Thursday—Pa sed 2 ma they is just 1 reason why the Leeg of N-shuns issent cunny good. Ma sed Why so & he replied & sed It aint Lodgekal. Then he laffed & laffed & ma did 2.

DWELLINGS TO GET LOWER FIRE RATE

Austin, Texas, Dec. 27.—The Texas State Fire Insurance Commission has made an order, effective Jan. 1, 1920, wherein it applies the 100 per cent coinsurance clause on risks consisting of grain products of all kinds, excepting hay, and also effects a slight reduction on the dwelling and dwelling content rate in Texas by providing that one-third the key rate, instead of one-half thereof, shall be used in computing such ratings in cities, towns and villages. This last will effect every dwelling and small apartment house in Texas where there is a key rate applicable. It will not apply to the rural risks.

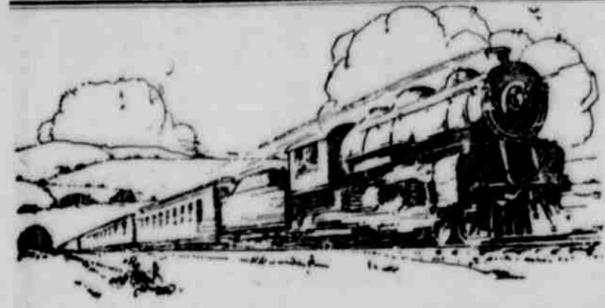

A committee of bankers and grain men appeared before the State Fire Insurance Commission when it considered the 100 per cent coinsurance clause and advocated its adoption so that full values and full protection would be assured on grain and grain products coverage. The Texas law forbids the 100 per cent coinsurance clause, except on cotton, wool, grain and mohair. The Attorney General held that the definition "grain" would extend to grain by-products. The insurance men favored the 100 per cent clause except on risks in towns having a key rate of more than 4c. They objected there because of supposed inadequate fire protection. However, the commission's order is general in its scope, reading as follows:

"1. That, effective Jan. 1, 1920, policies covering mixed feed, chops, bran and by-products of grain, beans and peas, when stored in mills, elevators or warehouses occupied exclusively as such, are to be written subject to the provisions of the 100 per cent reduced rate and coinsurance clause, but the clause in question is not to be attached to policies covering hay.

"2. That, effective Jan. 1, 1920, in rating dwellings, barns, private automobile garages and other out-buildings in connection therewith and on contents thereof, and on apartment houses of less than three apartments and rated under the dwelling schedule, and on other buildings in connection therewith and on contents thereof, in cities, towns and villages, one-third of the key rate is to be included and not one-half of the key rate as heretofore."

The Texas general basis schedules will, at a later date, be amended to conform to the foregoing changes.

A vast amount of work now remains to be done which the intervention of war has necessarily delayed and accumulated, and the result is that very large capital expenditures ought to be made to make up for the interruptions inevitably due to the war, and to prepare the railroads to serve adequately the increased traffic throughout the country.
WALKER D. HINES,
Director General of Railroads.

Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can grow only as fast as the railroads grow.

LOCAL ITEMS FROM THE LORENZO ENTERPRISE

Taking into consideration the bad weather which has prevailed for the past several weeks, the amount of cotton that has and is being hauled here to our gins is exceptionally good. The yards at the three gins filled up Monday and have remained so all the week. The latest report made by the public weigher was to the effect that 4040 bales had been weighed at the local yard and would, if conditions remained favorable, exceed 4500 before the end of the week. The price has fell off some since the last report but has remained about the same for the last few days, ranging around 38 cents.

After a lull of a month or more, Crews & Burke have again entered the market for maize, kaffir and cotton seed of this territory. But as the quantity being brought to town is not large, most of it is choice grain. Many farmers have taken excellent care of their stuff by placing it upon platforms then covering it up with straw, thereby insuring it against the elements. Maize kept in this way finds a ready market of from $23 to $27 per ton. The latter sum was paid for maize here the middle of the week.

MAKERS OF DRESSES EXPECT BUSY YEAR

New York, Dec. 27.—The year 1920 will be the biggest year in the history of the dress manufacturing industry of the United States, with indications pointing to an increase in business of more than $50,000,000 and many new plants to be established, chiefly in the East. Special attention will be paid to the Latin-American trade, where the demand is for a high grade of American goods.

Miss Mary Angie Mahan, one of our progressive teachers at Acuff, returned Sunday morning from Lorens, where she had been to spend the holidays.

You Do More Work,

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, listlessness, nervousness and sickness. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, John Grove made a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria and needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 50c per bottle.
