snappiest, brightest American girls, in stories that fairly bristle with girl-doings. Here are three out of nine stories, all in one magazine:

A Girl Meets a Prince At the White House

They fall in love: are married: two amazing events occur, and the President of the United States and the Cabinet at Washington, and the King of England, his Ministers and the Parliament confront the unheard-of situation that the daughter of the President of the United States is the Queen of England. It is kept quiet for years: then it is worked out. But how?

Would This Girl Smash a Window!

A whole set of girls in an Ohio town got excited over this. She walked alone: she sat out dances and yet she wore a Paris frock. Then one day she appeared in a bathing suit to go in swimming: the men gazed and the girls marveled. At the next dance her card was full: the girls flocked after her: men motored with her: played tennis with her. Why?

27 Pretty Girls Wanted Henry

When he looked at one girl twice 26 gritted their teeth and redoubled their efforts. His sister tried to coach him: Henry spun in a world of pink and white. Then, man-like, he puts his foot into it, and things began to happen to the girl and Henry.
