

READY NOW FOR STATE CAMPAIGN

Three Parties Adopt Platforms and Complete Their Tickets

Kalamazoo, Oct. 1.—The republican state convention, meeting here yesterday, nominated the balance of the state ticket, not named at the recent primaries, adopted its platform for the fall campaign and, with party enthusiasm at its height, listened to the leaders urge the delegates on to a republican victory in the coming election.

Former Governor Chase S. Osborn, again a candidate for governor, was greeted with cheers.

The state ticket named yesterday afternoon follows. Secretary of state, Coleman C. Vaughan of St. Johns; state treasurer, John W. Harrar of Lansing; attorney general, Grant Fellows of Hudson; auditor general, O. R. Fuller of Escanaba.

The platform pledged the party to work for: Reforms in taxation; a state budget system; a forum for the settlement of labor disputes; good road legislation, and more expeditious and less expensive court procedure. It approved the national committee's rearrangement of representation of states at future national conventions; reaffirmed belief in the protective tariff principle and denounced the Underwood tariff act.

Former Governor Curtis H. Guild of Massachusetts was among the speakers.

Democratic Meet Harmonious.

Detroit, Oct. 1.—The threatened fight on the floor of the democratic state convention here between so-called "progressive" democrats and "organization" forces failed to materialize, all the difficulties having been taken care of in committee meetings. Edmund C. Shields of Lansing, against whom the insurgent attack was chiefly directed, was re-elected chairman of the state central committee by unanimous vote.

The fall campaign platform, as adopted at the convention, favors: Legislation designed to promote the interests of agricultural communities, such as employment of convict labor on farm lands and construction of good roads; the support of every measure calculated to restrict the ravages of disease; restriction of number of candidates chosen under the primary election system; enactment of legislation giving the state railroad commission the powers and duties of a public utilities commission; the creation of a state court of inquiry to handle all disputes between capital and labor, and the establishment of a non-partisan commission to investigate all matters pertaining to the administration of state affairs.

The following candidates for state offices were named: Secretary of state, William L. McManus, Jr., of Petoskey; state treasurer, John H. Robinson of Ovid; auditor general, John J. Campbell of Huron county; attorney general, Verne C. Amberson of Blissfield.

T. R. Scores Old Parties.

Bay City, Oct. 1.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was the principal speaker at the progressive state convention here. He spoke in the same hall where the republican and progressive split at a republican state convention here two years ago, when state troops were called out to preserve order.

"They stole it from us," was the former president's comment, during his address, on that convention incident. "They took the delegates by force, but when the votes of the people were counted we had them beaten two to one."

"You can't be loyal to the principles of Abraham Lincoln by voting the republican ticket," he said. "You can't be loyal to the principles of Jefferson by voting the Democratic ticket. I guess the names of Lincoln and Jefferson aren't mentioned when the followers of Lorimer, republican, and Sullivan, democratic, hold their conferences."

"The standpatters, the reactionaries of the republican party, were the real aids to democratic power. These standpatters are real minister masters who stand behind the scenes using the republican political puppets as their tools. They hold their power by fraud and violence. And they started that fraud and violence in this very building two years ago."

"And they ask us to come to them. Why, we will get together with them just like a policeman gets together with a burglar. I ask you to combine against them."

The platform adopted by the convention favored the submission to the electors of an amendment to state and federal constitutions providing for the prohibition of the liquor traffic and reaffirmed previously expressed progressive doctrines.

State officers nominated were: Secretary of state, Howard H. Batdorf of Battle Creek; state treasurer, Frank J. Temple of Tecumseh; attorney general, Charles P. O'Neil of Detroit; auditor general, George M. Myham of South Haven.

FRENCH INVENTOR PLANNED TO BUILD BIGGEST AIRCRAFT

WOULD HAVE CONSTRUCTED
MACHINE THREE TIMES
SIZE OF ZEPPELIN.

Berlin, Oct. 1.—The Cologne Gazette prints the report that just previous to the outbreak of the war the French military authorities were planning to build the "biggest airship in the world."

"As far as known to insiders," says the article "this new airship, the inventor of which is Arno Boerner, is to have a length of 300 meters and a width of 20 meters; in other words, it would be nearly three times as big as a Zeppelin."

"Instead of the baskets this new type has a bridge which extends from the forepart along the entire length of the airship in the afterpart. The gas bags, of which there are about 50, have quadrilateral ground plan and consists each of three balloons linked together and filled with hydrogen, nitrogen and ordinary air. The hydrogen balloons are surrounded by nitrogen, the latter by air. By this system the hydrogen should be prevented from being exploded by lightning or other igniting agencies. Furthermore the escape of gas by diffusion is reduced considerably."

"According to the statements of its inventor this airship would remain aloft several days without interruption, and have a carrying capacity of 200 persons. It is certain that the plans and calculations were worked out to their minutest details and were submitted to the French ministry of war in a comprehensive memorial. But immediately previous to the Austrian ultimatum the negotiations were only progressed to a stage where the French government ordered the sum of 500,000 francs to be appropriated and entrusted a well known company, the Zodiac-Works, with the preliminary work. This was too late to render the airship available in the present war."

Prof. Richard Hudson, former dean of the literary department, now retired and living in Detroit, is spending some time with friends in this city.

Dr. V. C. Vaughan, president of the American Medical association, will read a paper before the National Prison association, which meets in St. Paul Oct. 5 to 11.

A $300 fellowship in the graduate school is vacant, owing to the inability of the holder of it to return to college this fall.

There has never before been as many calls from students for positions whereby they can earn a part or the whole of their college expenses, as this year, and there has not been a year since the beginning of this century when there have been so few positions open to students. Last year the Y. M. C. A. found positions for 2,358 students.

Prof. Arthur Cross, whose new book, "History of England and Greater Britain," was off the press the last of August, has received word that it has been accepted as a text book by 35 different colleges and universities, and that the first edition is exhausted.

The U. Y. M. C. A. has recently been offered $60,000 toward a new club house by John D. Rockefeller, with a string tied to it. The association must raise a like amount within the year, if it is to get the oil king's money. The association now has about $7,000.

Dr. George Hemphill, wife and two daughters, of Leland Stanford university, are in the city, and will probably remain until spring. Prof. Hemphill, former U. of M. faculty member, recently sustained a nervous breakdown and was granted a year's leave of absence to be spent in the Mediterranean countries. The European war has compelled them to change their plans.

President Hutchins has received an invitation to attend the 25th anniversary of the founding of Kwansan Gakuin, Kobe, Japan, a Union Methodist institution for young men, which will be celebrated Oct. 16 to 21, inclusive. He has sent his greetings.

Laurium Department

POULTRY ASSN. TO MEET SOON

Mohawk Fair Helps to Stir Up Interest Among Breeders

President W. J. Reynolds of the Upper Peninsula Poultry association will call a meeting of the association soon, when matters pertaining to the annual midwinter show in February will be taken up.

During the summer, the association has lost several prominent members, but interest continues to increase and the hope is entertained that the next show will be one of the biggest ever held in the upper peninsula. Red Jacket probably will be selected as the place for the exhibition.

The poultry department of the Keweenaw Fair, appealing to practically the same exhibitors as the Upper Peninsula show, although small in comparison with the latter enterprise, gave some idea of the quality of stock to be shown at the forthcoming midwinter show. Naturally the birds had not reached a stage of development where they were anywhere near their best and allowances had to be made for weight and other shortcomings attributable to the early season, but some splendid birds were exhibited and the interest manifested gave much encouragement to Calumet and Laurium poultry breeders.

It is probable that during the fall and early winter, papers dealing with reasonable subjects will be features of each meeting and some valuable ideas may be obtained by the members.

SPECIAL SONG SERVICE.

Choir in Charge of Service at Laurium M. E. Church Sunday.

Sidney C. Johns, chorister of the Laurium M. E. church, announces that a special musical program of about fourteen numbers will be given by the choir at the regular service Sunday evening which will be entirely in charge of the choir. The program prepared and which will be announced shortly, is one of the best ever arranged for the copper country.

One of the features will be the singing of a new arrangement of "Rock of Ages" for four female voices. The arrangement of this popular hymn is of English origin and is said to be very interesting. This probably will be the first time it is sung in America.

J. C. Hansen has arrived home from a business visit to Duluth. He will leave the last of the week for the eastern end of the peninsula.

Albert Landry of Laurium has departed for Chicago, where he expects to study dentistry.

PLAN TRIP TO MARQUETTE.
C. D. Bushnell Will Try Low Gear Test Run With Ford Car.
C. D. Bushnell of Laurium has made preparations for an automobile trip to Marquette, on Saturday. He will be accompanied by his family.

On the return trip next Monday, Mr. Bushnell plans to subject his Ford car to a low gear test similar to that recently successfully conducted by a Franklin automobile, and so far as possible under the same conditions. He will endeavor to keep his car running on low gear the entire distance of close to 100 miles and no stops will be made even for punctures. Mr. Bushnell who recently made the run from Chicago to Laurium in his Ford machine without a mishap, believes his car will meet the same low gear conditions which recently were successfully met by the Franklin.

COUNCIL MEETS TUESDAY.

The regular October meeting of the Laurium council will be held Tuesday evening. Business pertaining to the completion of the improvement work undertaken this summer is likely to come up and arrangements for removing the village offices to the remodeled town hall. Bids for the old fire hall building, now occupied by the village offices, will be received.
